DOUBT CLEARED

The announcement was interpreted as clearing away all doubt that [illegible] the trans-Atlantic airship [illegible] discussed for some time, [illegible] pushed forward.

The signing of the contracts [illegible] the first active co-operation [illegible] heavier-than-air and lighter-than-air craft in establishing [illegible] mail and passenger service. Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, March 24.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Grundy's tariff bill is all set. Nobody in either house of Congress is satisfied with it, that's why it will pass, for each one will figure "Well, it will do him more harm than it will me." Everybody gets a raise but the few people that don't manufacture anything.

"How many people is there in the United States that don't manufacture anything? "Oh, roughly I should say about 112,000,000."

"Who pays for the raise that the manufacturers receive under this bill?" "The same people who sent the men there that passed the bill."

"Well, what's the answer to it all?" "Brother, there is no answer, it's been like this for fifty years. If you take it serious you are cuckoo."

Yours,

WILL.

Hoover Asks $3,199,727 for Department of Justice Added Needs

WASHINGTON, March 24. (AP)—Expressing the opinion that prohibition "can be measurably enforced, although human appetite is widespread," Chairman Wickersham of the Law Enforcement Commission has informed the Senate that no one can say whether the act can be or cannot be effective until it has been given a trial under the Justice Department.

A comprehensive report on the eight months' study of prohibition by Chairman Wickersham was disclosed today in the publication of his recent testimony before an executive meeting of the Senate

Kidnaping Laid to Dread Cheka

French-Soviet Break Looms as Story of Abduction in Paris Unfolds

General Spirited to Moscow Declared to be Languishing in Dungeon Cell

[Copyright, 1930, by the Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, March 24. (Exclusive)—It was the dread Cheka of soviet Russia who in broad daylight, on the streets of Paris, on a peaceful Sunday morning, abducted Gen. Alexander Koutiepoff, who became the chief of the czarist Russian exiles all over the world following the death of Grand Duke Nichols.

This was the conclusion tonight of the French police after a long investigation in which a score of the best men of the Surete Generale, the French Scotland Yard, have been engaged since January 26, when the luckless Russian disappeared without a trace.

And, moreover, he is now a prisoner in the damp and bloody vaults of the sinister Loubianka prison in Moscow, subjected to incessant torture to make him reveal what he knows — which is everything — of White Russian plots in France, Jugo-Slavia and China against the soviet regime. This is according to other information, which reached Paris tonight.

FRENCH-SOVIET BREAK LOOMS

Following these revelations by the French police it appears tonight that the Franco-soviet relations, which are already strained, may be forced to the breaking point by the outcry of the press, which insists that the government immediately break off with Moscow. To do this would not be difficult. Jean Herbette, French Ambassador to Russia, now is in Paris on an indefinite vacation.

For weeks the police have been working in silence, with the press silenced at their request. Tonight, however, the Nationalist and violently anti-Bolshevik La Libertad forced their hand with an extra edition that created a sensation by announcing that the general had been abducted under Russian Dictator Stalin's orders and now is in Loubianka prison.

SCENE ON COAST

Pressed by all the other papers, the police finally admitted that a new witness had been found who had seen some mysterious happenings on the Norman coast, near Deauville, on the afternoon of January 26. The police, after a careful check, concluded that the Norman coast episode was actually the transfer of the general to a Russian freighter standing some distance off the coast.

A Russian girl, whose name the police are keeping secret for fear of reprisals, declares that on the afternoon of Sunday on which the general disappeared, she was walking on the beach between Houlgate and Villers Sur Mer. She saw two cars arrive. Her description of the machines and their occupants tallies exactly with the evidence the police already had uncovered concerning the ambush into which the general fell on the lonely street near his home in Paris.

Royal Muzzles Put on Newspapers Baring Story of Plea Made for Carol

BUCHAREST (Rumania) March 24. (AP)—On orders from the Crown Attorney the police today confiscated the entire issue of the principal daily newspapers published in the capital. All of them printed a complete story of a meeting of Gen. Averescu's People's party in which the recall of Prince Carol from exile was demanded.

Reports reaching here through personal friends of Prince Carol say that, although he suffers considerably from homesickness, he has decided to wait patiently until 1935 before returning to Rumania.

The exiled Prince is said to have declared that political adventures are not worth the trouble and, besides, he does not wish to cause difficulties for Rumania.

POLAR LAND FOR AMERICA

Byrd, in Message Correcting Account of Speech, Says Discovered Areas Belong to This Country

NEW YORK, March 24. (Exclusive)—Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd in a radiogram to his personal representative in New York, H. R. Railey, made public today, announced that he will claim for the United States lands he discovered in the Antarctic. He points out that the lands lie outside the Ross dependency and that there should be no ground for controversy.

He sent the message to clear up any misapprehension as to what he had said in an interview in Dunedin, N. Z.

In an Associated Press dispatch from Dunedin the 13th inst., Admiral Byrd was reported as having announced in an interview there that he had no intention of claiming for the United States any lands he had discovered. On the 15th inst. Joseph P. Cotton, acting Secretary of State, declared in Washington that such an announcement by Admiral Byrd, if correctly reported, would not be binding upon the United States.

Rear-Admiral Byrd in his radiogram correcting the report, says:

"Again I have been somehow misquoted. My speech was as follows: 'I have noted that there has been a tendency in some quarters of America and Europe to create a controversy between the British Empire and the United States concerning our claims in Antarctica. There is no reason or ground for that.

"We have considered this expedition a scientific venture and we hope a sporting one and we went down there with the utmost respect for the British who preceded us. Our work should bring us closer together and not further apart and it would be a pity should any controversy arise. It would go entirely against the feelings and the hopes we have held from the first.

"We have from the beginning recognized the Ross dependency. Antarctica is big enough for all of us. Our claims lie entirely outside of the Ross dependency over to the eastward and there is nothing in the situation that could cause a controversy. We are more interested in good fellowship with you in our common investigations down there than with any claims on Antarctica. It is another one of those cases where the intangible things of the spirit are far more important than material aspects.'"

DISOWNED DAUGHTER ENRICHED

French Nobleman's Will Leaves All to Offspring Disinherited as Test

NEW YORK, March 24. (Exclusive)—A French nobleman who had disinherited his daughter merely to test her mettle, from the grave made it possible for her to obtain his fortune of several hundred thousand dollars worth of jewels and securities, it was learned today.

When Esme De Laudin, daughter of Baron De Laudin, married Theodore Alban, radio singer, three years ago, the old Frenchman told her she should never share his wealth. Today, however, in the office here of her attorney, Russell Kittel, the bank vault of the Baron, who died a year ago, was opened.

In it was a will making the daughter his heiress and a letter of explanation in which the nobleman said that "though the age of nobility has passed we may still be noble in thought and deed," and telling Mrs. Alban that the obstacles placed in her path were to "steel you to life's hardships."

MELLON REVELS IN YEARS

His Seventy-fifth Birthday Brings Expressions of Happiness at Fullness of Life

PITTSBURGH, March 24. (AP)—Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, today observed the seventy-fifth anniversary of his birth, and his three quarters of a century of life, in his own words, "has been and still is, both full and interesting."

Appearing like a man of many years younger than computation of his natal year—1855—makes fact, the custodian of the nation's financial destinies came to Pittsburgh—his home—to celebrate the day.

There was nothing much special to mark the occasion excepting hundreds of congratulatory messages from all over the world and some calls from his Pittsburgh friends. Interviewers were told, the Secretary's words being accompanied by a twinkle in the eye, that he couldn't say much about this birthday, but that they should come around when he attained the century mark and he will have something to talk about.

Tonight a small group of old personal friends and neighbors honored the Secretary at a private dinner at the Pittsburgh Country Club.

On rare occasions, the quiet, modest Mr. Mellon is prevailed on to make remarks and this was one of those occasions.

Mr. Mellon reviewed the history of Pittsburgh and the world during the past seventy-five years and described it as a period that "has carried mankind forward, not backward, and has raised the whole plane of civilization to a higher level."

"What has been accomplished, it seems to me, in the period which we have been considering is that the average person in this country now commands the means of a comfortable subsistence, to a greater extent and with less effort than ever before in the history of the world," Mr. Mellon said. "I do not mean to say that we have attained equality of opportunity. No

BUS TRAFFIC BILL VOTED BY HOUSE

Measure Would Place All Interstate Lines Under Federal Regulations

WASHINGTON, March 24. (AP)—The first act by Congress to place interstate motor bus traffic under government regulation came today with passage by the House of the Parker bill to give the Interstate Commerce Commission jurisdiction over the motor carriers.

The final vote was 215 to 118, after a motion to send the measure back to the Interstate Commerce Committee for amendment was rejected by 236 to 104. It now goes to the Senate.

Approval followed a week of debate in which the opposition, led by Representative Rankin of Mississippi, and Huddleston, Alabama, Democrats, contended there is no need for such legislation. They held the various States already have ample power to provide the necessary regulation of the carriers.

In addition to regulatory powers over rates and schedules, the Federal commission, with the aid of joint boards composed of representatives of States involved, would be required to pass on applications for certificates of necessity and public convenience, which the bus lines would be called upon to obtain. The bus operators also would be compelled to carry surety bonds for the protection of the traveling public.

Tobera was asserted to have been slain by a mob of "bloodthirsty Americans."

TARIFF WINS IN SENATE AFTER HALF-YEAR FIGHT

Hawley-Smoot Protection Bill Sent to Conference by 53-to-31 Vote; Nine Insurgents Approve

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 24. (Exclusive)—After more than six months of almost continuous debate the Senate late this afternoon finally passed the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill carrying the increased protection against foreign competition promised American agriculture and industry at the outset of the Hoover administration. The vote was 53 to 31.

Whether the rates written by the Senate fully meet the wishes of President Hoover for "limited revision" in the case of industrial schedules, is not determined, as the Executive has consistently refused to dictate.

But the important point at the moment is that the coalition-ruled upper body of Congress has at last found it possible to shut off [illegible] seemingly interminable [illegible] making and pass a bill, so that [illegible] tariff making may proceed.

GOES TO CONFERENCE

The measure now goes to conference where Senator Shortridge of California, as one of the Senate representatives, will be in position to safeguard the many increases on agricultural products of his State contained in the legislation. California has fared exceptionally well in the revision, receiving sorely needed additional protection on many of its major farm commodities including lemons, dates, figs, cherries, pears, olives and long-staple cotton. There is every reason to believe that these California increases will remain in the bill through final enactment.

Besides Shortridge the Senate conferees will be Smoot, Finance chairman; Watson, Republican leader, and two Democrats, Simmons and Harrison. The House representatives will be Hawley, ways and means chairman; Treadway and Bacharach, Republicans, and Garner and Collier, Democrats.

With this conservative line-up in conference, and with the twenty-two vote margin for tariff enactment registered today in the Senate, the discussion between the House and Senate managers may be expected to make short shrift of the amendment which the Senate adopted when the Democratic-Republican-insurgent coalition was in the saddle, repealing the flexible provision giving the President power to raise or lower rates up to 50 per cent to meet shifting world conditions.

COMPROMISE PROPOSED

The House has repeatedly shown it will not stand for this curtailment of the Executive's authority. However, a compromise may be worked out. Speaker Longworth and other House leaders have suggested a provision where after the Tariff Commission has investigated and the President has ordered a change in rate, Congress would have a certain time, say ninety days, to nullify the administrative action. This may be adopted.

The conference may likewise be relied upon to throw into the discard another Senate coalition amendment inserting the debenture scheme of farm relief as a part of the tariff bill. No compromise is regarded as possible on this issue, unless there can be worked out some innocuous substitute which would have merit only in supplying an excuse for Senator Borah of Idaho and certain other western Republican independent Senators to continue to support the tariff to complete enactment.

MONOPOLY CLAUSE

As for the Norris amendment for a reduction of rates on evidence of monopoly, it was only adopted last week and the proposal is so new and of such uncertain merit and support there is no telling what will ultimately happen to it. If it would not throw too much of a monkey wrench into the tariff machinery, it might be it would serve a useful purpose in conference as a trading medium.

It was on the presence of the foregoing three amendments that Senator Borah, leader of the coalition during its days of power, based his vote for passage of the bill in the Senate.

Nine insurgent Republicans and seven Democrats who for months have battled as a part of the coalition against Republican tariff leadership, were found voting with thirty-seven regular Republicans for passage of the bill in the Senate.

PARLEY MAY SUSPEND

Recess Proposed at London

Six Months Intermission to Permit Franco-Italian Accord Asked

Plan Said to Have Received Approval of American Delegation

LONDON, March 25. (Tuesday) (AP)—The Daily Mail reports this morning that a proposal to adjourn the naval conference for six months, so that France and Italy might have an opportunity to adjust their differences over parity, was laid before the delegates yesterday.

The proposal was said to have emanated from the British delegates, who suggested that the adjournment follow upon the conclusion of a three-power pact by Great Britain, the United States and Japan.

The Mail understands this proposal was favorably received by the United States and Italy, and now will be considered by the French.

The Times also reports a similar proposal, but ascribes it to Foreign Minister Grandi of Italy.

American and British delegations held an hour's conference at Downing street Monday. Then Mr. MacDonald received Dino Grandi, head of the Italian delegation, at his office in the House of Commons in the afternoon.

It is understood that Signor Grandi felt pessimistic and expressed the opinion that adjournment of the conference might enable settlement of Italy's argument with France in a cooler diplomatic atmosphere than that of London at present.

Help from Japan, which may arrive Thursday in the form of approval of a three-power pact for Great Britain, Japan and the United States, will give the conference leaders a chance to pull at least partial success out of the stalemate.

The British official spokesman had no news of conference progress, but insistently denied any breakdown.

The spokesman said no plenary session is in sight this week and that one can be called only for one of two reasons—either that the conference is succeeding or that the hope of success has been abandoned. Neither is expected this week.

MEETING ARRANGED

A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, called for support of the conference in speaking at a banquet at the Guild Hall which was attended by the Lord Mayor.

"It's no use hiding from ourselves the fact that the conference has found itself up against difficulties and that an important and critical stage has been reached," he said. "I deprecate, however, the extreme pessimism assumed by a large number of our critics at a time when every person of good will should rather be asking 'how can I help?'

"So far from the conference having failed, there is every indication

LIFE ORIGIN CLEW HINTED

Berkeley Professor Discovers Phenomenon Which May Prove Key to Creation of Artificial Bacilli

BERKELEY, March 24. (Exclusive)—The admittedly remote possibility that a University of California physiologist has stumbled upon a clew to the origin of life and the ability to manufacture it in a laboratory focused the attention of much of the scientific world tonight on Dr. Charles B. Lipman, professor of plant physiology.

Dr. Lipman hastened to say his discovery may not be nearly so important as it would seem to the lay mind. He refused to say that he has been able to create living bacilli, as it appears he has done, even going to the opposite extreme of asserting he does not believe the substance in point is living bacilli.

That he is stirred, however, by the possibilities that have been unfolded, goes without question, and he is continuing his investigations.

The discovery, which Dr. Lipman designates as "articificial bacilli," came about entirely by chance.

The university scientist was preparing agar, a jelly-like substance made from Japanese seaweed, which is heated and used in bacteria culture. While in the course of preparation, Dr. Lipman turned his microscope on the mass and discovered a presumably foreign substance which he concluded were contaminating organisms. Closer examination disclosed them to be of the rod-like, cylindrical shape peculiar to living bacilli. He added dyes to the mass and discovered the "artificial bacilli" absorbed them as do living bacilli.

Absorbed by the possibilities, yet still dominated by the thought of removing the "artifical bacilli" from the agar he wished, he subjected the entire mass to the bacilli-killing heat of 266 deg. F. After fourteen hours, he looked again.

The "artificial bacilli" remained intact.

Further experimentation disclosed the rod-like bodies were not present in untreated sterile agar, but promptly appeared when the sub-

REDS WAR ANEW ON PEASANT FOE

Extermination of "Kulaks" Decreed by Party

Merciless Campaign Against Rich Farmers Ordered

Sympathizers of All Degree Also Under Ban

MOSCOW, March 24. (AP)—Unrelenting war upon kulaks (rich peasants) and "right-wing opportunists" of the Communist party was declared anew today by Pravda and Izvestia, official mouthpieces of the Communist party and the government.

This came as a surprise to those kulaks and opposition members of the party who saw in the government's recent modification of its rural policies signs of retreat from the previous uncompromising attitude toward the kulaks.

"We must deliver a smashing, crushing, merciless blow to the kulaks and others opposed to our agricultural collectivization scheme," says Pravda.

"In order to annihilate the kulaks decisively it is necessary to isolate them politically from the poor and middle-class peasants. I nthis task we have been greatly hindered by soviet village officials . . .

"Equally, we must direct a cyclonic fire against the right opportunists, who are allies of the kulaks. At the same time we must not for a moment cease our battle against the left opportunists and Tritskyists who try to force a party fight against the middle-class peasant as well as the kulak."

WICKERSHAM'S FINDINGS GIVEN

Judiciary Committee. The House bill transferring prohibition enforcement from the Treasury to the Justice Department is before the committee.

He advocates a softening of the terms of the Jones Act which was passed last year by Congress increasing the penalties for dry-law violators. He said, however, that Federal officials have used "discretion" in administering penalties under this act.

The chairman reports "steady improvement" in dry enforcement; praises the dry administrators; denies that political influence is filling the service with inefficient and corrupt officials and ascribes the leaks from industrial alcohol as the most difficult source of liquor to contend with.

"I think if the Attorney-General has a free hand, as he should have in reorganizing the Prohibition Bureau," he contends, "you have as good assurance of effective conduct of the enforcement agencies as could well be had, provided his personnel is sufficiently compensated and put on a proper basis. I think until that is done no one can say absolutely whether the law can be or cannot be enforced."

REPLY TO WALSH

As for the Jones law, Wickersham in asking for its modification, said: "I do not think you ever can enforce laws more effectively by putting extreme penalties on minor violations."

Replying to Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, the commission chairman says "judges have been considerate and discriminate in their sentences."

"The taste for beer," Wickersham reports, "seems to be greatly diminishing and the people who want to drink at all want a strong drink, something more intoxicating."

Wickersham was before the Senate committee on the resolution of Senator Norris proposing a Senate inquiry into dry enforcement. The committee took no action on the resolution today. It invited Atty.-Gen. Mitchell to appear before it next Monday.

Giving a picture of prohibition conditions, the commission chairman tells of his interviews with the dry-law administrators and says he would question the integrity of only one of them.

WHISKY TANKERS

He tells of the importation of whisky from British and French possessions off the Atlantic Coast by a number of fast ships equipped with tanks with a delivery hose.

"They make a connection, probably by radio, with some point on the coast," he says, "run in and discharge their cargoes into tank wagons in a very brief space of time and are off. A great deal is brought in that way. How much, nobody knows."

He cites that exportations from Canada to these islands along the Atlantic Coast had increased last year over 1926 by more than 900,000 imperial gallons to a total of 1,259,667 for the year ending March, 1929. He expresses the belief that "in all probability that increase largely came into the United States through some of the ports along the Atlantic Coast or the Gulf."

He estimates that of the 100,000,000 gallons of industrial alcohol manufactured and sold last year 5,000,000 or 6,000,000 gallons was diverted into the bootleg trade. He advocates some system of forcing the permittees of industrial alcohol to make a report of what is done with the product.

CONGRESS RECEIVES SUPPLEMENTAL ESTIMATE

WASHINGTON, March 24. (AP)—President Hoover today, in a supplemental estimate, requested Congress to make available $3,199,727 for the Justice Department for the fiscal years 1930 and 1931 to aid in the enforcement of the law.

To cover additional expenses of Federal courts due to increased work because of prohibition, the President asks a total of $1,267,000, including $425,000 for salaries, fees and expenses of United States marshals; $50,000 for fees to United States commissioners; $640,000 for fees to jurors, and witnesses; $40,000 for pay of bailiffs, and $112,000 for miscellaneous expenses.

The estimate also would provide $1,800,000 for support of Federal prisoners confined in State and county institutions. It sets aside $129,940 for the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth to reimburse the War Department for property delivered to the Justice Department when the disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth were turned over for five years to relieve congestion in Federal prisons.

Mrs. Jennie Byrd Expires While Famous Grandson Speeds Home from Pole

BALTIMORE, March 24. (AP)—Mrs. Jennie Byrd, grandmother of two famous men, died today after a short illness which followed several months of declining health as one of her grandsons, Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd, was on his way home from months spent exploring in the Antarctic, during which time they were in almost constant communication.

Mrs. Byrd died in the Maryland Hospital for Women, where she was taken ten days ago when her condition became worse after several weeks spent in bed at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. Lester Shipley, Jr., here, where she had made her home for eighteen years. Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon and the body will be taken to Winchester, Va., the Byrd family home, for burial on Wednesday. She was 91 years of age.

The grandmother of the famous explorer and of former Gov. Byrd of Virginia was active until a few weeks ago. Even then she maintained contact with everyday life, keeping in touch with the Byrd exploring party through a short-wave radio set operated by Dr. George L. Dichmann.

During the time her illustrious grandson was exploring the Antarctic Mrs. Byrd constantly received messages from him and sent others to him through Dichmann, always expressing keen interest in the progress of the expedition. During the last Presidential campaign Mrs. Byrd, who had been confined with a cold, arose and registered, later casting her first ballot. It was for Alfred E. Smith.

MEXICANS RETURN TO OWN LAND

Forty-two Families Leave Arizona Valley to Form Farm Colony in Sonora

PHOENIX, March 24. (AP)—Manuel Payno, Mexican Consul at at Phoenix, said today that forty-two Mexican families, numbering 256 persons, have left the Salt River Valley of Arizona and now are established in a colony near Ortiz, Sonora, Mex.

The Consul said the Sonora government is providing transportation, tools and land to Mexicans now living in the United States, if their applications are approved by the Consul in the district in which they are living.

D. B. Wiley, manager of the Maricopa County Farm Bureau, in commenting on the reported exodus, said:

"If large groups of Mexicans go to Sonora to establish colonies, and the new immigration restriction bill becomes law, it will not be easy for the colonists to get back into Arizona. In this case our labor situation will be extremely affected.

"Were it possible for the colonists to work here during the time of labor need, returning to their colonies for the rest of the year, it would be a splendid thing."

The officers felt that only unforeseen conditions could prevent her from setting a new record for the Atlantic crossing from east to west.

At 11:50 p.m., ship's time, the Europa simultaneously swept by the Nantucket light vessel and the French liner Ile de France.

Prime Minister Reveals New Smuggling Treaty

Own Skirts Had to be Clean First, He Asserts

United States Will Check Merchandise Traffic

OTTAWA (Ont.) March 24. (Exclusive)—Prime Minister MacKenzie King, answering criticism in the House of Commons of his bill to ban export of liquor to the United States to the effect that the proper proceeding should have been the framing of a treaty in which mutual concessions would be made announced tonight that a treaty designed to check smuggling of general merchandise between the two countries will be negotiated and that the preliminary steps already have been taken.

"Now that we have cleared our own skirts we are prepared to negotiate on the general question of smuggling," he said.

The critics of the bill said that instead of legislative enactment, the treaty of 1924 should be amended. This treaty recognized the right of Canada to distill liquor and ship it into the United States, provided it was done openly.

C. H. Cahan, Conservative, of Montreal, charged that the government was pushing the measure to ban exports at the request of "high American officials" who, he said, had threatened to put an armed guard of 10,000 men on the Detroit River border. He challenged the constitutional aspects of the measure.

ANTISMUGGLING PACT ALREADY BEING DRAFTED

WASHINGTON, March 24. (AP)—The State Department already has begun drafting a treaty designed to stop the smuggling of general merchandise to and fro across the Canadian border and expects to have it ready within a short time for submission to the Canadian government.

The American legation at Ottawa received the Canadian note last Saturday. It proposed a treaty for the suppression of the smuggling of general merchandise. The note was forwarded by mail to Washington and is expected to arrive tomorrow.

Department officials were informed that the proposed treaty would prevent the issuance of clearance permits on any article or products forbidden from importation by either country.

Since liquor is one of the few products either country can manufacture which the other bars from importation, the treaty would operate as an auxiliary to the American prohibition laws. At present the bootleggers are permitted by law to obtain legal clearance of their bottled goods from Canada, even though importation of liquor into the United States is forbidden.

The United States first formally proposed such a treaty in January, 1929, at the antismuggling congress in Ottawa and reiterated this proposal last April. However, for five years treaty experts have considered the compounding of such an antismuggling pact.

RAIL GROUP MAKES TOUR OF VALLEY

Espee President and Party Confer With Executives of Other Imperial Roads

BRAWLEY, March 24. (AP)—A group of officials of the Southern Pacific Railroad, including Paul Shoup, president, visited the Imperial Valley over the week-end. They returned to Los Angeles today.

The party was composed of Shoup, Hale Holden, chairman of the executive committee; A. D. McDonald, vice-president; J. H. Dyer, vice-president; S. C. Burckhalter, general manager; C. H. Williams, assistant general manager, and L. U. Morris, superintendent, of the Southern Pacific and the following officers of the San Diego and Arizona Railroad: F. L. Anabel, president; J. R. Lowe, superintendent, and D. C. Burdick, general manager.

Led by H. H. Clark, manager of the Colorado River Land and Development Company of Mexicali, Baja California, the party made a tour of the Mexicali and Gulf Railroad, inspecting its holdings in the Mexican half of Imperial Valley.

The visit revived old rumors that the Southern Pacific plans to take over the M. and G., but the officials made no announcement of plans.

TOKIO ACCEPTANCE OF PACT EXPECTED

TOKIO, March 24. (AP)—There are strong indications here tonight that the Japanese government next Thursday will accept the tentative agreement of Japanese and American delegates to the London naval conference providing that Japan's total naval tonnage shall be a maximum of 69.6 per cent of the American total. The American quota is expected to be the same as the British.

This expected decision of the Cabinet permitting a Japanese-American agreement at London, is believed here to be the forerunner of a naval treaty at least between Japan, the United States and Great Britain, even though France and Italy should not become parties to the program for reduced naval tonnages.

The proposal which the Japanese Cabinet is expected to approve is that the permitted United States total naval tonnage shall be 527,000 and that of Japan 366,900. While this would permit Japan 69.6 per cent of her requested 70 per cent ratio, instead of her present 60 per cent, there has been much dissatisfaction among Japanese naval high officers. These officers urged their government to reject the tentative agreement because it does not grant Japan a 70 per cent ratio with Great Britain and the United States in large cruisers, 70 per cent of auxiliary tonnage and 78,000 tons of submarines.

The naval faction received the support of much patriotic sentiment in its pressure on the government to reject the treaty proposed, but political consideration involving future amicable relations with other foreign powers are believed to have weighed heavily with th civilian authorities in their expected decision to accept the American concessions.

Aviatrix Told of Having Won Height Record

FREEPORT (N. Y.) March 24. (AP) Elinor Smith, avatrix, today said she has received word from the United States Department of Commerce that she established a new official altitude record for women on the 10th inst.

The Bureau of Standards of the department wrote her that her barograph shows she attained a height of 27,418 feet, breaking the previous record of 23,916 feet held by Marvel Crosson, who was killed August 20, 1929, during the women's air derby.

Miss Smith made her altitude flight at Roosevelt Field.

Bay City Jails Intruding Reds

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24. (Exclusive)—Twenty-five men who termed themselves unemployed, but whom the police characterized as Communists, stole a march on the Board of Supervisors today, but capitulated in a medley of struggling arms and legs when four of their number were forcibly removed by police.

The regular board meeting scarcely had started when Michael Daniels, representing the Unemployed Council, shouted for "work or wages."

Daniels was told he would have to obey the rules of the board, but the warning only steamed his oratorical ardor, so a phalanx of police moved in. Daniels and three others were arrested.

HERMOSILLO (Son., Mex.) March 24. (Exclusive)—This beautiful ol dcity, which dates back into the dim Aztec centuries before the Spanish conquistadores, will be one of the first stopping places on the Alaska-to-Ayres Highway being explored and mapped by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Its palms stand at sunset against the blue peaks of the San Miguels and the Saladas—its name means "Little beautiful one." At night its quaint old adobe-framed streets sway with music—songs that were old when the pilgrim fathers landed—lilting from doorways; young caballeros singing down the street with a regard for barred casa windows.

Gov. Francisco S. Elias, who lives in the great stone palace, is the Teddy Roosevelt of Mexico—one of the strong men of the new Mexico. He is fairly ripping up the desert to make roads for automobiles. Schools are going up everywhere.

He drove us today to see the textile mill at Sonora's Los Angeles. The origin of this mill is lost in tradition. In the days of Montezuma the Aztecs sent offerings of cotton to the Seri Indians and showed them how to weave. The early Spanish explorers started a cotton mill with an old water wheel which still is running. The mill has been equipped with modern machinery and turns out 50,000 yards a week.

DEATH SIGNALS FOR ECKERSALL

Immortal of Football Field Succumbs Suddenly

He Placed Three Times on Camp's All-American

Fame Also Won as Sports Writer and Referee

BY JOHN P. GALLAGHER
"Times" Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, March 24. Exclusive) Walter H. Eckersall, one of the greatest football players who ever trod on a gridiron, and in recent years noted as a football referee and sports writer, died suddenly today of heart disease. His death took place at the Chicago Athletic Association. He had been under the care of Dr. Lewis Eastman for several weeks and yesterday the physician advised him to go to his home and rest. He came to the club this morning, however, only to suffer a new heart attack and died within an hour. He was 46 years of age.

His activities as a football official, to perform which he frequently had to work as hard as any of the players on the field, undoubtedly put too great a strain on his heart for a man of his age, Dr. Eastman said. During the last month he had worked strenuously for the amateur boxing tournament, staged by the Chicago Tribune, by which he had been employed as a sports writer since he was graduated from college, and his blood pressure rose far above normal, the physician said.

ALL-AMERICAN PLAYER

Eckersall was one of the most colorful grid men. He was picked three times on Walter Camp's all-American eleven, being the first westerner ever so honored. He had been named on practically every all-time all-American eleven of every prominent critic.

He first attracted attention while on the Hyde Park High School team, which, in 1900-1902, was nationally known. Weighing only 135 pounds, he was the mainspring of the running attack to which great punting and drop-kicking gave an added threat.

As the most promising prep-school athlete of the period, Eckersall was sought by many colleges and recruiting at that time was less dignified than now. Michigan, Wisconsin and Chicago all thought he was theirs, but his residence near the university finally gave the final choice to Chicago.

In college Eckersall played at 145 pounds in the days of massed interference and 200-pound lines. His escape from injury was miraculous, as he was tackled and thrown by men heavier than himself. He had a knack of curling himself almost in a ball as he went down. Rules against piling offenses called for penalties now were unknown then and Eckersall never was handled more gently than the rules allowed.

HIS GREATEST PLAY

Perhaps the play from which Eckersall received the greatest publicity occurred in the great Chicago-Michigan game of 1905. This was the last of "Hurry Up" Yost's famous "point-a-minute" elevens, which had not been defeated for five years. Chicago had a good eleven, but was not considered the equal of the Wolverines. The contest was held at Stagg (then Marshall) Field.

Despite the unexpected strength of the Maroons Michigan crashed almost to the Chicago goal lines, where Stagg's men gained the oval on downs.

Eckersall dropped back behind his own goal posts to punt. There was no score at this time and it looked as if a single score meant victory or defeat. Michigan forwards set themselves for a herculean effort to block the punt. Michigan's safety man was in position either to signal for a fair catch and free kick for goal or to carry back the ball. Johnny Carrels, left end, moved from his position over to the other side, where the Wolverines were massed to crash through. Looking down the field Eckersall saw the opposite left flank unprotected. He called the punt signal, then cried "signal," as if checking it, and gave the numbers for a run around Michigan's left end. Failure meant being downed for a safety.

The very daring of this ruse was its success. Eckersall brought the ball out 28 yards, a total run of perhaps 40 yards. That was the turning point of the game. Eckersall on the next day sent a long spiral punt deep into Wolverine territory and Michigan was on the defensive. Shortly afterward a Michigan back was downed for a safety in attempting to carry out a punt, for the ony score of the 2-to-0 game.

HOLDER OF RECORDS

During his collegiate career of 1903 to 1906—freshmen were eligible then—Eckersall held nearly every punting and drop-kicking record. In 1903 at Madison, Wis., he drop-kicked the field goals for Chicago's only points and Milwaukee papers headlined the result "Eckersall, 16; Wisconsin, 6."

The following year he caught a Badger kickoff in the shadows of his own goal posts and ran for 106 yards (fields 110 yards then) for a touchdown. That run was the outstanding act in an 18-to-11 victory. In 1905 he again defeated the Badgers by a drop kick.

It was in 1905 also that Eckersall accomplished the feat of drop-kicking five field goals in two different games, against Illinois and against Nebraska.

POPULAR WITH PLAYERS

As a track man Eckersall several times equaled 9 4-5 seconds in the 100-yard dash. He was an excellent shortstop in baseball and also a speed skater and consistent bowler.

After leaving college he became a sports writer for the Chicago Tribune, which position he held to the time of his death. His services always were in demand as a football official and he was exceedingly popular with players because of his understanding of their difficulties. He inflicted penalties ruthlessly for unnecessary roughness, but was slow to give penalties on technicalities without a first warning. He also was sought as arbiter for other sporting events when his newspaper work did not interfere.

Eckersall leaves a daughter, Elizabeth, 19 years of age; two sisters, Miss Etta Eckersall and Mrs. Stephen (Jessie) Anderson of Chicago, and two brothers, Arthur of Denver and Elmer of Gary, Ind.

Fannie Brice Takes Contract Fight to Court

NEW YORK, March 24. (AP)—Fannie Brice and her husband, Billy Rose, filed suits in Supreme Court today against the Art Cinema Corporation for asserted breach of contract.

Miss Brice seeks $155,000. An attorney for the actress and her husband said the corporation contracted to feature Miss Brice in three talkies. They produced the first, but failed to produce the second and third, he said.

Rose's suit is based on a claim that he was to be paid $25,000 to write the music for the second picture, which was not produced.

stance was mixed with a salt solution such as sterile tap water or sterile sea water, and then heated.

Because of their adamant resistance to terrific heat, however, Dr. Lipman concluded the rod-like bodies are not living bacilli, but are crystallizations of the agar which simulate the appearance of bacilli.

Nevertheless, the possibilities intrigue him and he admitted it.

"It is fascinating," he said, "and irresistible to speculate as to whether these 'artificial bacilli' may, under the proper environmental conditions, take on the properties of living cells. It seems like a wild notion, of course, but I am forced to continue investigation."

Agar, he explained, has the consistency and other properties peculiar to the medium in which life, if it did originate spontaneously, might be expected by scientists to develop. It is used for bacteria culture.

Scores of telegrams seeking details are coming in tonight from all parts of the country attesting the spontaneous interest, not alone of science, but of the lay world.

The Secretary said he is well satisfied that he was privileged to live in the past three-quarters century, and added:

"Life has been, and still is, both full and interesting; and I shall go, when the time comes, 'as a satisfied guest from life's banquet.' But if I were given the opportunity to exchange my own period of time for any other, I would choose, without hesitation, the next three quarters of a century and, needless to add, I would live in America and preferably in Pittsburgh."

MERGER OF OIL GIANTS FOUGHT

Standard of New York and Vacuum Plan Opposed

Federal Court Action in Missouri Started

Antitrust Law Declared to Prohibit Consolidation

ST. LOUIS, March 24. (AP)—The United States government today filed in District Court here to enjoin the proposed merger of the Standard Oil Company of New York and the Vacuum Oil Company on the ground that it would be in violation of the decree dissolving the old Standard Oil Company under the Sherman Antitrust Act.

The suit was filed by Louis H. Breuer, United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Missouri, acting under direction of Atty.-Gen. Mitchell. It is in the form of a supplemental petition "for the purpose of compelling compliance with the final decree," entered by the Eastern Missouri District Court, November 20, 1909, as modified and affirmed by the Supreme Court, July 29, 1911.

PROJECT OPPOSED

The petition asserts that the Standard Oil Company of New York and the Vacuum Oil Company have entered into a contract of merger which would "completely eliminate all existing and potential competition between the two companies in interstate and foreign commerce, in petroleum and its products and would violate provisions of the decree."

The petition asks that the contract be declared null and void and that the two companies be enjoined from carrying out the contract or from entering into "any similar contract, agreement or arrangement."

Dist.-Atty. Breuer said the case will be tried as speedily as possible before a three-judge court, as provided by statute.

SECOND LARGEST

The boards of the two companies authorized the merger last January 10, subject to approval of the stockholders. They announced, however, that the stockholders would not be asked to pass upon the proposal until the legality of the merger had been passed upon by the courts. This procedure was necessary because the Department of Justice had declined to give an opinion as to legality of the consolidation.

The merged company would change its name to General Petroleum Corporation, or to some other name mutually agreed upon and would form two wholly owned subsidiaries to be known as Standard Oil Company of New York, Inc., and Vacuum Oil Company, Inc., to carry on the business previously conducted by the two companies.

The new company would have a market value, on the basis of current stock quotations, of approximately $1,100,000,000 and would be second in size only to the parent Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

RADIO REVOLT ARRESTS LOOM

Federal Commission Ready to Invoke Injunction

State of Michigan Warned to Recognize Board

Erection of Powerful Plant for Police at Issue

WASHINGTON, March 24. (NANA) The latest of the State revolts against the complete authority over radio hitherto exercised by the Federal government is manifested by the refusal of Gov. Green of Michigan to recognize the Federal Radio Commission's right to determine whether a State police radio station shall be erected at Lansing, State capital.

The commission today requested the Department of Justice to instruct its agents in Michigan to arrest any persons who started to build the station. Commission attorneys also have prepared petitions for an injunction against the Michigan Department of Public Safety. The petitions would be filed in a Michigan Federal Court should the Governor attempt to carry on the project in defiance of the commission.

GOVERNOR DEFIANT

This brought an immediate reply from the Governor, who declared that "regardless of threats of arrest the State will proceed with construction of the station."

"The Legislature has stipulated that a station be established and appropriated funds for its construction," he said. "We expect to carry out the mandate of the legislature."

Gov. Green maintains that the State's police power transcends the regulatory power invested by Congress in the Federal commission.

Maj.-Gen. Charles McK. Saltzman, chairman of the commission, insists that authority to erect the station must be obtained from the commission, which later must license it to operate. Because the Michigan station would utilize 5000 watts of power, thus requiring an exclusive wave length in order to operate without interference, the commission has set a hearing on the application for May 15, next.

HIGHER POWER USED

Nearly all applications for short waves for police radio systems, whether coming from State or municipalities, have thus far been issued without question by the commission as a matter of administrative routine. Michigan's case differs from others in the amount of power to be used. All other police radio systems use exceedingly low powers, usually below 100 watts, so that most of them can be placed on the same wave length and yet not interfere with one another.

The Federal Radio Commission maintains that the assignment of exclusive channels to States and municipalities would require more channels than are physically available. For the multiplicity of local and State police radio service fast springing up all over the country, the commission has reserved only two or three short waves and has restricted all powers.

INJUNCTION THREATENED

The Michigan Governor's challenge to the Washington radio authorities follows close upon the passage of a law by the New Jersey Legislature, empowering the State Public Utility Commission to rule on the erection of any new radio stations in New Jersey.

The New Jersey commission is also asked to pass first on any changes in ownership, location, wave length or power of existing stations within the State. This brings the law into sharp conflict with the Federal exercise of authority over radio, indicating that a legal test of its validity will come as soon as the Federal commission attempts to make any changes in the New Jersey radio situation.

In the Michigan case, the attorneys for the Federal Radio Commission have been instructed to prepare injunction proceedings in the event Green carries out his threat to proceed with the erection of the station before a commission ruling is obtained.

Capt. Hawks Arrives to Test Out New Glider

SAN DIEGO, March 24. (AP)—To complete preparations for the longest glider flight ever attempted, a journey from San Diego to New York in tow of an airplane, Capt. Frank Hawks, noted speed and distance flier, arrived this afternoon from Pecos, Tex. He arrived in the airplane which will be the "locomotive" in the novel air train that will leave Lindbergh Field Sunday morning for New York. Accompanying him were J. D. Jernigin, Jr., who is to the pilot the "locomotive" and W. H. Franklin, designer and builder of the glider that Capt. Hawks will fly.

After his arrival at Lindbergh Field Capt. Hawks and his companions went over to a local factory, where he found the glider he is to use on the flight. The glider was shipped out last week. Capt. Hawks intends to remain here during the entire week to supervise the tests and preparations for the flight.

Diamond Market Break Threat in Parley Failure

A conference of representatives of the diamond mining interests including De Beers, Jagersfontein, the alluvial diggings and Southwest African interests were unable to reach an agreement with the government and is expected to dissolve tomorrow without settlement.

This probably will mean independent operation by various interests in selling diamonds. The position is viewed here with grave concern. It is believed that some companies will be compelled to pass dividends.

LOVE-TEST PAIR STARTING ANEW

Detroit Couple Together as "Other Man" Lies Dead

Friends Sent Word Telling Their Happiness Aims

Wife and Father of Suicide Arrange His Funeral

DETROIT, March 24. (AP)—A husband and wife who were reunited after a tragically ending experiment in which the wife went away with another man to learn the quality of her love for him, sent a message to friends today saying they "intend to be happy once more."

The message came from "somewhere in Michigan," friends of the couple, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin March said. "We are together once more," the friends were told. "We understand each other and will take up life again as though the incident that has passed never happened."

In the meantime, the body of the other man, Thomas A. Newton, 32 years of age, lay in Miami, Fla., where he ended his own life with a bullet last Thursday, after Mrs. March had decided she preferred life with her husband and 18-months-old daughter to continuing with him. Newton's wife, whom he married ten years ago, and his father, Thomas E. Newton, wealthy packer, are in Miami making arrangements to take the body to Orlando, Fla., for cremation.

The return of Mrs. March to her husband, who is curator of Asiatic art at the Detroit Institute of Arts, came after a trip with Newton which started February 24, last, during which the couple visited Bermuda, Cuba and finally Florida. The trip, the husband said, was taken with his consent, after Mrs. March and Newton revealed to him the belief that they loved each other and wanted each other more than anything else.

March said he consented to the experiment, which was to continue for a month.

Rail Taxes Show Large Increase

BURLINGTON (Wis.) March 24. (AP)—Railroad taxes in 1929 passed the $400,000,000 mark for the first time, C. D. Morris, representing the western railways public relations committee, said in an address today.

This was an average of $1,103,000 for every day in the year and an average of more than $1665 for every mile of line in operation last year, he said.

TESTS FOR INTELLIGENT PEOPLE—A SERIES

What chair has become a bed?

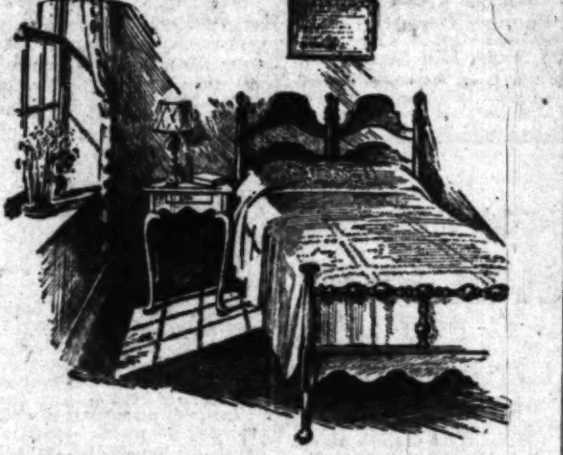
ALL through New England, and up and down the Hudson, early-American craftsmen showed a preference for the friendly ladder-back chair which had originally come from Holland. Its simple charm is so appealing that the Danersk ladder-back bed shown below was based upon two ladder-back chairs standing side by side.

When is a hard mattress more comfortable?

We sleep most soundly when the spine is horizontal. This comfortable position is secured, in the case of people light in weight, by a soft mattress. On the other hand, wider-waisted persons thinking of giving up sweets will slumber most restfully on a mattress which is stiff. A complete selection of mattresses—stiff, soft and medium—is offered in connection with the Danersk bed pictured below.

What is a finial?

The great cabinetmakers were unwilling to allow a bedpost or chairpost to end abruptly, and generally finished off the top of each post with a gracefully carved or turned decoration known as a finial (from the Latin, finis, meaning finish). Finials of such distinguished craftsmanship as the classic Greek urn, carved on the headposts of the Danersk bed pictured below, are found only in the choicest furniture.



THE design of the Danersk Ladder-Back Bed pictured above is based upon the traditional ladder-back chair of the Hudson Valley. It is skilfully fashioned of mellow old maple with interesting duck feet and mushroom turnings in the footboard, and lovely urn shaped finials. Springs and mattresses are offered in many varying degrees of stiffness. The Ladder-Back Bed, like all Danersk pieces, was made by the Danersk colony of Scotch and English cabinetmakers and embodies all the refinements of craftsmanship which distinguish Danersk furniture from the ordinary. Come and roam through our showrooms.

SCIENCE PEEKS INTO FOG BANKS

Massachusetts Tech Seeks Explanation of Mist

How Particles Get Together Will be Figured Out

Then We Will Know How to Dispel Them at Will

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) March 14. (AP)—Announcement of a new kind of attack on fog at Massachusetts Institute of Technology's new meteorological observatory was made today.

It aims literally to learn how fog particles are put together, with the hope that this knowledge may show how to take them apart in some more effective manner than now known.

The attack is new in the wide field over which it proposes to penetrate farther than ever before into the most minute and prosaic details of fog structure and antics. Prof. C. G. Rossby is in charge of the observatory.

DIFFERENT KINDS

"To the layman," says the announcement, "fog is simply fog, but the scientist has classified fog in more than a score of forms, including Arctic Sea smoke, tropical air fogs, Indian summer haze, early morning mists and ground fog common in the vicinity of great cities.

"One of the studies at this new meteorological observatory, the first of its kind established by an educational institution, seeks to develop an accurate method of measuring absolute humidity. It is hoped to be able accurately to measure separately the total amount of liquid water and vapor in the atmosphere.

SIZE OF DROPLETS

"The size of fog droplets will be studied to learn to what degree the size of drops affects visibility. Another division of the research will make a study of distribution of temperature in fog and clouds at various heights. These experiments will be made with instruments attached to sounding balloons and aircraft. Determination of thickness of fog banks is one of the most important objects.

"Physical characteristics of fogs will be correlated with general weather conditions. It is known that different kinds of fog have different types of nuclei, among them particles of dust, around which the droplets form on condensation. It is believed that there are great variations in the size and number of drops in various forms of fog."

The observatory is at Round Hill, Mass.

EARLY TRIAL FIGHT LOST BY ORMSBY

His Attorney and Judge Clash Over Continuance on Graft Indictments

OAKLAND, March 24. (Exclusive) Appearance in the court of Superior Judge Wood today of Cromwell L. Ormsby, Los Angeles attorney charged with complicity in the Alameda county graft ring, brought a sharp clash between Ormsby's attorney, Joseph Fainer, and the court over the continuance of the case to April 14.

Two indictments have been returned against Ormsby. Attorney Fainer declared his client ready for trial on both of them and he objected strenuously to the continuance.

The District Attorney's office requested putting over of the cases because Dist.-Atty. Warren has gone to Dallas, Tex., to return Floyd Van Noy, indicted patent paving contractor.

Fainer became so insistent Judge Wood finally told him.

"You can't run this court."

To which Fainer replied:

"It seems the District Attorney can. Haven't we any rights here?"

Judge Wood called his attention to the fact Ormsby is at liberty on bail while some others indicated in the scandal are in jail and the latter should have first consideration.

While in court on charges of acting as go between for lottery operators, Ormsby pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging the protection of bootleggers.

CHARGES OF POWER DEAL BRING REPLY

Indian Affairs Aide Tells Senate Group Engineer's Accusations False

WASHINGTON, March 24. (AP)—After hearing a government official defend himself of a charge by a citizen that he sponsored a "deal" between competing applicants for permission to develop water power on Flathead River, Montana, a Senate committee continued until tomorrow its investigation of charges growing out of long and heated controversy over the proposed development.

J. Henry Scattergood, assistant commissioner of Indian Affairs, rose in his own defense today, asserting that the charge against him is "ridiculous."

Walter H. Wheeler, Minneapolis engineer, long a competitor against the Rocky Mountain Power Company in efforts to gain permission to develop the site, reasserted before a subcommittee of the Senate Indian Affairs Committee his charge that Scattergood had urged what he called a "sell out" by him to the power company.

Both witnesses were called for further questioning tomorrow.

Science Discovers a Health Secret in Food

In recent years science has discovered a great health secret about food. Certain foods contain vitamins which promote normal health, growth and resistance to disease. And when there is a shortage or deficiency of these vitamins, due to improper diet, various disorders and diseases frequently occur.

There are several of these important vitamins, but they are found only in certain foods. Milk, cream and butter supply Vitamin A. Fresh fruits and leafy vegetables provide Vitamin C. Sunshine and cod liver oil bring us Vitamin D.

The Vitamin which is usually most lacking in our modern diet is Vitamin B. A large part of our food supply is made up principally of white flour bread, refined sugar, meats, fish and other foods which are very deficient or totally lacking in this vitamin.

Now science has brought us the precious Vitamin B in a delightful, likable form. A flavor everyone seems to like and which makes other foods we eat more enjoyable. Vegex is the name of this new and wonderful food. So rich is Vegex in Vitamin B, that one teaspoonful per day added to other foods supplies all of this vitamin needed in the diet of an average person.

Vegex enriches the flavor of soups, gravies, or sauces, or with only hot water makes an appetizing broth. Its daily use helps the infant and growing child to more perfect development; assists elderly people to avoid becoming old before their time, for it combats constipation and stomach disorders. Food and medicine in one. Many physicians praise it more highly than we would dare to. Leading druggists and grocers have it. A trial jar costs only 15c. Ask your dealer for a copy of the Vegex Cook Book; it's free.

'WITCH' STALKS IN DOOM DRAMA

Last Juror Drawn in Grim Trial of Red Lilac

Inciting Indian Crone to Kill Lover's Wife Charged

Paramour of Squaw Shaken by Twist of Fate

BUFFALO, March 24. (Exclusive) The last props were set today in the courtroom of County Judge Horn for one of the strangest real life dramas ever given in this country, a drama in which an old pagan Indian squaw, an Indian maid, 35 years of age, and a middle-aged French artist will play the moving roles.

The twelfth juror in the trial of Lila Jimerson, the Red Lilac of the last remnants of the once-great Seneca tribe, who stands charged with inciting old Nancy Bowen to the murder of Clothilde Marchand, was drawn at dusk tonight. Nearly 200 talesmen had been examined in four days of quibbling before the box was filled.

MAN BEWILDERED

Henri Marchand is in the County Jail, waiting to be called as one of the first prosecution witnesses against his red-skinned sweetheart.

He is bewildered and shaken by the twist that fate has given his affairs, but he is confident that he cannot be connected with the crime.

Scarcely a block away from where he broods and paces his cell—he is held in $25,000 bail as a material witness—old Nancy Bowen, a wrinkled crone who believes even now that she is bewitched, stoically awaits the call to court.

Dist.-Atty. Moore asserts Red Lilac was insanely jealous of Marchand's wife. He says Red Lilac sent old Nancy letters purporting to come from a spiritualist named "Mrs. Dooley," inciting her to kill Clothilde Marchand. The letters stated Mrs. Marchand was a witch and had caused the death of Chief Sassafras Charlie, Nancy's husband, and that she, Nancy, was to be done to death by the witch's sorcery if the witch was not put out of the way.

HAMMER KILLING

On the 6th inst., three days before the time appointed by "Mrs. Dooley," for the old squaw's doom, Nancy could stand the suspense no longer. So she took a hammer, which the State says, Lilac bought for her. Then she went to Marchand's home, carefully strewed a basket full of loam around the outside of the house to protect her from the evil spirits, went inside and killed the French woman with the hammer.

"I do not believe I did wrong to kill her," the old squaw said today. "I was told to kill her because she was a witch. At that time I thought she was one. Now I know I was fooled. I believed that she had killed my husband but that was not my fault.

"It is all too bad, but I'm not to blame. I killed the wrong witch—that is all."

Port Officials Reach Capital to Push Plans

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 24. (Exclusive)—Harbor Engineer George F. Nicholson of the Board of Harbor Commissioners of Los Angeles and General Manager and Chief Engineer R. G. McGlone of Long Beach Harbor, arrived in Washington today for the hearing on breakwater and dredgings projects for the joint harbors which is to be heard before the general Board of River and Harbor Engineers.

They are hopeful that most if not all the projects called for will be approved by the board and that an appropriation for the items recommended can be incorporated in the present river and harbors appropriation bill which is before Congress. This action would obviate a year's delay and permit actual construction and dredging operations to start at the beginning of the next fiscal year, July 1, next.

POTSDAM (Germany) March 24. (AP)—An elaborate iron entrance gate to Sans Souci Park which was purchased for the former Kaiser at the Chicago World's Exposition, will be removed shortly, and the entrance will be restored in conformity with the original structure of Frederick the Great. The authorities decided to replace the historic gate which Frederick the Great erected and which the former Kaiser relegated to a less conspicuous place in the famous park.

OAKLAND AVIATOR ASKS RENO DECREE

RENO, March 24. (AP)—William H. Royle of Oakland, California aviator, has filed suit for divorce here against Winnifred Royle, to whom he was married at Brighton, Eng., February 11, 1919. He charges desertion dating from January 1, 1929. The case will be tried tomorrow and there will be no contest, it is understood. Royle, who was manager of the Ernie Smith-Emory Bronte flight to Hawaii, resigned two weeks ago as director of training for the Curtiss-Wright Flying Service in California.

HEFLIN RAPS ACQUITTING OF DOHENY

Senator Says Jury Should be Forever Barred from Sitting in Court Cases

WASHINGTON, March 24. (AP)—The acquittal of Edward L. Doheny on a charge of bribery Saturday, was described in the Senate today by Senteor Heflin, Democrat, Alabama as a "rank travesty on justice."

Rising from his seat as soon as the Senate convened, the Alabaman shouted that a list of jurors who rendered the verdict should be kept and that they should "never be permitted to sit in a jury trial again.

"If a man goes out and steals a loaf of bread," Heflin asserted, "he is put in jail and perhaps in the penitentiary. If a woman in distress goes out and steals food for her starving children she is locked up.

"But a millionaire who has corrupted high officials of the government and pillaged the property of the government can procure freedom from a jury."

Heflin added there ought to be "one standard of justice for the rich and poor alike" and that "there should be no distinction."

DAGUE MAY TRY TO BALK EXECUTION

Irene Schroeder Paramour Said to Plan Putting All Murder Blame on Her

NEWCASTLE (Pa.) March 24. (Exclusive)—Walter Glenn Dague, paramour of Irene Schroeder, 21 years of age, condemned gun girl, today is said to have abandoned his resolve to accompany her to the electric chair and to have decided to plead that she alone killed Corp. Brady Paul of the Pennsylvania State Police last December.

His decision was made after his wife, Mrs. Theresa Dague, 30, forgot her resentment over his infidelity long enough to visit him in his cell.

Dague's change of tactics will compel him to tell a story totally different from that which he put forward during the trial of his sweetheart. He had insisted then that he, not Irene, carried the revolver that, according to firearms experts, killed Paul.

Only half of the jury was seated today.

Western Union Solicitations Aired in Senate

WASHINGTON, March 24. (AP)—Telegrams from lumber dealers in Minneapolis complaining against the "solicitation" by a "Western Union agent" of messages to be sent to Washington advocating a higher lumber tariff were read in the Senate today by Senator Nye, Republican, North Dakota.

NEW YORK, March 24. (AP)—Officials of the Western Union Company here today said that the solicitation of messages described by Senator Nye in the Senate today is a regular business practice followed by all agents of the company.

They said, however, that the agents do not work for any interest in such matters, but instead solicit messages from both opponents and proponents when legislative matters are before Congress.

PUPPY ACCREDITED AS BOY'S RESCUER

JACKSON (Mich.) March 24. (AP) "Just a pup," but with a human life saving credited to it, is hailed as a hero at Vandercook Lake, near here, today. Maxie Lettow, 4 years of age, and his pup were playing on the banks of a creek yesterday. Maxie fell into the creek. The dog ran to the Lettow home and barked and whined until the child's father followed it to the creek, where he found his child under water and unconscious. Firemen resuscitated the boy.

CAPONE RAISES FLORIDA STRIFE

Governor and Court at Odds on Homecoming

Judge Enjoins All Sheriffs from Molesting Gangster

Executive Repeats Orders for Expulsion on Sight

MIAMI (Fla.) March 24. (AP)—With a new pronouncement from the Governor of Florida that Alphonse Capone, Chicago racketeer, will not establish headquarters in this State, Floridans today were expectantly awaiting what may happen should the gangster chief carry out his plan to visit his winter home here.

Gov. Carlton's latest statement from Tallahassee closely followed the granting of a temporary injunction by Federal Judge Ritter which cleared the way for Capone to come to Miami by restraining sheriffs of twenty counties from arresting the racketeer without warrant or authority of law.

GOVERNOR'S ORDERS

Last week the Governor wired the sheriffs to arrest Capone on sight and conduct him to the border with instructions not to return. Attorneys for Capone challenged the Governor's authority for issuing the order and Saturday night they obtained the injunction.

"I make no apology or retreat from my original statement," the Governor declared today. "Florida as a playground, in the nature of things, is more liberal than other States, but it will not, however, be a haven for the crooks and criminals or headquarters for gangsters and gunmen."

OUTLAW BARRED

Asserting that Capone was the "recognized leader of the most vicious gang that ever infested a city," the chief executive said that so far as he was concerned "he is an outlaw and those who wish to fondle and make of him a hero can assume full responsibility for their actions."

"He may for a time wrap about himself the technicalities of the law," continued the Governor. "Other criminals have and he may—for a time. But he will not establish headquarters in Florida. His element will not take root here. His attendants will not be an armed gang to protect him from his past crimes against society."

DELAY MARKS FOX DISPUTE

Decision Reserved in Fight Over Stock Control

Papers in Sheehan Action Not Yet Served

Film Magnate's Statement Scores ex-Aide

NEW YORK, March 24. (AP)—Decision was reserved today on an action brought in United States Circuit Court of Appeals by two Fox trustees to restrain Federal Judge Coleman from issuing any order or exercising jurisdiction in William Fox's action brought to prevent the two trustees and others from taking control of stock of Fox Films and Fox Theater corporations.

Fox had obtained from Judge Coleman an order requiring John L. Otterson and H. L. Stuart to show cause why they should not be restrained from voting stock deposited with them in December under a trusteeship established with those two men and Fox as members. They had planned to use the stock in voting against the refinancing plan recently put forward by the Bancamerica group and adopted by the stockholders and in favor of a refinancing plan sponsored by Halsey, Stuart & Co.

Although the State courts held they had the right to vote the stock it was voted by Fox at the stockholders' meeting, which approved the Bancamerica plan.

SHEEHAN'S ACTION

Another suit, papers in which were signed Saturday but which have not yet been served, Mr. Fox said, on himself or other officers, has been initiated by Winfield Sheehan, general manager of Fox Films and for years considered as Fox's "right-hand man."

Sheehan, who favors the Halsey, Stuart refinancing plan, obtained on Saturday from State Supreme Court Justice McCook an order requiring Fox to show cause Wednesday why he should not be restrained from putting into effect the Bancamerica refinancing plan.

In a statement bitterly attacking Sheehan, Mr. Fox charged that the trusteeship was put through last December while he was ill and that Sheehan had hoped to supplant him as head of the far-flung Fox enterprises although holding little stock in the companies.

STATEMENT ISSUED

The statement said in part:

"Mr. Sheehan, who owes everything he is and has in the world to me, has been from the beginning of the struggle a faithful ally of the group that for more than two months has been openly urging the Federal Court to appoint receivers. It was he who, during my illness in December last and a few days after the trusteeship agreement was made, entered into a bargain by which he was to supplant me, although he owns no substantial interest in the company. That is the bargain he is now trying to put through.

"The 18,000 stockholders to whom each of the contending forces, including Mr. Sheehan and his newfound friends, submitted their case, rendered their verdict when they, by a vote of more than 98 per cent or twenty-to-one in number of shares (658,000 shares against 33,000) and 94 per cent or about 12,190 against 250 in number of shareholders, rejected the proposal of the Halsey, Stuart group and upheld my action in protecting the stockholders against these gentlemen by preventing the property from falling into their hands."

Death Companion May be Secretary

Dr. Ernst Watzl and Mary McGranahan

Mrs. McGranahan, who disappeared soon after Dr. Watzl left Cleveland, may have been the companion found dead with him in Vienna, Cleveland friends think.

DEATH CLEARS MYSTERY

Dr. Ernest Watzl, Missing Cleveland Chemist, and Woman Companion Found Dead in Vienna

VIENNA, March 24. (AP)—Dr. Ernest Watzl, prominent chemist and inventor of Cleveland, who disappeared near Pottstown, Pa., on November 7, 1929, was found dead this afternoon in his hotel room here. Josefa Kropej, also of Cleveland, was discovered dead with him. The authorities said it was a case of double suicide and believe that financial difficulties were the reason.

They were both shot dead.

According to the police Dr. Watzl left a number of letters addressed to people in various countries. They said he had been met in Europe by Josefa Kropej and the couple had come to Vienna together.

The police said the news of the deaths had been communicated to the American authorities and refused to make further statements.

WOMAN COMPANION'S IDENTITY QUESTIONED

CLEVELAND, March 24. (AP)—Police believed tonight that Josefa Kropej of Cleveland who was found dead in a Vienna hotel with Dr. Ernest Watzl, Cleveland chemist, may be Mrs. Mary McGranahan of Cleveland, who disappeared shortly after Watzl's automobile was found at Pottstown, Pa., November 7.

Nothing has been heard from her since she disappeared and police believe Mrs. McGranahan might have gone to Vienna with the chemist.

Mrs. Mary Watzl, when notified of her husband's death, said his payments on his life insurance policies had expired today.

VANISHED ON TRIP

The career of Dr. Watzl was as colorful as his disappearance was mysterious.

He had invented a new process for the purification of water which was said to be revolutionary and in great demand by waterworks in various parts of the country. He had gone to Philadelphia to sell the process to the waterworks there and obtain a job in the water department.

Late that day his automobile was found, a charred mass on the banks of the Schuylkill River, near Pottstown, Pa. There was no trace of the body. Police officials here and in Pennsylvania worked to untangle the mystery. Then came reports the chemist was still alive.

SECRETARY DISAPPEARS

His life insurance was still being paid from a mysterious source. On December 23 a letter came from New York to the John Hancock Life Insurance Company with a check for the premium. The letter was said to have been written on Watzl's typewriter and signed "Charles Warner," in a feminine hand."

In the meantime Mrs. McGranahan, former secretary of Dr. Watzl, had vanished. Her husband, James McGranahan, sued for divorce and filed a $50,000 alienation of affection suit against the chemist.

INCOME TAX COLLECTIONS SHOW DROP

Treasury Report Tells of Shortage of $15,955,861 Over Same Period of 1929

WASHINGTON, March 24. (AP)—The Treasury said today that income tax collections as of the 21st inst., amounted to $31,372,280, a drop of $15,955,861 as compared to the same day last year. Total collections for the month also show a drop for the same number of days in March, 1929.

For the first twenty-one days of the present month the collections have totaled $491,700,996, while in March, 1929, the collections aggregated $526,088,827, making a decrease of $34,000,000.

The Treasury statement shows, however, that on the 21st inst., there was a surplus of $105,869,734, while on the same day a year ago the surplus amounted to only $3,438,520. Income tax collections for the fiscal year starting last July 1, show an increase of $133,000,000 over the similar period of the previous fiscal year, totaling $1,744,335,138.

Subcommittee Has Parker Case

WASHINGTON, March 24. (AP)—The nomination of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina to be a justice of the Supreme Court was referred today by the Senate Judiciary Committee to a subcommittee headed by Senator Overman, Democrat, North Carolina.

Overman has indorsed Parker and no official protests have been received. Members of the Judiciary Committee, however, did receive a letter today from a Miss Mary F. Speers of this city protesting against a decision rendered by the Circuit Court of Appeals of which Parker is a member. She complained he had the indorsement of the "oil and liquor interests."

SUBCOMMITTEE GETS COSGRAVE NOMINATION

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 24. (Exclusive)—The nomination of George Cosgrave of Fresno to be Federal district judge in Southern California was referred today to a sub-committee of the Senate Judiciary Committee for the customary inquiry into his qualifications. The subcommittee is composed of Senators Waterman of Colorado, chairman, and Hebert of Rhode Island, Republicans, and Dill of Washington, Democrat.

As there is apparently no opposition to the appointment, indications are that the committee will make an early report and that this will be followed by speedy confirmation by the Senate.

BUSINESS STAYS STEADY IN STATE

February About Even With January Figures

Most Lines Show Decrease from Last Year

Trend Declared Like That Throughout Nation

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24. (AP) California business conditions held about steady with January during last month, the State Chamber of Commerce reported today in its monthly review. The situation is said to have corresponded generally to the general trend of trade throughout the United States.

Agriculture has improved in outlook on account of favorable weather. Industrial establishments employed a few more men in February than in January, a survey of 710 concerns showed, but the number was 4.8 per cent below February, 1929.

GAIN IN POWER

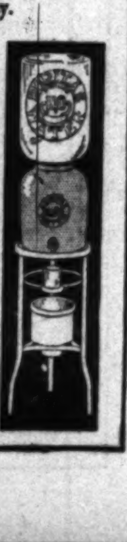
Production of electrical power in January this year was 7.4 per cent above the month in 1929. In February the eleven power and general public-service concerns surveyed employed 9 per cent more men than a year ago, with the pay roll being 7 per cent higher.

Crude-oil output was lower than a year ago, the total for the first two months showing 6.5 per cent down, with refinery output down 2.3 per cent. Lumber production was 11 per cent less, pine recording a drop of 33.4 per cent, and redwood 30 per cent. Shipments and orders were lower by 4.8 and 1.3 per cent, respectively.

LESS BUILDING

Building permits showed a drop for February in California as through the nation as a whole. California's monthly permit total was 41 per cent below February, 1929, and the January-February total was 30 per cent below 1929.

Car loadings for February were down 6.3 per cent and for the two months 13.4 per cent. Department-store sales were 1.6 per cent below February last year, compared to 2 per cent for the nation. Bank debits were down 14.5 per cent. This compared with a drop of 25.7 per cent in 141 cities in the United States.



His Doctor's Verdict
...at 40

"You have an 'after 40' ailment that 6 out of 10 men and women are afflicted with. Too bad you must leave business just as success comes to you. But you must... forget work for a year."

The peak of success in business begins at 40, with the average man. So too comes the turning point in health, the age when wear and tear of life begins to take its toll. Over half of men equipped to reach the top, fail because of breakdown in health, statistics show. Life's most tragic paradox.

Doctors now trace the cause, in many cases, to a prevalent after 40 ailment ... kidney breakdown. Over half of men and women are affected. Many without knowledge, for there are no warning symptoms.

The cause they give is this: 75% of poisonous waste from the system is excreted by kidneys, much in too concentrated form. Overburdened, delicate kidney cells break down. Congestion occurs, throwing poisons back into the system —the beginning of many serious ills.

Ask your doctor. He will verify these important medical findings. And he will tell you that kidneys must be flushed constantly, poisons removed each day.

Many doctors now prescribe 6 glasses daily of pure distilled drinking water (mineral-free) to flush kidneys in the most efficient way. It dilutes and carries off concentrated waste matter, without leaving congestion forming mineral deposits.

Puritas is scientifically distilled and aerated, water in its purest state. Though its taste seems different at first, each drink you'll increasingly enjoy.

Guard against the prevalent after 40 health breakdown. Drink Puritas each day.

Phone WEstmore 0381 and Puritas will be delivered to your home, anywhere in Southern California. A Puritas iceless cooler furnished free.

GENEVA TARIFF PARLEY ENDS

Eleven Countries Agree to Limited Co-operation

Fifteen States Approve of Further Negotiations

Meeting Falls Far Short of Original Objective

GENEVA, March 24. (AP)—The diplomatic conference called by the League of Nations to consider proposals for an international tariff truce adjourned tonight after adopting a two-fold scheme that falls considerably short of the original objective.

One part of the scheme agreed upon is a convention embodying engagements to undertake a limited program of economic co-operation for the consolidation of customs duties. Representatives of eleven countries signed this tonight.

The second part is a protocol providing for further negotiations among the countries, including a preparatory study of the economic needs of each state and the interrelation of these needs. The delegates of fifteen states signed this.

The tariff consolidation scheme contains many details, but in substance amounts to this:

The signatories agree not to denounce existing commercial agreements between parties to this convention before April 1, 1931. The convention will be open for ratification of signatures until November 1, next. If not denounced by any contracting party before that date, the convention will go into force until the succeeding April. Then if there be no denunciations, it will be in force for another six months.

DEMOCRATIC HOUSE RULE AIM DERIDED

Wood of Indiana Asserts Bourbons Seek Control Sans Responsibility

WASHINGTON, March 24. (AP)—Assertion that the Democrats hope to gain enough seats in the next election to give them a maximum of strength in the House with a minimum of responsibility was made tonight in a statement issued by Representative Wood of Indiana, chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee.

Wood assailed a prediction by Representative Byrns of Tennessee, chairman of the Democrat Congressional Committee, that the Democrats will capture seventy seats during the elections, with the possibility of twenty more. The Democrats need fifty-three seats to obtain control of the House.

The Democrats hope, Wood said, to capture enough seats to reduce the Republican majority so that they may form a coalition from time to time which would result in a maximum of strength with a minimum of responsibility.

Wood ridiculed the idea that the Democrats may control the next House.

It also was announced that Senators Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, and Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, who are attending the naval conference in London, were paired, Reed for and Robinson against the bill.

RECESS ABANDONED

Republican leaders had planned a week's recess immediately following tariff passage, but this plan was abondoned tonight in order that prompt action may be obtained on the agricultural appropriation bill, the deficiency bill carrying $100,000,000 for the Federal Farm Board and other necessary funds and the public buildings measure urged by President Hoover as a means of providing work for unemployed. So the prospects are it will be several days and possibly a week or two before the tired bodies and frayed nerves of Senators will get a rest. Maybe there will be no recess at all until the adjournment scheduled for June.

Senate passage of the tariff came after a day of denunciatory speeches by Democrats, led by Harrison of Mississippi and Connally of Texas, and such Republican insurgents as La Follette and Blaine of Wisconsin, all wanting the tariff passed for the benefits carried to their own States, but eager to take full advantage of the opportunity to make political capital against the administration at the climax of the long fight.

SENATORS' VIEWS

Senator Borah explained that his vote for the bill in its present form was not to be taken as an indication of what he would do when the conference report is put to a vote.

He said the debenture, the amendment restoring to Congress the present executive power to make emergency changes in tariffs, and the Norris antimonopoly provisions are vital parts of the bill and should not be compromised.

Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, another Independent leader, assailed the measure as the "worst tariff bill in the nation's history" and as one that "should be known as Grundy's billion-dollar bill."

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, asserted the bill to be "full of impediments to industry," and "if President Hoover listens to the voice of industry he will veto it."

Terming it a "fraud and a breach of every campaign pledge made by the Republican party in 1928," Senator Connally, Democrat, Texas, said any Senator who expects to see the debenture and the provision for repeal of Presidential power to change duties enacted into law is "indulging in a very sanguine hope."

"Over in the White House," he said, "sits an Executive who is determined that neither of these provisions shall be in the bill when it is reported from conference."

PROTECTION SHOWN

While no defense of the measure came from a single administration Republican, Chairman Smoot of the Finance Committee placed in the record a tabulation showing the equivalent average ad valorem protection of the bill as passed today was 38.99 per cent as compared with 43.15 per cent in the House bill; 34.61 in the present law and 40.54 per cent in the bill originally reported by the Finance Committee and 21.08 per cent in the last Democratic tariff act, the Underwood law of 1913.

By rate schedules the table showed the Senate bill to be lower in four schedules—metals, wood, rayon and sundries—as compared with the existing law, and higher in the ten remaining rate sections. The following average percentage of protection in each schedule, compared with 1913, present and House rates, was shown:

Sundries: 1913, 16.25; present, 20.99; House, 28.87; Senate 19.99.

HARRISON GETS LAUGHS

Senator Harrison also had placed in the record another table showing the lower percentage of protection carried in the bill as it came from committee of the whole and before the coalition, as he put it, made "A skid or had a blowout."

He angered Smoot, but got some laughs from the galleries, when he said he wanted figures in the record alongside the Utahan's, showing the bill "when it was one the one-yard line and Mr. Grundy took the ball from the Senator from Utah."

Smoot, in all seriousness, replied that he had "no consultations with Mr. Grundy" and had tried to "keep politics" out of the debate.

CHURCH PUSHES MORALS DRIVE

Italian Couples Must Show Marriage Licenses to Parish Priests

ROME, March 24. (Exclusive)—The campaign fostered by the Vatican against the modern tendency toward moral laxity is being enforced to the letter in some provinces of Italy. The bishop of the town of Fano, on the Adriatic coast, today instructed the clergy of his diocese to refuse to perform Easter benedictions in houses where the couples are unable to show their marriage certificates. At Easter time in Italy the priests visit each house in their parish, bless it and sprinkle holy water.

LEGGE FORECASTS OPPOSITION TO DEBENTURES

WASHINGTON, March 24. (AP)—Chairman Legge of the Farm Board expressed conviction today that the export debenture proposed in the Senate tariff bill could not be made operative.

"It might work for a little while," he said, "but foreign importing countries undoubtedly would put up insurmountable barriers — perhaps to the extent of an embargo—against American produce on which the debentures were operating. They already have threatened such action in anticipation of an attempt by the United States to 'dump' wheat."

Legge expressed opposition to current proposals to open new farm lands in the West by irrigation and other reclamation processes on the premise that it would add to the agricultural surplus.

Traffic Toll in San Diego One Dead, Nine Hurt

SAN DIEGO, March 24.—One dead and nine injured, is the week-end traffic toll here. Police and Coroner's officers report. William Mathema, 75 years of age, is dead. He was injured fatally when hit by a truck ddiven by John H. Tom, police report. Mathema died in the County Hospital. Police who investigated the crash learned the victim was crossing an intersection diagonally when struck by the machine. Tom was not held.

Immigration Inspectors Harry Vincent, 30, and James Renshaw, 31, were run down while inspecting traffic near Oceanside by an automobile driven by T. L. Dossett of the naval air station. Vincent was injured so seriously he is not expected to live, while Renshaw was hurt less seriously, report said. Dossett and another sailor, J. R. Parker, were arrested after the accident and are being held in the Oceanside Jail.

Dossett told the officers he had recently purchased the car and was not familiar with its operation. He said he became confused when he saw the officers on the highway and could not stop his auto.

Falling from his motorcycle on which Delia Swapp, 19, was riding, F. A. Kelly, 23, U.S.S. Rigel received a broken leg, police said. The girl was cut and bruised, but escaped serious injury. Carl Gookin, 46, of Lakeside, received minor hurts yesterday when his auto collided with another driven by F. L. Morette, 56, of here.

Warnock's court today when defense counsel presented a check for $1272.34, the amount Soares was accused of embezzling. The defense motion for dismissal was not opposed by Dep. Dist.-Atty. C. H. Wilson, who stated that he had been informed that a compromise had been made that was satisfactory to all parties.

BUILDINGS BILL IN ORDER TODAY

Senate Leaders Hoping for Passage Before Recess

Deficiency Measure Ready for Hoover's Action

Muscle Shoals Legislation Next Business Up

WASHINGTON, March 24. (AP)—Passage of the $230,000,000 public buildings bill will be sought tomorrow by Senate leaders before asking a recess for the remainder of the week to give the weary legislators a rest from the seven months of tariff debate.

Another emergency measure—the $170,000,000 first deficiency bill—was made ready for the White House late today when the Senate receded from three amendments in dispute with the House. The funds of this bill, including $12,000,000 for river and harbor work; $100,000,000 for the Farm Board and $150,000 for the American delegation at the London naval arms conference, become available immediately.

The resolution of Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, providing for government operation of the gigantic Muscle Shoals (Ala.) power project was made the order of business by the Senate after passage of the tariff bill late in the day.

The Nebraska Senator has consented to permit the annual appropriation bills, of which five are before the Senate, to be taken up from time to time during discussion of his Muscle Shoals resolution. The first of these, the agriculture bill carrying the appropriations for Federal road aid, will be considered tomorrow.

There have been threats of an attempt to keep the Senate in continuous session, but there appeared tonight to be a majority of the weary legislators ready to vote the other four days of the week for themselves.

SPEAKER JOINS DEBATE DESPITE JOHNSON'S GIBE

WASHINGTON, March 24. (AP)—Taking a part in the Senate debate from the presiding officer's chair, Senator Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, president pro tem, held his ground today when challenged for it from the floor.

The outspoken New Hampshire Senator observed from the chair that the pending deficiency appropriation bill, cutting down appropriation for the Boston and Denver post office buildings, was framed in favor of Indiana Limestone. Increased funds to provide granite on these buildings had been previously voted.

Senator Johnson, Republican, California, made a point that the presiding officer had no right to participate in the debate.

Moses rejoined from the chair that he was not going to lose his right to represent his State because he sat in the presiding officer's seat.

Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, suggested that he at least ask the Senator who had the floor to yield to him, but Moses shot back that he did not even feel obliged to do that.

With that the exchange ended and the bill was passed without the increased funds for use of granite in the buildings.

American Ship in China Fired on by Radicals

SHANGHAI, March 24. (AP)—The American Yangtze River steamer, the Ifung, was fired upon late today by Communists waving red flags, 200 miles above Hankow.

The steamer was subjected to a sharp rifle barrage which was returned by the American armed naval guard aboard the vessel. F. C. Roberts, member of the American guard, was wounded in the left arm during the skirmish.

FARM BOARD PLAN LAUDED

W. M. Giffen, Former Head of Sun-Maid, Chairman of Rehabilitation Committee, Speaks at Fresno

FRESNO, March 24.—Asserting that the Federal Farm Board's plan for rehabilitation is the best that has ever been put before the grape growers of California, and that it is absolutely necessary that the plan be adopted, Wylie M. Giffen, chairman of the State Grape Campaign Committee, today addressed a joint meeting of civic clubs and public officials, and urged the group to look into the future and forget the past.

"Mistakes have been made in the past, but you made a lot more money when the crop was controlled than when it wasn't," Giffen said.

"An 85 per cent control of the grape crop is the only hope of the community for prosperity. With that control, the grower will get more than he is getting now and more than he will get if there is no organization."

The speaker, who formerly was president of the Sun-Maid Raisin Growers, said no price guarantee can be made in the contracts with growers, because there is no way for a co-operative to fix a definite price.

He gave a general outline of the plan as prepared by C. C. Teague, California member of the Farm Board, and said that there is nothing in the present contract that "any man who is fair cannot accept," and that the contract is little different from those that have been used in the past.

"The government is doing everything it can to help the community do the job it seeks to do," Dr. Theodore Macklin, Farm Board aide, said, which Giffen supplemented with the statement: "The Federal Farm Board is now saying that we can do things for which we were once threatened with jail."

REHABILITATION AGREEMENT MAY BE REACHED SOON

FRESNO, March 24. (AP)—Following an all-day meeting of independent raisin packers, Sun-Maid Raisin Growers' Association officials, and representatives of the Committee of Fifty and the Federal Farm Board today, it was learned that an agreement by which the packers would participate in the Farm Board's program to stabilize the raisin and grape industries seems likely within a day or so. Most of today's conference was devoted to principles under which they would operate, and following an executive session among the packers, another joint meeting was held tonight.

Should the packers agree to come in on the program, it is thought that they will buy their sweat-box raisin stocks direct from the so-called Farm Board pool, manufacturing and marketing independently. The plan must be approved by C. C. Teague, Farm Board member who devised the new grape program which is intended to eliminate the surplus crop.

A campaign to sign up 85 per cent of the grape growers of the State will be formally opened April 1.

WATRES AIR MAIL BILL REPORTED

Postoffice Department Measure Draws Fire in Democratic Report

WASHINGTON, March 24. (AP)—The Watres bill to reorganize airmail regulations to provide for definite mileage rates, consolidation of lines and other changes favored by the Postoffice Department was reported today by the House Postoffice and Post Roads Committee.

At the same time a minority report opposing the bill because of a clause which would permit the Postmaster-General to award contracts without advertising or considering bids was filed by Representatives Mead of New York and Morehead, Nebraska, both Democrats.

The majority of the committee reported the measure involved at the maximum an increased annual expenditure of $3,000,000 and that its passage is essential to continue the progress of commercial aviation and assure private capital of "at least a fair return on capital actually invested." Several amendments were made in the committee before approval was given.

The majority held that the discretion given the Postmaster-General in negotiating contracts does not create a precedent.

WIFE ASKS INCREASED ALLOWANCE

Mrs. McCormick Petitions for $420,000 Yearly from Santa Barbaran's Estate

CHICAGO, March 24. (Exclusive) Mrs. Katharine Dexter McCormick, wife of Stanley McCormick, a brother of Harold McCormick, today filed a petition before Probate Judge Henry Horner to have her income increased from $162,000 to $420,000 annually from her husband's estate.

In the document she reveals that the mentally ill millionaire's fortune amounts to $46,859,824; that he lost $6,000,000 in the recent market slump and that since 1903 a total of $3,000,000 has been spent in efforts to cure him.

She requests that her allowance be paid her in monthly installments and that she be given an additional $600,000 immediately to "pay off current obligations."

Her husband, she declares, has made Santa Barbara his home for the past twenty years.

Lake Mail Boat Trapped in Ice

LELAND (Mich.) March 24. (AP)—A mail boat with four men aboard and a Coast Guard boat with a crew of six were held fast in the ice four miles off North Manitou Island tonight after an all-day effort to break loose.

Fears were expressed here for the safety of the ten men, who were without food or fuel. Heavy blocks of ice were moving slowly about the two craft. The greatest danger was that a wind would come up and crush the small boats between cakes of ice.

Smoking in Bed Fatal to Golfer

SAN RAFAEL, March 24. (Exclusive)—Smoking in bed cost the life today of John Francis Grady, 23 years of age, golf professional at the Meadow Club of Tamalpais and Fairfax.

Grady succumbed to burns and smoke fumes despite efforts at rescue by his father and brother, who dragged him from his blazing bedroom. He died while en route to Cottage Hospital a few blocks away.

CHARGES ON PASADENAN DISMISSED

Ward Now Expected to Aid State in Graft Trial of Earle and Contractor

Charges of grand theft involving public funds of the city of Pasadena were dismissed against Cletus Ward, former paving inspector, by Superior Judge Aggeler yesterday upon the motion of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Veitch.

Ward was on trial with T. C. Breitenstein, paving contractor, and Warren C. Earle, former Pasadena City Engineer, all of whom were charged with stealing public funds.

After dismissal of the charge the prosecution began laying the foundation for introduction of his testimony as a State witness against the other two defendants.

It is charged that the three defendants defrauded the city out of approximately $40,000 on the Linda Vista and Colorado paving contracts more than a year ago.

Police School Sites Chosen

The special classes for policemen which the Board of Education several weeks ago decided to establish in response to a request from the Police Commission will be conducted at the City Hall and five branch police stations, according to a recommendation by Supt. Bouelle which was approved by the board last night.

It had been the desire of the police department to have classes conducted in each of the fifteen divisional stations, but Supt. Bouelle said there are not sufficient funds available for so many classes. In addition to the classes in the City Hall, which are intended primarily for policemen attached to the Central Station, classes will be conducted at the Georgia-street, Hollywood, San Pedro, Venice and Seventy-seventh-street stations. They will all be considered as part of one school, of which George Edgecomb will be principal.

LIGHTING RECOMMENDED

The street lighting engineer yesterday recommended to the City Council the inclusion of the plans for the ornamental lighting of Orchid avenue from Franklin avenue to Hollywood Boulevard with the proceedings for the paving and improving of the street. The recommendation was referred to the Traffic and Street Lighting Committee.

PLANT HISTORY OF STATE READ FROM ADOBE BRICKS

BERKELEY, March 24. (Exclusive)—Because the mission fathers and early Spanish settlers of California used adobe brick for building purposes and adhered to the custom of using straw, grass and other farm rubbish as a binder in making the bricks, it has been possible for the University of California to obtain definite information as to the date of introduction of many plants into the State. A history based on adobe bricks has been completed by Prof. George Hendry and Margaret Kelly, graduate student of the university college of agriculture, division of agronomy. It will be published by the Agricultural History Society of Washington, D. C.

Among other points brought out is the possibility that some plant varieties classified as alien and supposed to have been brought to America by white men, might have been introduced before the coming of Columbus.

In the manuscript of his report, Prof. Hendry explains that although there are some references to the importation of hundreds of crop and ornamental plants and trees to America and California in early books and diaries, specific references to the exact variety of plants concerned are very rare. The agricultural and botanical history of the State, as a result, has been very sketchy and inaccurate.

HOPE RAISED ON PORT PROJECTS

Senator Johnson Sanguine in Message to "Times"

Expects Early Report from Engineer Board

Congress Action Possibility at This Session

BY WALDO DRAKE

The 12,500-foot breakwater extension and the four major dredging projects at Los Angeles Harbor have a splendid chance for authorization by Congress this session in the pending rivers and harbors bill. This information was contained in a telegram yesterday from Senator Johnson, chairman of the Senate Committee for Rivers and Harbors.

Coming on the eve of the hearing to be held on the above projects at Washington today before the United States Army Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, Senator Johnson's announcement restores hope of local interests for early approval of the breakwater plan. Representing Los Angeles at today's hearing will be George F. Nicholson, harbor engineer, while Long Beach's case will be presented by its harbor engineer, Maj. R. G. McGlone.

Senator Johnson also said in his telegram that the interior channel-dredging projects will be considered publicly at today's hearing and upon its completion the Board of Engineers will consider both the breakwater and channel-dredging plans in an executive session. After this, he adds, the board's report and recommendations will be made to Congress.

"While no exact date can now be indicated for submission of this report," continues the dispatch, "the board advises me it will be submitted as soon as possible and assures me that the report will reach Congress in ample time to have its recommendations embodied in pending rivers and harbors bill in its progress through House or Senate."

To inspect the breakwater extension site and the proposed areas for channel deepening, Cols. Edward H. Schulz and W. T. Hannum of the Rivers and Harbors Board, visited the port on the 18th inst.

ITALY LINE TO PUT NEW LINER ON RUN

The Italian-owned Libera Line announces the entry of the liner Albania in the Pacific Coast-Mediterranean service, a vessel with accommodations for 200 passengers, which places her clearly out of the class of any other Pacific-European vessel. She will leave Genoa, Italy, May 15, next, and after one stop at Salvador, will arrive here late in June. She was bought from the Cunard Line, and has just been reconditioned. The Albania is 531 feet long, and has a speed of sixteen knots. She has been equipped with liberal refrigeration to carry Pacific Coast perishables.

A second large liner is being sought by the same interests for this run. Both will run independently of the twenty-eight-day schedule now maintained by five modern motor liners. Two were in yesterday, the Feltre discharging passengers and freight from the Mediterranean and the Leme, embarking sixteen and loading 1000 tons for Italy. General Steamship Corporation is Coast representative.

Fifty-five Southland folk, joining as many from San Francisco, sailed yesterday on the Panama Mail liner Ecuador for Central America and New York. Among them were Dr. Alberto G. Zarate, Minister of War for Salvador; Capt. Jacinto Bondanza, pioneer aviator from Salvador; W. A. Bailey, who did the impossible, drove from Pittsburgh to Mexico City by auto, and Frank Condon, scenarist of "Once in a Blue Moon." The liner City of San Francisco arrived late yesterday from Central America with fifty travelers.

A cook he might have continued to be, but James Little won 15,000 pesos in an Argentine lottery and 2000 more on race horses. He arrived on the McCormick steamer Hollywood yesterday and will buy a restaurant in San Francisco. The West Camargo of the same line sailed last night for South America for South America with a dozen passengers and full cargo of Coast products.

N.Y.K.'s new motor liner Asama Maru in from Japan on her third trip yesterday, disembarked 138 passengers, and will sail home tomorrow with 200, among them being Mrs. Mildred O. Walizer, principal of East San Pedro school, sent as a guest of a local Japanese society. She was a dinner guest of Consul Sato and Mrs. Sato last night. Also outbound will be Sessue Hayakawa, Japanese film actor on a six months' vacation. Among the arrivals were Viscount Yasuharu Matsudaira, member of the Japanese House of Peers, on a tour of the world; Mrs. Sai Amagasa, Japanese harpist; Saburo Chiba, head of a colonization project to Brazil; W. E. Fairbairn, Chief of Police at Shanghai; Col. C. L. Frailey, U.S.A., on globe circuit.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24. (AP)—Roger D. Lapham, president of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, returned to his San Francisco office today after several weeks on the east coast. Lapham's return here followed the return of R. Stanley Dollar, vice-president and general manager of the Dollar Steamship Company, who arrived during the past week. Reports that a merger of the two lines is contemplated were not denied by either of the officials.

Under command of Capt. George V. Richardson, the liner California, with 170 passengers and 2000 tons of cargo, arrived here today from the east coast. Sailing of the vessel from New York was delayed four hours by a dense fog, and she lost another hour at Los Angeles, also because of fog. She made up the time, however, and arrived here on schedule. Among the passengers on the California was Harry Struthers, member of the shipping firm of Struthers & Barry.

SEATTLE, March 24.—The same faith in the business progress of the Pacific Northwest which led the French Line to spend more than $10,000,000 for a fleet of eleven new ships, will take care of future tonnage demands as the need arises.

That was the statement today of Felix Lacheanes-Heude of New York, general passenger manager of the big steamship company, at a luncheon aboard the new motorship Washington, which just arrived in Seattle on her maiden voyage. The Washington was another of the five new passenger carriers which represent the entry of the French Line into the Pacific Coast-European passenger trade. The five passenger liners will be followed by six freighters.

PORTLAND, March 24.—Frozen berries packed in cases will form a part of the steamer Nebraska's cargo when she departs from this port Saturday. The North Pacific Coast line vessel will deliver the berries at Liverpool, Southampton, London and Rotterdam.

The Nebraska, which arrived here yesterday, moved to Westport today to take aboard lumber consignments.

TACOMA, March 24.—The La Touche of the Alaska Steamship Line arrived from the north today with 250,000 feet of Alaskan spruce. The vessel also brought 800 tons of ore.

The American-Hawaiian liner Pennsylvanian is loading 800 tons of copper here for the Atlantic Coast. She has visited other docks, discharging and loading general freight.

Two intercoastal carriers departed Monday. The Paul Luckenbach cleared for Mobile and the Calmar liner Portmar sailed for Baltimore.

Merit Awards in Films Set for April 3

The annual banquet for the announcement and presentation of merit awards by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences will be held at the Ambassador April 3, according to announcement made yesterday by Frank Woods, secretary.

For outstanding achievements in the respective fields of the actor, actress, director, writer, cinematographer, art director and producer in the motion-picture art, seven gold-bronze statuettes will be presented.

As this is the first year the awards cover performances in the new medium of talking pictures there is considerable speculation in Hollywood as to who will receive the honors. The awards are for the period of one year ending July 31, 1929, and the nominations for the distinction came from several hundred members of the academy who represent all major branches of film production.

William C. De Mille, academy president, will preside at the banquet, while arrangements for the affair are in charge of Harry Rapf, Sam Hardy, Reginald Barker, Jack Warner, Arthur Edeson and Al Cohn.

Land for Use as New School Site Purchased

About nine acres of land fronting on Robertson Boulevard near Cattaraugus street was purchased last night by the Board of Education as one-half of the site for a new high school to serve the West Adams district, Culver City and Palms. The price paid was $78,906.81. The board expects to acquire the remainder of the site shortly. No name has been chosen yet for the school nor have building plans been drawn up.

Approval was given by the board last night to architect's plans for a school building at One Hundred and Ninth street and McKinley avenue to replace the existing One Hundred and Ninth street school which comprises twelve bungalows.

WIDENING JOB ASKED

A request that the City Council institute proceedings for the opening and extending of Tulofa avenue from a point 460 feet north of Heffron Drive to Heffron Drive was filed with the Council yesterday by property owners. The width of the proposed street is sixty feet. The matter was referred to the City Engineer and the Street Opening and Widening Committee.

LIFE-SAVING MEDAL PRESENTED

Edison Company's Employee Honored

President Ballard Gives Medal to E. W. Horsley

Edward W. Horsley of Montebello, left, receiving the Insull life-saving medal from R. H. Ballard, president of the Southern California Edison Company. Horsley, foreman of an Edison company service gang in the Whittier district, saved the life of Clarence Coffinberry, an oil company electrician, who had come in contact with a high-voltage conductor.

WHITTIER, March 24.—Edward W. Horsley of 248 South Sixth street, Montebello, a Southern California Edison Company employee who saved the life of a fellow-workman, was awarded the Insull life-saving medal here tonight by R. H. Ballard, president of the Edison company. Horsley is a service-gang foreman in the company's Whittier district. He is the fifth Edison company man to be awarded the medals.

Clarence Coffinberry of Los Angeles, a Getty Oil Company electrician, was saved from death by Horsley at Santa Fe Springs November 5, 1929. Coffinberry came in contact with a 4000-volt line while working in one of the oil company's substations. He fell to the ground apparently dead.

With the aid of J. W. Ferguson of this city, also an Edison company man, Horsley successfully applied the prone-pressure method of resuscitation until Coffinberry was restored to consciousness and was breathing normally. The latter was taken to a hospital for further treatment and several weeks later was able to return to work.

Samuel Insull, president of the Commonwealth Edison Company of Chicago, is the donor of the medal. It is awarded only to public-utility company employees who make use of their training in the Schaefer prone-pressure method of resuscitation to save the life of a shock victim.

Other Edison men who have been awarded the medal are C. J. Gaertner, operator in the Santa Paula substation; J. G. Rhoday, operator in the Fullerton substation; Edgar P. Fees, gang foreman in the Monrovia district, and Fred L. Jones, lineman in the Compton district.

Following the presentation of the medal by Ballard, who praised Horsley for having the presence of mind to make use of his knowledge of life-saving methods when the emergency arose, first-aid teams of the Edison company held a contest and demonstration in the high-school gymnasium. One of the teams was composed of girls representing the company's general offices in Los Angeles.

LETTUCE SEASON'S END SEEN

Official Close in Imperial Valley Marked by Federal and State Bureaus

BRAWLEY, March 24.—The Imperial Valley lettuce season was brought to an official close yesterday when the Federal and State departments of agriculture closed the market bureau station here after sixty-five days of operation. The season's output of lettuce passed the 13,000 carload mark last night.

Some late fields remain to be harvested, but future output is not expected to exceed forty carloads daily, and this will fall off to nothing by April 1. Warm weather during the past three days has caused a rapid decline in shipments.

Aged Pair Held, Charged With Narcotics Sale

RIVERSIDE, March 24. — Police last night arrested W. K. Brown, 72 years of age, and his wife, Nellie Brown, 52, and jailed them on a charge of violating the State Narcotic Act in selling veronel. Brown was held in the County Hospital and Mrs. Brown was incarcerated in the women's ward of the County Jail.

Brown was picked up at Eighth and Orange streets by Officer Paul Scott and a State inspector, and Mrs. Brown later was arrested at their home at 3408 Lemon street. At the City Jail Brown collapsed and had to be removed to the hospital for treatment. Pitiful characters, Mr. and Mrs. Brown have eked out an existence by palm reading, police say. Brown is practically blind and his wife is crippled. Both are said by police to be narcotic addicts.

Police said the couple have sold the veronal obtained under prescription to other persons who came to them ostensibly to have their fortunes told. Mrs. Brown was said to have admitted under questioning that she has taken morphine along with the veronal.

Arrest of the couple followed reports to the police of their operations.

John Coldiron, employee of the Southern California Gas Company here, was the victim of a freak accident yesterday, in which a plug blew out from the end of a gas main and fractured his leg.

Coldiron was working at the plugged end of the main on West Colton avenue, while welders were at work on another part of the pipe line, using blow torches. The heat caused the gas in the line to expand, blowing the wooden plug out of the three-inch line. The injured man was taken to the Redlands Community Hospital.

Former Official of City Drops Dead in Street

SANTA BARBARA, March 24.—Samuel J. Bingham, former City Attorney, dropped dead today at 2 p.m. while walking in the first block of East Carrillo street. He died of a ruptured heart, according to Coroner E. G. Dodge. During the morning and early afternoon, Bingham had been in Superior Court arranging time for hearings. He has been in apparent good health for six months.

The former City Attorney was about 60 years of age. He leaves a widow here. Funeral arrangements will be made later.

HUGE CUCUMBER CROP SLATED FOR VALLEY

NORTH LOS ANGELES, March 24.—George Williams, manager of the H. J. Heinz pickle-curing factory here, is busy this week among local ranchers contracting for acreage for the summer's cucumber crop. It is stated that this year there will be less acreage per grower, but that more growers will be contracted with, thus maintaining the oncoming crop as large as it was last season. Until the recent heavy rains and reports that there would be an abundance of irrigation water this year, growers had been slow in signing cucumber-acreage contracts.

BANDIT PAIR ROB THEATER SAFE

Dapper Unmasked Youths in Bold Daylight Hold-up

Fox-Broadway House at Santa Ana Loses $1840 in Cash

Manager and Two Employees Left Bound and Locked In SANTA ANA, March 24.—One of the boldest crimes ever perpetrated here was staged shortly before noon today, when two dapper, unmasked bandits held up the Fox-Broadway Theater and escaped with $1840 in cash, leaving the theater manager and two employees bound and locked in.

Entering the theater with a mock plea for a "job," the bandits proceeded to stage the "job" as soon as they found their opening.

Finding Janitor Sydney L. Lyle in the foyer of the theater the ywere directed to the office of Manager F. C. Glaab. But they forced Lyle to the manager's doorway ahead of them with a pistol muzzle in his back. Inside of Glaab's office, where the theater safe is located, the bandits quickly covered Glaab and Gene Hargrave, an usher who was with Glabb.

With dispatch one bandit bound the victims' hands behind their backs, while the other bandit stood guard and kept up a brisk flow of comment. Glaab, Hargrave and Lyle were herded into a small adjoining room and locked in there, but not before the bandits had forced Glaab at the point of their guns to unlock the safe. Police departments and sheriff's offices throughout Southern California were notified to keep watch for the bandits, of whom a fair description was given by Glaab and his aides. The two bandits were similarly dressed and looked like neatly attired young business men or clerks, it was said.

Santa Monicans Object to Seal Being 'Kidnaped'

SANTA MONICA, March 24.—An asserted effort to "kidnap" a baby seal, which has figured in the news during the past two months because it continually returns to Santa Monica and plays on the shore near the municipal pier, resulted in a near riot, according to a police report today by Sergt. Rober, who was detailed to the scene of the attempted "kidnaping."

The seal first adopted Santa Monica when Humane Officer Wahlforth cured it, after autoists had brought it in from the rocks above Santa Monica Canyon, where it apparently had been injured. When released it swam gaily off in the general direction of China, but in a few days returned here. Recently it has spent all its time in the shallow surf or ashore, where it has grown tame as a puppy. Fishermen feed it plenty of small fish and the children make much of it.

J. R. Lemmon, 2418½ Walnut avenue, Venice, and W. R. Hayward, 1118 South Truro street, Inglewood, were the men who, according to the police report, attempted to take the seal away. They asserted they had been told to get it for a tank at the Fox Hills Country Club. This tank, officers stated, contains fresh water, and the seal would soon die in it.

Police-Lieutenant Randall declared today that capturing a seal violates a government edict requiring a special permit. No arrest was made, the two men abandoning their plan when they realized the seriousness of the situation and saw how determined the entire waterfront population was to retain its beach visitor from the sea.

FELINE SLIDES DOWN CHIMNEY TO TROUBLE

VENTURA, March 24.—Next time Tiger, the big cat belonging to F. Johnson at the Ventura substation of the Southern California Edison Company, finds himself on a roof top, he will not try to play Santa Claus and slide down the chimney.

Tiger did that some time Saturday night while prowling around his owner's housetop and, as a result, spent several uncomfortable hours at the bottom of a chimney, with no more chance of getting out than the proverbial frog in the well.

His plaintive "meows" for help drew Johnson's notice Sunday. Unable to get his pet out, he called the fire department.

The rescue was performed by Capt. Leslie Ley, who picked a hole in the base of the brick chimney and allowed Tiger, sooty and ashamed, but unhurt, to slink out to a breakfast of cream and liver.

FIREMAN HURT AT BLAZE

Mission Upholstery Plant at San Diego Destroyed; Lieutenant Injured, Helper Overcome

SAN DIEGO, March 24.—A disastrous fire which swept through the mission upholstery plant at Fifth avenue and Elm street early today forced occupants of adjoining apartment-houses to flee to the streets in their night clothing and caused injuries to two fire fighters. The two-story structure which housed the furniture company was burned to the ground and firemen were cleaning up the debris from the ruins today while efforts were being made to reach the owner of the building.

Early estimates place the damage to the building and stock at $30,000, although this figure lacks confirmation as Max Adler, 4759 Hawley Boulevard, owner, is believed to be in Los Angeles. He is expected to return tomorrow.

William McPhee, 1803 Fifth avenue, was walking along that street shortly after midnight when he noticed the blazing interior of the structure, and placed the first alarm.

When Battalion Chief J. H. Wood of Station No. 1 arrived at the fire, he said flames were shooting out of every window and the entire inside of the building was aflame. Fire Lieutenant Dewey Freeberg received a cut hand and Fireman M. Herman was overcome by the smoke and received injuries to his eyes while battling the blaze.

Due to the fact that the building was reduced to a blackened ruin efforts to determine where the fire started were rendered almost impossible.

Fire Marshall Earl Newton began an investigation of the blaze and announced that an exploding can of lacquer in the storeroom of the building might have started the fire.

An apartment building at 1745 Fifth avenue, the north wall of which abuts the burned building, was damaged slightly. Several windows in the apartment building were broken and water being played on the burning structure entered the apartment-house. Occupants of this structure as well as another near the burning building fled to the street.

Electric light wires leading to the building were burned down when the blaze was at its height and fell to the street, but despite the fact that more than 3000 persons witnessed the fire, none was injured.

Three alarms brought all available downtown fire apparatus to the scene, but outlying equipment moved to downtown stations and maintained a reserve in case of another conflagration.

Firemen battled for three hours before bringing the blaze under control and several companies stood by until dawn extinguishing smoldering embers and to prevent fresh outbreaks.

HIGHWAY DISTRICT ORGANIZED

Counties of Riverside and Orange in Joint Move for Elsinore-to-Coast Road

RIVERSIDE, March 24.—Formal organization of the Riverside-Orange counties joint highway district for the construction of a $675,000 highway connecting Lake Elsinore with the coast road at San Juan Capistrano was completed today by the Board of Supervisors. Supervisor T. C. Jameson of Corona was chosen as Riverside county representative of the board. Drafts of the resolutions were presented by Dist.-Atty. L. W. Blodgett of Orange county.

Supervisor George Jeffrey of Orange county and Mayor Frank Champion of Laguna Beach will represent Orange county on the joint district board. A. C. Fulmor, Riverside county surveyor, will act as engineer for the new district. Papers will be forwarded to the State department immediately for approval, and a number will be assigned to the new joint district.

Supervisor Jeffrey stated today that the first $75,000 of the State funds will be made available at once for use of the district. The two counties will not be required to put in any money until after the beginning of the next fiscal year, when both will budget for the road.

Suicide Removes False Teeth and Then Fires Shot

BURBANK, March 24.—Before killing himself, J. A. White, local contractor, removed his false teeth, police reported today, after investigating the death. White was 58 years of age, and lived at 833 Grinnell street. A party of hikers found the body Sunday in Wildwood Canyon, north of here, and notified Police Chief Berg. Capt. Hampton and Detective Hoehn investigated and reported that White removed his false teeth in order to hold in his mouth the muzzle of a .22-caliber rifle, which he fired, a bullet lodging in his brain. He had been dead twenty-four hours when found.

White lived here for twenty years. He was arrested on a liquor charge a year ago, and while in the Burbank police station, he jumped out of a window, breaking one ankle. In spite of this injury he escaped and hid for a day. Police say he has had financial difficulties. He leaves a wife, a son, and two daughters.

BOND ELECTION UP TODAY

Montecito Water District to Vote Upon Proposed $200,000 Issue for Litigation and Building

SANTA BARBARA, March 24.—In addition to the election of directors for the year, the people of the Montecito Water District will tomorrow vote upon a bond issue for $200,000. The majority of the sum is to meet the cost of litigation to protect the watershed area in the recent suits by the Santa Ynez Valley ranchers and to meet possible future litigation, although $45,000 is needed for construction work.

The heavy cost of recent litigation over rights to water in the Santa Ynez Valley and the expediency of adding to the program certain items of construction not previously contemplated, have made it necessary to raise $200,000, itemized as follows:

"To cover the expense of the prosecution and trial of the case of Gin Chow, et al, vs. City of Santa Barbara and Montecito Water District to December 31, 1929, advanced out of construction funds, and estimated additional expense in lower court, $80,000.

"To create an emergency litigation reserve fund to meet the expense of a possible appeal of the Gin Chow case, and other possible law suits which are threatened, $75,000.

"To construct Reservoir No. 4 in Montecito, to supplement the Bothin, San Ysidro and Carpenter reservoirs in the regulation of the water pressure and supply for domestic uses, for protection, $25,000.

"To meet expenses of State inspection of Juncal Dam, required by recent law, to carry out the commission's recommendations, to meet the cost of certain minor additions and modifications considered necessary by the board, to cover items of expense not possible to anticipate, $20,000. Total $200,000."

Five directors are to be elected. They are all at present in office and have been nominated for re-election. They are John A. Jameson, P. O. Buell, H. B. Drake, H. L. Hitchcock, and A. Ogilvy. They all signed the statement to voters explaining the purposes of the election as quoted above, and believe that a bond issue, rather than taxation to meet the entire amount at once, is the best solution of the matter.

Boy Hunter Shot By His Own Gun

MONTEREY PARK, March 24.—Earl Millard, 15 years of age, 211 North Sierra Vista street, is at home recovering from a bullet wound in the shoulder accidentally self-inflicted Sunday afternoon while hunting rabbits on the Garvey ranch here, according to a Sheriff's office report.

Young Millard was injured, investigating officers reported, when the trigger of a small-caliber gun caught on a twig and discharged the weapon while he was prodding in a hole in the ground with the butt. The gun, according to the report, was owned by Aloysius Ocome, 13, 521 North New avenue, who was accompanying Millard.

The injured boy was given treatment at the Garfield Hospital, where his condition was pronounced not serious.

Intruder Robs Home of Sisters

HUNTINGTON PARK, March 24. While Winnie and Grace Ackley, residing in a cottage on Middleton street, were asleep in their home at an early hour yesterday morning, Winnie was suddenly awakened to discover a man standing near the bedside. She screamed, awakening her sister, when the robber took to his heels, running through a bathroom, closet, front room and then out of the kitchen door, making his escape.

Police were called, and a description of the man given. The two sisters discovered that $16 had been taken from one purse and $1.95 from another, both purses having been placed on the dresser.

They had left the kitchen door unlocked during the night, it was reported to officers.

MUSHROOMS DOT LANDSCAPE

All Valley Residents Need Is Thick Steak to Make Perfect Picture

NORTH LOS ANGELES, March 24. — There is a new crop that all of a sudden has sprung up in San Fernando Valley. The recent heavy rains have had something to do with it. Wild mushrooms have popped up in fields and alongside roads and highways. Scores of families in this section within the last day or two have been bringing home bucketsful and adding them to the supper steak or salad.

"Mushroom experts" in these parts caution all residents to be careful and not mistake the mushrooms for poisonous toadstools which usually grow near wild mushroom beds. These mushrooms are white with a brown spot at the top, and are pink underneath. When cooking mushrooms, it is pointed out by local experts, put a silver spoon in the cooking vessel. If the spoon is blackened bury the "mess" so the dogs, cats or chickens can't reach it.

Local agricultural advisers in accounting for the mushrooms say they indicate the richness of San Fernando Valley soil, especially when this soil is heavily watered.

ENSENADA HIGHWAY IN VIEW

Gov. Tapia Goes to City of Mexico for Conference on Plans for Concession

MEXICALI, March 24.—For the purpose of conferring with Federal officials relative to the granting of a concession for the installation of a paved highway between Tia Juana and Ensenada to American capitalists and to discuss other problems in the administration of Lower California, Gov. Tapia left last night by train for a three weeks' visit to Mexico City. The Governor was accompanied by S. B. Reichle, commercial agent in Tia Juana for the Mexican government, and a party of friends.

The Ensenada road project, Tapia said, now is taking definite form, and he expressed confidence that a contract would be signed and the highway under construction by next fall.

Before leaving the Governor assured residents of this city and Calexico that he would arrange to have a new wireless station installed to replace the present equipment. The Federal station in use here now makes radio reception impossible in this district during several hours of each day. The new equipment is designed to eliminate the present interference.

BANDIT BEATS VICTIM BUT GETS NO MONEY

CASTAIC, March 24.—Sheriff's office investigators today are seeking a would-be hold-up man who apparently lost his nerve and fled after beating his intended victim. Entering the Richfield Beacon service station at Castaic Junction shortly before midnight Sunday, the bandit commanded Jack Nelson, the attendant, to put up his hands and then commenced to beat him, Nelson told deputies. Believed to have become alarmed, the man ran into the darkness and escaped without taking any money. Nelson telephoned for aid and was given emergency treatment at the Newhall Emergency Hospital.

RANCHER SHOT; DIES OF WOUND

Fred Churchill, Coachella Valley Veteran, Succumbs

"Texas Jack," Peddler of Curios, Admits Shooting

Self-Defense in Quarrel Asserted by Latter

INDIO, March 24.—Fred Churchill, well-known rancher of the Coachella Valley and a veteran of the World War, died this morning in the County Hospital at Riverside from a gunshot wound received yesterday in an altercation with J. C. Sherwood, known as "Texas Jack," an itinerant peddler who travels through the valley.

According to Sherwood's story, he went to the Churchill ranch about fifteen miles east of here to trade with some Mexicans, and Churchill ordered him off the place. Sherwood says he left immediately and went out to the highway, where he stopped to close up the compartments of his car.

He declares Churchill followed him to the road, heaping abuse upon him, and that finally, when he started to get into his car, Churchill pulled him out and struck him. Sherwood had a gun on the seat of his car and he says he grabbed this to protect himself.

Sherwood grappled with him and in the scuffle the gun was discharged, shooting Churchill through the arm and the abdomen. Sherwood hailed a truck, which brought Churchill here. He followed in his own car and gave himself up. He was placed in the local jail and later removed to the County Jail in Riverside. As the local hospital was full, Churchill also was taken to Riverside. Churchill was a member of the local Legion post. He had no family.

Brush Fire in Canyon Sweeps Large Acreage

ALTA LOMA, March 24.—After 200 acres of brush land were swept by flames last night in the foothills east of Cucamonga Canyon, a stiff north wind died down and today fire fighters had the blaze under control. The fire broke out about 1 a.m. today and fanned by the north wind, was soon roaring over the brush land.

Fire Warden Victor Cherbak was notified and a call sent to the Federal station at San Dimas and the county forester station at San Bernardino. County Fire Warden Parks and a crew of men were dispatched to the scene at once.

By dawn the wind had died down and the damp ground aided the fire fighters in bringing the fire under control. Origin of the fire was unknown today, but as scores of campers and outers were in the region Sunday it is felt one of them is responsible for the outbreak.

Today's fire was the first of the season in this vicinity.

Two Youths Rob Service Station

HUNTINGTON PARK, March 24. Two youthful bandits, shortly after 9 p.m. yesterday, stepped from an automobile which had been parked for some time on Seville avenue, across from the gasoline station owned by Carl J. Hensen, at the corner of Seville and Slauson avenues, and one of them, going up to the attendant, who was a few feet from the station door, stuck a revolver into his side and demanded him to step into the place. The other bandit had already entered the station door and was unable to open the cash register.

The bandit with the revolver marched Battle into the station, demanding that he place the key in one of the locks in the register, but the latter informed the hold-up men that he did not have it. They finally broke it open and escaped with $35.28.

Both were said to have been about 20 years of age, one five feet ten and the other six feet in height. One wore a black suit and the other a gray suit. The tall bandit weighed about 180 pounds and the smaller one about 148.

OWEN D. YOUNG ENDS SILENCE

Reparations Plan Author Speaks at Berkeley

International Significance Given U.C. Jubilee

America Declared Too Rich for World to Love

BERKELEY, March 24. (AP)—With Owen D. Young, author of the reparations plan, as the principal speaker, the University of California today observed its sixty-second charter day anniversary in the Greek Theater.

Gov. Young led the academic procession from the campanile to the open-air theater, where President W. W. Campbell presided at the exercises and conferred honorary degrees of doctor of law upon Owen D. Young and three others. These were W. W. Bradley, San Francisco, internationally known mining engineer and an alumnus of the university; Prof. Otto Stern, director of the Institute of Physical Chemistry of Hamburg, Germany, now lecturing on the Berkeley campus, and Bernard Maybeck, who had much to do with the designing of the campus plan and the buildings on it.

YOUNG'S ADDRESS

International significance was attached to today's event by reason of Young's address, who broke the silence that has marked his return from the last reparations conference in Paris.

Taking for his subject, "The Relationship of Economics to Politics in International Co-operation," the speaker explained the part each had played in settling the obligations incurred by the nations during the World War. Politics he delineated as the "gaudy mistress" of the world, "eternally at outs with economics, the force of which pays the bills and keeps the wheels turning."

AMERICA TOO RICH

"I have great confidence in Germany's ability to pay, although only time will tell whether the burden placed upon her shoulders is too great for her to bear," he said.

"Nothing is clearer from the experience of the last ten years than the necessity of keeping our economic machinery free from the domination of politics.

"Isolation of America, either economic or political, is impossible. Let no man think that the living standards of this company can be permanently maintained at a measurably higher level than those of other civilized nations.

"America is too rich to be loved. She is well off enough to be envied."

MEXICO CITY PLANS FAST AIR SERVICE

Passenger-and-Mail Line to Los Angeles Making One-Day Runs Proposed

MEXICO CITY, March 24. (AP)—One-day airplane passenger and mail service from Mexico City to Los Angeles and return is planned by the Mexican Aeronautical Transport Corporation, which has operated passenger-and-mail lines from Mexico City to El Paso and from Brownsville to Mazatlan during most of the last year.

It is said the projected service will be one of the longest one-day passenger lines in existence, more than 1500 miles, which will be negotiated in day-long flying.

Theodore Hull, president of the company, now is arranging with Mexico and the United States for establishment of the line, which would be routed via Zacatecas, Torreon, Chihuahua City, Nacozari, Cananea, Nogales and San Diego. A change of planes would be effected at Nogales.

Mexico City is connected with Los Angeles with two-plane service, planes of the Pickwick Airways breaking their journey at Los Mochis, Sin. It is asserted that to operate the new service planes will have to maintain an average cruising speed of about 160 miles an hour.

HALO COURTED BY CHICAGOANS

Chamber Declares Crime Reputation Passing

Achievements in Commerce Being Told World

Campaign of Wholesome Publicity Projected

CHICAGO, March 24. (Exclusive)—Chicago, hitherto maligned as a city where crime held sway, has at last begun to cast aside that clouded reputation and to stand before the world as a leader in commerce and many other fields of endeavor. This is the picture drawn in a statement made public today by the Chicago Association of Commerce.

The transformation is attributed to an awakened public conscience, which inspired the association of Commerce to launch a campaign that would reveal the city as it is, and not as it has been painted.

OPINION SWINGS

"A noticeable swing in world opinion from a former attitude of hostility toward Chicago to one of appreciation, and in many instances even of admiration, has occurred during the last six months," said the statement prepared by Col. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the association.

"Three books, articles in four of the nation's leading magazines and 30,000 newspaper clippings from over the world, all of a laudatory nature, have been received by the association's publicity department within the last thirty days."

PICTURE TO BE CHANGED

Supplanting the former overdrawn picture of crime and corruption, millions of newspaper readers, Col. Randolph pointed out, are getting a picture of Chicago as a city of progress in education, in the arts, and in commerce.

The association's campaign, when completed, will include a series of motion pictures, booklets advertising Chicago, a co-operative plan with widely known lecturers, a monthly pictorial magazine edited by women's clubs in support of the Chicago Beautiful League, and distribution of information on Chicago by hotels and railroads serving the city. All of these activities will be directed toward heralding the name of Chicago as a good, peacefull and progressive city.

GAMBLING CENTER ON LAST LEGS

Shares in Monte Carlo Company Fall Off Half; Receipts at Low Ebb

MONTE CARLO, March 24. (AP)—Twelve months ago the shares of the Societe Bains de Mer, the holding company running the famous casino here, sold for 13,000 francs. Today they are expensive at 7000 francs. A last-minute effort to save the gambling center of the world from disaster is being made.

Gamblers of twenty years ago would scarcely know the casino. In the "itchen" or public room, the "no smoking" signs have been taken down and even a pipe is in order. Thick carpets cover the former polished floors. Easy chairs are everywhere.

Three new bars have been installed and drinks are cheaper than at any other place on the Riviera. A real crap game will shortly commence in an annex.

The falling off in receipts from the Monte Carlo casino has created a troublesome political situation in the tiny principality. Lean years have been frequent of late. Monacans pay no taxes, and all public improvements must come from the money passed over the casino tables.

Two parties are battling for control of the revenues and for lessening the powers of the dynasty. The issue will be decided at elections on the 30th inst.

SACRAMENTO, March 24. (AP)—Motion to dismiss appeal of the suit of the city of Los Angeles against the Mono county Supervisors over 1916-17 taxes on land in Mono county owned by Los Angeles was argued in the Third District Court of Appeal here today.

and Listerine meets them all

1 Kills 200,000,000 germs in 15 seconds. (Fastest killing time accurately recorded by science.) This is 20 times faster than government requirements.

2 Has penetrating power equal to 3% solution of carbolic acid.

3 Absolutely safe to use; non-poisonous, non-caustic.

4 Passes all tests of the Bureau of Chemistry of the United States Government, and is approved by three nationally known laboratories, and The Lancet of London, outstanding medical journal.

PENETRATION TEST OF LISTERINE ANTISEPTIC Staphylococcus Aureus Nutrient Agar + 10% Blood Serum (From an actual photograph. Note the larger area free of germs, proving Listerine's effectiveness.)

Laboratory tests show that full-strength Listerine kills not only the pus and typhoid germs in 15 seconds, but also such dangerous invaders as the Streptococcus, pneumonia, catarrh, influenza and acidophilus odontolycus germs type I and type II.

In the prevention and treatment of disease, medical science has made mighty strides forward in the last decade.

As a result, greater efficiency is demanded of antiseptics and germicides. Those which cannot meet these new requirements are rejected. Those which can meet them find wholesale acceptance. Listerine has successfully passed every scientific test to which it has been put. More than adequately, it has met every modern requirement.

These triumphs, preceded by fifty years of use in the hands of physician and layman alike, establish it as the antiseptic best suited to personal use—safe and healing in effect, yet with power to kill germs in the fastest time possible to measure accurately.

Listerine passes germicidal test in three great laboratories

The standard method used by the Bureau of Chemistry of the U. S. Government to test germ killing power and the penetration of an antiseptic in the presence of body fluids, is the Reddish Germicidal Method. Using this exact technique, three bacteriological laboratories of national repute in New York, Philadelphia, and Boston, have tested Listerine repeatedly.

Their records show that full strength Listerine Kills Staphylococcus Aureus (the pus germ) and Bacillus Typhosus (the typhoid germ) in counts ranging to 200,000,000 in 15 seconds.

Kills twenty times as fast as U. S. Government requires

To qualify as an antiseptic or germicide, under Government standards, a preparation must kill Staphylococcus Aureus (the pus germ) within five minutes.

Note that full strength Listerine kills this germ in 15 seconds—twenty times as fast as required.

Special Note: In the measurement of killing power, 15 seconds is the quickest time science has been able to record accurately. Any claims by others of speedier killing are open to serious question.

Listerine's penetrating power enables it to reach germs readily

To destroy germs a germicide must first be able to reach them when they lie below the surface of tissue. Obviously penetrating power is vital to the value of any solution. Listerine has this power to an amazing degree. Using the accurate Petri dish method, the three laboratories mentioned above show Listerine to actually have penetrating power equal to a 3% solution of carbolic acid.

Acclaimed by "Lancet," high medical authority

No higher endorsement can be given an antiseptic and germicide than that of The Lancet of London. This great medical journal never bestows approval on a practice or a product until it has been thoroughly tested. After conducting its own research, The Lancet unreservedly endorses Listerine as a safe antiseptic of high germicidal potency.

Listerine—non-poisonous, non-toxic, absolutely safe

Listerine may be safely used full strength in any body cavity. It is non-poisonous, non-irritating, and actually has a soothing and healing effect on tissue.

Contrast these qualities with those of harsh, metallic, or poisonous solutions which damage tissue. This factor of safety cannot be overestimated, especially if any antiseptic is to be kept in a home where there are children.

Effective against sore throat, dandruff, and halitosis because germicidal

Listerine has been found to be an excellent treatment for a great many ailments. Many of these ailments are alike in that they are caused by germs. And Listerine's success in checking them is due primarily to its germicidal power.

As a mouth wash and gargle it is highly successful in preventing colds and sore throat which are of germ origin and in checking them once they have taken hold.

Many dermatologists agree that dandruff also is a germ infection. If this be true, you can understand why Listerine is accepted as a superior treatment for dandruff. In addition to its germicidal action, Listerine has remarkable cleansing powers. Moreover, it dissolves and removes the loose particles of dandruff.

Halitosis (unpleasant breath) yields to Listerine first because Listerine is a powerful deodorant. When halitosis is caused by infections of the nose, mouth, gums, or throat, Listerine gets at the seat of the trouble by attacking the infection itself.

It is always wise to use Listerine full strength; in this way you are certain of its effect. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

Hancock Oil Net Income Sharply Up

Hancock Oil Company of California for the second fiscal quarter, ended February 28, last, showed net income after all charges, including depreciation, depletion, intangible development costs and provision for Federal taxes, of $213,342.38, an increase of $58,234.16, or nearly 38 per cent over the previous quarter earnings of $155,108.22, according to a report issued yesterday by Will J. Reid, president.

The second quarter net income is equivalent to 93 cents a share on all stock outstanding at the close of the period, as compared with 70 cents a share for the previous three months, the report stated.

Gross operating income for the second quarter totaled $2,193,451.44. Gross earnings from operations after costs of raw material, operating and general expenses of $1,825,519.87, amounted to $366,931.57. From this was deducted $39,339.07 for depreciation; $47,671.17 for depletion and lease amortization; $37,953.45 for intangible development costs, and $28,625.50 for Federal taxes, leaving net income at $213,342.38.

The present company on September 1, last, took over its predecessor company of similar name, stock in the new Delaware corporation being issued for shares of the old company.

Radiator Report Traces Building Volume Decline

NEW YORK, March 24. (AP)—Reflecting the decline in building activity last year, the report of American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corporation, published today, shows net profits for 1929 of $20,012,171, equivalent to $2.02 per common share, against $21,019,788 or $2.27 a share, in 1928.

The corporation was organized a year ago as a consolidation of the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Manufacturing companies.

Reviewing the decrease in construction that accompanied the high interest rates attendant upon the period of stock speculation the report calls attention to the recent ease in interest rates and adds:

"If history repeats itself the present downward trend of interest rates should continue, and in the absence of conditions not presently discernible, a revival of demand for mortgages will in due course impel a general revival of building activity. The building industry, however, must expect a declining demand for services and materials until construction operations are quickened into normal volume by financial and credit conditions which will re-establish a broad demand for mortgage securities. Recent developments indicate steady progress in such direction."

TRUSTS OVERLOOK COAST

Few California Stocks Appear in Portfolios of Leading Investing Companies; Consolidated Gas First

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Pacific Coast companies have yet to win a full measure of recognition in the eastern markets. Several recent compilations of popular stocks in the portfolios of investment trusts disclose a considerable number of the Coast favorities, but neither the ranking nor the number are satisfactory to the partisans of Pacific Coast issues.

One comprehensive analysis of seventy-seven investment trusts covering 109 different stocks ranks Pacific Lighting, Pacific Gas and Electric and Standard Oil of California in the first thirty. Another analysis covering fifty-eight investment trusts places Pacific Gas in twelfth place among the favorites, Southern California Edison, twenty-second, and Pacific Lighting, twenty-sixth.

In the second analysis the only other Coast issues mentioned are Southern Pacific and Standard Oil of California. The first list includes neither Southern California Edison nor Southern Pacific.

LIGHTING FAVORED

Pacific Lighting is the first Coast stock to appear on the first list, ranking twenty-fifth. Next is Pacific Gas as twenty-eighth and Standard of California as thirtieth. Ranking ahead of the California Standard company on this list are Standard of New Jersey, Gulf Oil and Texas Corporation.

Nearly a dozen additional Pacific Coast stocks might be suggested, and many of them would compare favorably with those ranked well up on the lists of investment trust favorites. Such a list would include Pacific Telephone, Caterpillar Tractor, California Packing, Union Oil of California, Pacific Mutual, Claude Neon of Delaware, Gladding McBean, Western Air Express, Crown Zellerbach, Paraffine and many others. In this group is a cross-section of Pacific Coast business that any investment trust would do well to consider as either investors or speculators.

BANKS NEGLECTED

While banking institutions were not very well represented in investment trust portfolios at the end of the year, the Pacific Coast can offer a number of bank stocks comparing favorably in earnings and prospects with the stocks of eastern banks. Among the better known are Transamerica Corporation, the bank holding company, Security-First National, Anglo-London-Paris National, Citizens' National, California, etc.

Relative neglect of Pacific Coast stocks by investment trusts might be attributed to lack of first-hand information by the larger eastern trusts of operations and management on this coast. It is also possible that the managements of the Coast companies are at fault in not exploiting their companies more fully in the eastern markets.

Investment trust managers evidently pick their leading issues from those operating in and adjacent to the larger eastern centers of population. The first ten on one list, for illustration, are: Consolidated Gas, American Telephone, Union Carbide, Electric Bond & Share, General Electric, New York Central, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Columbia Gas and Electric, Atchison and Gillette Safety Razor.

UTILITY EARNINGS POINT UP

Nevada-California Net Income for February in 27 Per Cent Gain

February consolidated net income of the Nevada-California Electric Corporation and subsidiaries amounted to $65,759.04 after all charges, against $51,670.50 in February, 1929, an increase of $14,088.94 or about 27 per cent, according to a statement issued yesterday by the company.

The corporation controls a group of utilities, including the Southern Sierras Power Company, and its chain of properties stretches throughout California from the latitude of San Francisco to the Mexican border, including the citrus and agricultural sections of Southern California. Ninety per cent of the properties of its subsidiaries are located in this State.

Gross operating earning in February increased $30,483.60 over February last year and amounted to $493,174.19. Operating expenses increased $17,116.94 to $256,400.72 and the net operating income was $236,773.47, up $13,366.66.

While the gross operating revenues for the twelve months ended February 28, last, increased more than $200,000 over the gross for the preceding year and amounted to $5,724,003.03, the net earnings after all charges decreased from $1,077,758.99 to $1,019,708.47.

Miss Stoermer Given Title by Bank of Italy

With the merging of the women's banking department of the Bank of Italy with the general banking department of the main office at Seventh and Olive streets, H. R. Erkes, vice-president and chairman of the board of management of the Los Angeles division, yesterday announced the promotion of Grace S. Stoermer to the post of assistant vice-president.

Pointing out that few women in the banking world have received such recognition, Mr. Erkes said that Miss Stoermer's advancement was the result of her ability and outstanding work in the organization and development of the local women's banking department.

Miss Stoermer will now take her place with other executives on the main floor of the bank, where the whole official force of the institution will be more readily available to the women customers. Previous to her affiliation with the bank, she held the position of secretary of the California Legislature and for the past six years she has represented the Association of Bank Women as vice-president of the western division.

Clifton Miller Made Partner of White-Weld

Admission of Clifton M. Miller to partnership in the New York investment-banking house of White, Weld & Co., effective April 1, was announced yesterday. Mr. Miller, who was formerly engaged in investment banking on the Pacific Coast, retired recently as a partner of Dillon, Read & Co.

Beginning on the Pacific Coast after graduation from Stanford, Mr. Miller a year later went to New York with Blair & Co. After discharge from the air service he was given the territory of Ohio and Kentucky for Blair & Co. In 1920 he joined Dillon, Read & Co. and shortly afterward opened offices on the Pacific Coast for this company. During the following four years he was active in originating important financing on the west coast and in the Orient.

In the early part of 1924, soon after the earthquake in Japan, he spent some time in that country and arranged the first dollar loan to the Great Consolidated Electric Power Company, which was the first Japanese external loan for a private enterprise to be publicly offered in the United States.

In 1925 Mr. Miller again took up his residence in New York and for the past few years has been a general partner of Dillon, Read & Co.

White, Weld & Co. was originally established in 1895 and has been active in financing many important enterprises. The house is represented on the directorates of such companies as American Power and Light, American Chicle, Baldwin Locomotive, Bullard Company, Central Hanover Bank and Trust, Fidelity and Casualty of New York, International Agricultural Corporation, Kelsey-Hayes Wheel, Marine Midland Corporation, Mid-Continent Petroleum, McCall Corporation, Pacific Coast Company and others. Memberships are held on the New York Stock Exchange.

SINCLAIR TO KEEP MARKETING AGENCY

NEW YORK, March 24. (AP)—Harry F. Sinclair, chairman of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation, said today that plans are under way for the expansion of the corporation's marketing facilities. He did not give any further details, but denied they were to be taken over by one of the Standard Oil companies. "Our marketing facilities are vital and are not for sale," he said. "Rather than reduce them, we contemplate their expansion. The report (of their sale) is not only untrue, but it is utterly ridiculous."

PICKWICK ANNOUNCES NEW RIGHTS

Stockholders of Stage Company Offered Issue of Preferred at $10

Pickwick Corporation stockholders have been given the right to subscribe to one share of 7 per cent preferred stock with stock purchase warrants attached at $10 a share for each six shares of common or preferred held of record the 19th inst., Charles F. Wren, president, announced yesterday. The offering comprises a new 150,000-share issue, any unsubscribed balance of which will be offered to the general public.

The new issue is being offered to provide additional capital necessary to cover the corporation's proportionate interest in the acquisition by Pacific Transportation Securities, Inc., of a one-third interest in the Motor Transit Corporation of Los Angeles. The other two-thirds interest will be owned by the Pacific Electric Railway Company, subject to the approval of the State Railroad Commission. Additional funds are also needed as a result of the acquisition of Pacific Auto Stages. The stock-purchase warrants will entitle the holder to purchase an equal number of shares of common stock at varying prices to May 1, 1934.

New financing scheduled for the market this week, according to announcements yesterday, include an initial issue of 100,000 shares of no par participating Class A stock of Twin States Natural Gas Company, incorporated under Delaware laws to own and operate natural-gas properties in Kentucky and West Virginia. This financing has been underwritten by E. R. Diggs & Co., Inc.

A syndicate including H. M. Byllesby & Company, W. C. Langley & Co., the N. W. Harris Company, A. C. Allyn & Co., and the Henry Schroder Banking Corporation will shortly offer new financing by the Standard Gas and Electric Company amounting to approximately $10,000,000 in the form of 100,000 shares of 6 per cent cumulative prior preference stock, probably at prices to yield a little better than 6 per cent.

Marshall Due to Join Staff of Pacific Co.

Wallace A. Marshall, director of E. H. Rollins & Sons, national investment banking house, and sales manager for its Los Angeles office, has resigned from the company to accept a vice-presidency and membership on the board of directors of the Pacific Co., it was announced yesterday. He will assume his new duties about April 7.

Mr. Marshall has been associated with the Los Angeles office of E. H. Rollins & Sons for more than twelve years and has been sales manager about ten years. He was elected to the directorate in 1927.

In 1923 he organized the Bond Sales Association, which consists of sales managers of the various investment houses in the city, which has been largely instrumental in establishing the code of ethics and sales methods here on a high plane. He is also vice-president of the Los Angeles chapter of the Investment Bankers' Association of America.

The Pacific Co. has several offices in California and is affiliated with the Pacific Finance Company.

Street Lighting Concern Expands

Operations during the past year of Marbelite Corporation of America were conducted satisfactorily with considerable progress by the Chicago subsidiary following its merger with two other manufacturers of concrete standards, and through the appointment of agents in various western States, Emerson D. Hall, president and general manager, told stockholders at a recent annual meeting. Officers and directors were re-elected.

The company is also making progress in the manufacture of concrete masonry, the demand for which is growing, he said. The company holds the patents to the machines for manufacturing concrete bricks and plans to lease them out on a royalty basis. The regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share on the preferred stock was declared payable April 10 to stockholders of record the 31st inst.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, March 24. (AP)—Recent extended advances were followed by reactions in cotton prices here today under realizing or liquidation promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables and evidences of an easier technical position. Declines of 30 or 40 points from Saturday's closing quotations brought in some trade buying and covering, but the demand was not active or aggressive and the midafternoon market was quiet at net declines of 20 to 25 points.

WHEAT ESTIMATE BEARISH

Agricultural Economist Puts Carryover Larger Than Record by 50,000,000 Bushels

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, March 24.—One of the most disastrous years in agriculture is drawing to a close. The 1929-30 farm income—about a billion dollars less than the none too good year of 1928-29—will be so considered in the coming years.

Dr. Bernhard Ostrolenk, well-known agricultural economist, believes that the carryover of wheat will be 50,000,000 bushels larger than the record carryover of last year, while the new crop promises to be normal. He thinks wheat prices will be even lower than those that prevail today.

Unless farmers in the cotton and wheat regions, by some mysterious method, cut their acreage and eliminate the huge surpluses of the past, the farm situation is not going to be very much better.

"As for industry," says this economist, "the very conditions that make for farm depression are helping in the industrial sections. Low food prices will increase the purchasing power of the urban and semiurban sections, comprising about 85 per cent of the population and, as in the past decade, a new industrial prosperity will be built on farm distress."

Many business and professional men now believe, however, that no permanent prosperity can come to the nation unless agriculture, too, is revived.

If dividends paid by corporations in the United States were evenly divided, every person would have received $65 in 1929. The per capita income in the United States for 1929 was estimated by Dr. W. I. King, an expert in this field, at about $760, dividends contributing a little less than 9 per cent of the total.

Dr. David Friday estimates that the total dividend payments last year reached $8,000,000,000, compared to $6,900,000,000 in 1928 and $6,423,000,000 in 1927.

However, figures show the per capita incomes and dividends received are purely theoretical. Millions of people never have received a dividend in their lives. They never had money enough to invest in a $100 bond. So when one speaks of the average man receiving so much, he is talking about a person that never existed and never will.

But for those lucky ones who have invested in conservative stocks and high-grade bonds the outlook is excellent. Dividends should remain high for several years, basing that estimate on present momentum—for hundreds of millions have been left in undivided profits made in the recent flush years.

Encyclopedia Americana is authority for the statement that the women of the United States own more than half of all the stock of the great industries, railroads and public utilities—in value about $60,000,000,000.

If the national wealth of the United States was $360,000,000,000 in 1928, according to the national industrial conference board, the per capita wealth is about $3000. Women's investment is about one-sixth.

Investment Banking
—A Factor in Pacific Coast Development

Public financing has enabled our states, our cities, counties, school districts and other municipal corporations, our public utilities, our realty-owning companies, and our industrial concerns to construct improvements and extend facilities to keep pace with the growth of the Pacific Coast. Through no other channel can such progress be accomplished.

As underwriters of investment securities, Dean Witter & Co. and other houses of origination serve as the vehicle for providing the funds required for these purposes. Investors in the securities, in turn, are the ultimate source of this assembled capital.

Sound investments
presuppose intelligent and conservative underwriting.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK. March 24. (AP)—Firm money was accompanied by a sharp reduction in the bond market's activity today. Trading assumed much smaller proportions as call loans held at the renewal rate of 4 per cent. Thirty to sixty-day time accommodations were quoted at 3¾ to 4, ¼ of 1 per cent above last Friday's figures.

Transactions in New York Stock Exchange bonds totaled approximately $13,000,000, or about $10,000,000 below the Friday volume. This decreased demand found prices generally steady around the recent highs, although small net declines were rather numerous.

Oil company bonds were active and firm. Colon convertible 6s rose 3 points. Shell Union, Sinclair and Standard issues, as well as the Texas Corporation convertible 5s, turned over actively, while Transcontinental 6½s with warrants advanced a point.

Miscellaneous firm spots in the domestic list included International Match 5s, New York Central 5s, Warner Brothers Pictures 6s, Chile Copper 5s and American and International Telephone 5s.

American Telephone convertible 4½s led the stock feature issues, rising 2¼ net. Missouri Pacific 5½s went to a new 1929 high on a rise of 1 point. New Haven 6s also squeezed past their previous 1930 peak for a net gain of ½.

United States governments were steady and quiet. Irregularity marked the foreign section. Belgium 7s crossed 109 to a new high, but then reacted.

New offerings scheduled for tomorrow include $18,000,000 in Cleveland Union Terminal Company first mortgage 4½s, due in 1977 and priced at 98. Associated Gas and Electric Company is marketing an additional $10,000,000 in 5 per cent debentures at 91.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

Total sales today, $12,684,000; previous day, $8,405,000; week ago, $14,319,000; year ago, $9,973,000; two years ago, $11,358,000; January 1 to date, $690,223,000; same year ago, $607,880,000; same two years ago, $778,488,000.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24. (AP)—Pool operations came back into the Montgomery street markets with a rush today and marked up several favorites. Leaders were Pacific Gas, Pacific Lighting and Honolulu Oil, all among the seven stocks setting 1930 peak prices, and all up 3 to 6 points or better.

Activity gathered momentum, turnover reaching 63,297 shares with sales absorbing $2,388,613. Bond were in nominal demand at $8000. Interest centered in utility and oil stocks.

Pacific Lighting put its 1930 peak at 102, up 6¾. Pacific Gas sold at 70⅛, a new top, up 3⅛. Pacific Gas preferred at 27⅝ and Pacific Lighting rights at 5 were also in new high altitudes, although only fractionally up. A few recessions cut down some of the gains slightly at the close, but appeared to carry no discouragement to the bull faction.

Oils responded buoyantly to news of steadily decreasing production, increasing demand, and the offering of its new hydrogenation refining process to others by Standard of New Jersey. Honolulu, reported to be making higher profits, jumped 4¾ points to a new top at 38½, but closed a bit below its high figure for the day. Standard was also at a top for the San Francisco market, at 64⅝, settling a ½ point at the close. Practically the entire group showed fractional improvement.

The improved oil outlook and bank merger possibilities boosted Bank of California 10 points to 300. Anglo California, selling ex-dividend, dropped 20. West Coast Bancorporation dropped 4⅛ and Transamerica lost ⅝.

Industrials were overlooked. Caterpillar set a new high on a slight advance, and Paraffine and Spring Valley dipped to new lows. The general range in the group was slight, and interest dull.

Los Angeles Morris Plan Certificates represent the ultimate in diversification

THEIR security does not rest on land values which are sometimes very flat: nor on stocks and bonds which are subject to market fluctuations of value.

Their certainty rest upon the payrolls of the Government, Federal, State, City and County and of banks, commercial houses and factories; a considerable number of which cannot fail at once.

Diversification is the very soul of Morris Plan success. For each $1,000,000.00 that it loans it holds the notes of 10,000 persons of ascertained good character who are steadily employed in DIVERSE OCCUPATIONS.

Money invested with us for six months or more earns 6% per annum interest—5% for shorter terms—and is always available on 30 days demand with interest to date of withdrawal.

Bullish Activities Force Utility and Aircraft Shares to Sharply Higher Levels

Public utility and air stocks swept upward on a wave of speculative enthusiasm to open the week's trading yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. The entire list was propelled forward in a surprisingly vigorous fashion and reflected the bullish undertone which was inspired in part by the statement on business conditions by President Hoover's business survey conference.

Southern California Edison overshadowed other operations with a turnover of 7700 shares. The issue advanced 2 points to close high at 63⅛. The rights advanced 30 cents to 3.80. Pacific Lighting rights crossed 5 for the first time and ended at 5, up 60 cents. While the stock was not traded, a closing bid was posted at 101 1-4, which compares with the high for the year of 95 on this exchange. Pacific Gas shot up 4½ points to 70⅛, a new top for the year. Pacific Public Service gained ⅛ to 26.

Air stocks provided another feature of the market with Western Air Express and Douglas Aircraft each turning over in excess of 3000 shares. The former jumped more than 4 points to hit a new peak for the year at 45 and the latter scored a new top at 20 5-8, closing later at 20½, up 1 1-4 points net.

Other strong spots included Claude Neon with an advance of 2 points to 43 and Pacific Mutual Life with an advance of 3 points to 88, the year's high. Pacific Mutual closed at 87, up 2 net, and the rights traded rapidly to end at a new high at 3.75, up 45 cents.

Petroleum shares moved in sympathy with the general trend and all showed a fractional improvement on a fair volume of trading. Signal advanced a full point to 34.

Transamerica and Pacific Finance dipped fractionally and with Golden State Milk Products and Associated Gas, inactive issues, were the only stocks on the board to record a recession.

Sales totaled 74,893 shares valued at $1,484,792; previous day, 25,082 shares valued at $379,966.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Fokker Aircraft again commanded the attention of traders on the week's opening session yesterday of the Los Angeles Curb Exchange. The stock, in line with other air shares on the senior board, shot up more than 3 points to mark a new top for the year at 29 1-8. The final sale crossed the board at 28 3-4, up 2 3-4 net, after a transfer of 6500 shares.

Caterpillar Tractor continued upward with an advance of 2 1-8 points to another new peak for the year at 74 1-2. Pacific Indemnity moved up 1 1-2 points to a new top at 44 and Claude Neon of China, a new addition to the board, dropped a point to 19. Others were fractionally irregular.

Kinner and Exeter Oil led the trading volume among the smaller-priced issues. Contrary to the performance of other aircraft stocks, Kinner dropped back 12 1-2 cents to 1.52 1-2, following the announcement that additional working capital was needed and would probably be attained through the offering of rights to stockholders. Exeter jumped nearly 20 cents to 1.82 1-2. Mascot Oil shot up 16 cents to 96.

Sales totaled 52,418 shares, valued at $374,452; previous day, 33,813 shares, valued at $180,838.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, March 24. (AP)—Prices of stocks on the curb exchange moved upward in impressive fashion today after an early period of hesitancy. Some selling came into the market at the opening as a result of the heavy profit-taking, which developed Friday and Saturday, but offerings were well absorbed and pools quickly resumed operations in a wide assortment of aviation, utilities, oil and specialties, lifting at least two score to new high records for the year.

The demand for the oils received considerable stimulus from the report that California crude oil production last week was down to the lowest levels since 1926, as a result of the conservation law recently enacted in that State. Humble Oil and Standard Oil of Indiana moved up into new high ground, and gains of a point or two were registered by Gulf, Indian Territorial and Standard Oil of Kansas.

In the absence of any definite aviation developments, the rise in those shares was widely attributed to pool activities, based on the theory that warmer weather would stimulate business.

Fokker ran up nearly 5 points to a new high at 30⅝, but lost a point of its gain, and Western Air Express closed 2½ points higher at 44, after touching a new high at 46. Douglas Aircraft sold above 20 for the first time this year.

Speculative interest in the public utilities centered largely in the natural gas stocks. United Gas moved up 3 points to within a small fraction of the high established last week. Dixie Gas Utilities advanced 2¾ points and American and Arkansas Natural Gas issues closed with moderate gains. Electric Bond and Share closed fractionally higher, after moving within a range of less than 2 points. Brazilian Light and Traction, Hartford Electric and International Superpower topped their previous 1930 high prices.

International Cigar Machinery, making one of its infrequent appearances on the tape, jumped 13½ points to a new peak at 112. Other issues to reach new high levels were Aluminum Limited, American Chain, Centrifugal Pipe, Pacific Coast Biscuit issues, A. O. Smith and Starrett Corporation.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

BULLS RECOVER MARKET SADDLE

figure all day, against a range of from 3 to 4 1-2 on Friday, quoted commercial paper rates for prime names were shaded from 4 to 3 3-4 per cent, and a reduction in the Reichsbank rate from 5 1-2 to 5 per cent provided further evidence of the world trends in credit. The call money market reflected withdrawals by banks of about $30,000,000, presumably in preparation for the midweekly Federal reserve settlements.

United States Steel resumed its old-time market leadership with a gain of nearly 5 points, carrying it to a new high for the recovery at 192 1-2. Last year it reached a new high record at 261 3-4 before crashing to 150. Wall street is growing increasingly confident that something in the way of a stock or increased cash dividend may be expected during the year, in view of the corporation's strong cash position, and comparatively satisfactory rate of operations.

VANADIUM SOARS

A high flyer was Vanadium Steel, which shot up nearly 14 points to a 1930 peak at 119, in what appeared to be a trapping of shorts.

Favorable California crude production figures for last week, showing continued progress at control, revived the movement in the oils, and several reached new high ground. Standard of New Jersey rose 1 3-4 points in a large turnover to a new top for the year at 70 1-2. It expects to have its hydrogenation refining process in use for May 1, next, and is arranging to lease the rights to other refiners.

On the whole, the advance was highly selective, and was most impressive in the more easily moved specialties, indicating the market remains a rather professional affair. Eastman Kodak, Foster Wheeler, Houston Oil, Liquid Carbonic, United Aircraft, Warren Brothers and Worthington Pump were sent up 4 to 8 points.

There were a few flurries of selling, notably in the merchandising shares. Montgomery Ward was depressed more than a ponit to a new 1930 low, but rallied and closed a little higher. Johns Manville dropped about 5 points, then regained part of its loss. Safeway Stores dropped more than 6 points to a new bottom at 93 1-4.

Commodities were irregular. Wheat tumbled about 3 cents, but rallied to close slightly higher with strength at Winnipeg, decrease in the visible supply, and bullish crop reports. Corn closed up about a cent. Cotton sagged in sympathy with the Liverpool market, futures closing $1.10 to $1.50 a bale lower.

Foreign exchanges continued to climb. The decline in money rates has induced considerable withdrawal of foreign funds. Several currencies went to slight premiums, notably sterling cables at $4.86 7-8, up 1-8.

Wheat Rallies Sharply After Weak Opening

CHICAGO, March 24. (AP)—Grain prices rebounded here today at a lively rate after suffering an early downward jolt that resulted from severe breaks in quotations at Liverpool. A falling off of 2,309,000 bushels in the United States wheat visible supply together with increasing crop damage reports from domestic soft winter wheat sections, as well as news of high winds and dust storms in Kansas and Oklahoma, did much to turn the market upgrade toward the last. Independent strength of the corn market in the late dealings also was a bullish factor.

Chicago closing prices for wheat were firm, ⅛@¾c a bushel higher than Saturday's finish. Corn closed ⅝@1⅛c up, oats ⅜@¾c advanced, and provisions unchanged to 15c down.

Word that some United States hard winter wheat had been sold for export by way of the Gulf of Mexico had considerable effect in helping to rally wheat at the close. Houses with eastern connections were prominent in the late buying, with general trade sentiment veering sharply away from bearish feeling that found free expression earlier when action of the Liverpool market was ascribed largely to cheap offers of Canadian wheat and to apparent indications of a notable pause in trans-Atlantic demand.

Corn owed its late upward trend largely to announcement of a decrease of the corn visible supply and to unfavorable weather for corn movement. Oats followed corn.

Provisions went lower with hogs.

OLD COLONY TRUST COMPANY AND S. PARKMAN SHAW, Jr., BOSTON, TRUSTEES

Mr. Thomas Nelson Perkins, Acting President of the Company, has furnished us with the following information:

BOSTON AND MAINE RAILROAD: The Boston and Maine Railroad operates 2,077 miles of road including 1,598 miles of road owned and 450 miles which are operated under long term leases. The Boston and Maine is now a unified system and serves central and northern New England, including the central and northern part of Massachusetts, nearly all of New Hampshire, southeastern Maine and a part of Vermont.

During the past seven years the Company has spent over $65,000,000 in improvements to property and additions to equipment. Of this amount over $20,000,000 has been included in operating expenses and deducted from earnings. Improvements include construction and development of the new North Station and Terminal, rock ballasting of important lines, extensive grade revisions and reconstruction of bridges.

SECURITY: These $15,000,000 First Mortgage Gold Bonds, Series II 5%, rank equally with $115,252,979 of other bonds secured under the same mortgage. This mortgage is, in the opinion of counsel, a first mortgage upon the railroad system, including the lessee's interest in the principal leasehold lines, subject, as to the property acquired from Worcester, Nashua & Rochester Railroad Company and Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad, to $1,530,000 of outstanding prior lien bonds. At the time the property of these two companies was acquired 119 miles of the road owned by them was subject to these prior lien bonds.

These bonds are therefore secured (1) by a first mortgage on 1,480 miles of road owned by the company; (2) by a first mortgage on the lessee's interest in the leased lines covering 400 miles of road; (3) by a mortgage on the remaining 119 miles of road, subject to the $1,530,000 prior mortgage bonds above mentioned; and (4) by a first mortgage on the terminal properties owned, with unimportant exceptions, including the extensive railway and passenger terminals in Boston, which are assessed for approximately $25,000,000.

VALUATION: The value of the Railroad, excluding leased lines, as tentatively determined by the Interstate Commerce Commission, adjusted to December 31, 1929, amounts to over $292,000,000. This valuation is after deducting approximately $45,000,000 for depreciation. As total funded debt including equipment trust obligations amounts to only $139,750,979, there will be over $2,090 of property value for each $1,000 of indebtedness.

EARNINGS AND EXPENSES:

Years ended December 31	1929	1928	1927
Operating Revenues	$78,481,438	$76,624,238	$77,848,374
Non-Operating Revenue	1,436,548	1,557,659	1,740,069
Gross Revenues	$79,917,986	$78,181,897	$79,588,443
Operating and Other Expenses and Taxes	65,839,240	63,821,268	68,347,601
Net Income Available for Fixed Charges	$14,078,746	$14,360,629	$11,240,842
Interest on Debt	6,769,048	6,642,069	6,607,759
Rental Payments	1,147,649	1,144,004	1,148,143
Balance	$6,162,049	$6,574,556	$3,484,940

Upon completion of this financing the total interest requirements will amount to $6,933,293 and the requirement for rental of leased lines $1,139,132, a total of $8,072,425. Net income for 1929 as above is over 1.7 times these total fixed charges.

Operating expenses, as above, include heavy charges for additions, improvements and equipment retirements amounting to $8,067,589 in 1929, $5,235,878 in 1928 and $4,208,888 in 1927, as compared with normal annual charges for these purposes of approximately $2,250,000. Net income for 1929, as above, does not include $1,451,813 received on account of back mail pay.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The proceeds of this issue of Bonds are to be devoted to the retirement of $6,018,000 of the Company's 6% bonds maturing in 1930, to additional improvements to its properties, and other Corporate purposes.

We recommend these bonds for investment

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—The week's trade opened with moderate receipts but demand was not as strong as a week ago. Prices, however, show little change, with bulk of offerings moving on a steady basis. Bulk of receipts were of intermountain, California and Arizona origin, with all classes fairly well represented, excepting heifers, which were scarce.

A load of 930-pound California steers and two loads of 982 to 1000-pound intermountains brought yesterday's top to 12.00. Odd head and part loads made 11.70@11.85, with bulk of 858 to 1223-pound offerings going at 11.00@11.65, with two loads of 832 to 842-pound intermountains at 10.50. Some 808 to 1114-pound steers went to feeders and killers at 9.75.

Odd head of heifers made 9.50@10.25. Odd head of outstanding weighty cows sold up to 9.75, with a few at 9.25. Load lots of intermountain and Arizona cows reached 9.00, with medium kinds, including dairy types, at 8.75. Bulk of common to medium cows made 7.00@8.60, with low cutters and cutters at 4.00@6.85, very thin cows going down to 3.50. A few 860 to 1680-pound bulls made 8.65@9.00, with bulk of medium grade scoring 7.50@8.50.

CALVES—Receipts of calves were fairly heavy but a good many were in stocker flesh and did not sell here. Trade was generally steady on vealers, with practical top standing at 16.50. Bulk of averages under 275 pounds made 14.00@16.00, with plainer and heavier calves at 11.00@13.50 and weighty culls down to 8.50.

HOGS—A very slow market on the moderate supply of hogs resulted in an uneven decline. Sales were 25c to mostly 50c lower with a few considered as much as 75c off. Packing sows and pigs showed little change. One load bought to arrive made 12.00, with practical top of the market standing at 11.65, paid for three loads of 170 to 201-pound Colorado and Nebraska butchers. Bulk of offerings, including Colorados, Nebraskas and Utahs made 11.10@11.50 and averaged 157 to 221 pounds. A load of 181-pound Utahs brought 10.85 with two loads of 205 to 209-pound Californias at 10.25@10.50. Odd head of packing sows made 8.75@9.50 with some pigs under 90 pounds at 11.00.

SHEEP—Receipts of approximately 3600 were the largest one day's offerings ever received at the local yards. Trade was very slow and with more than sufficient numbers for local needs prices declined sharply, averaging around 50c lower on bulk of offerings with some sales off more. Four decks of Imperial Valley Navajo type spring lambs averaging 76 pounds brought 12.50, sorted 15 per cent at 11.00. Four decks of 78-pound fed Utah lambs made 9.85 straight with around twelve decks of Utahs ranging from 76 to 96 pounds at 9.00@9.50, sorted at 7.75@8.50. About six decks were sold late yesterday. Two decks of good 96-pound shorn Arizona lambs brought 8.75 and two decks of 126-pound California ewes made 5.50.

AN ADVERTISEMENT OF THE SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA EDISON COMPANY

There is Always a Market for Health and Happiness

PEOPLE do not buy electricity as such. They buy the health and happiness, the lessened labor and added leisure which electricity brings. And for these there is always a market.

So, in 1929, Southern California Edison supplied to each home that it serves an average of 640 kilowatt hours of electricity, which were multiplied into numberless hours of service which made these homes more livable and life more worth living.

For as little as $25 you can buy a preferred interest in this enterprise and with your dividend check four times a year collect a plus dividend in the thought that the dollars which are serving you so well also are enabling your company to render ever better service to others.

BY PORTER FLINT

Although unconfirmed, field reports assert that the Twin State Oil Company's wildcat drilled to about 2570 feet on a 7000-acre lease in Mendocino county has gone into excellent oil sand and is nearing completion. In the event the report is true, completion of the project would ope nan entirely new and unlooked-for field in California.

According to the report, Twin State's project is along the edge of the ocean and about 150 miles north of San Francisco. The well was spudded in ten months ago and despite mechanical delays that held up operations, it succeeded in encountering an oil sand that is considered sufficient for a production test.

The Sun Oil Company office here was unable to confirm the reported oil-sand showings yesterday. Twin State is a subsidiary of the Sun Oil Company of Philadelphia. It is asserted that the showings obtained in the wildcat north of San Francisco are similar to the productive formation discovered in the Santa Maria field in the northerly portion of Santa Barbara county. Operators familiar with the coast in Mendocino county state that there are three well-defined structures in the acreage held by Twin State.

Getting Down

The daily production of oil in the Santa Fe Springs field recorded a sharp decline over the week-end in comparison to the daily average flow that has been maintained during the past three weeks and for the first time in many weeks officials watching the State-wide curtailment program believe that the situation is well under control.

Yesterday's flow at Santa Fe Springs was slightly in excess of 135,000 barrels of oil. Last Friday's total flow was 150,000 barrels. The decline in daily flow is expected to register another drop now that the new State gas law is effective and in order to observe it, a number of operators will be compelled to kill producing wells.

Among the first to kill projects that have been producing steadily were the General Petroleum Corporation and the Italo Petroleum Corporation. General killed outright sixteen producers and Italo shut in two. As a result of reduced production of oil the daily flow of gas has been slashed to approximately 378,000,000 cubic feet and by the end of the week that figure is expected to drop sharply.

Oil Sand Productive

It has remained for the Union Oil Company to prove that the old Bell sand at Santa Fe Springs is still good for production. Yesterday its Howard No. 15 was placed on production and is flowing about 200 barrels of 29-deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 4128 feet. The yield is practically clean.

The Bell zone at Santa Fe Springs was discarded by the operators during the campaign to develop the deeper and more productive zones. This zone is just above the Meyer sand, which was a factor in the field's all-time record for daily production in August, 1923. Few operators have gone back to the higher zones, although in this case Union found fair production and intends to allow its Howard No. 15 to continue flowing. The company has fifteen drilling wells that will try for production in the lower Clarke sand.

Completes Another

The Doyle Petroleum Company has completed its second producer in three days at Maricopa Flat. Its Son-Crail No. 7 has just been placed on production and is flowing approximately 1800 barrels of 23-deg. gravity oil a day from a depth of 3530 feet. The yield is clean. This new completion is on the same lease where the company's Weir No. 4 was brought in two days ago for 1700 barrels of oil a day at a depth below 3500 feet.

Doyle now has a daily potential of about 8000 barrels of oil and is one of the largest producers at Maricopa Flat. The company's Weir No. 1, No. 2 and No. 3, the Son-Crail No. 5 and No. 6 are producing. The Son-Crail No. 8 is rigging up to spud in, while the Doyle-Clune No. 1 on an adjoining forty-acre government permit is testing for water shut-off with bottom at 3400 feet.

Preparing to Test

The Bolsa Chica Oil Corporation is preparing to make a water shut-off test in its Hartman No. 5 in the Ventura-avenue field with bottom below 7000 feet. According to company officials, the leak has been located and the project has been allowed to stand cemented about two weeks before drilling out cement.

Suspends Project

The Bolsa Chica Oil Corporation has capped Ferguson No. 1 on the north dome at Kettleman Hills, having tapped the oil sand and will allow it to remain inactive until drilling restrictions are lifted July 31, 1931. The operator's activity now is centered on its tideland permits two miles south along the coast from the Elwood field, where a 900-foot pier is under construction to accommodate a string of derricks in the event oil is found in the initial test.

Cleaning Out

The Standard Oil Company is cleaning out Emery No. 43-A at Coyote Hills and may make a production test this week with bottom of the hole at 5700 feet. This project was originally completed at 5383 feet for an initial flow of 1200 barrels of 31-deg. gravity oil a day and opened up a new deep zone at Coyote Hills. It was killed to deepen and additional oil sand has been penetrated.

Kills to Deepen

The General Petroleum Corporation succeeded in getting a water shut-off in Ferguson No. 2, a tideland permit along the coast at Seacliff, and is drilling ahead to deepen, although the project yesterday was good for approximately 600 barrels of oil a day from a depth of 3109 feet. The well came in during the test.

Standard's Emery No. 46 at Coyote Hills recently spudded in and is drilling below 700 feet and will try for shallow production at about 3500 feet. The company's Emery No. 47 is building road preparatory to construction of derrick, while Murphy-Coyote No. 103 is rigging up and No. 104 is building derrick.

A month ago, General's Ferguson No. 2 was completed during a water shut-off test at about 2600 feet and flowed at the rate of 500 barrels of 30-deg. gravity oil a day. It tested nearly fifty feet of saturated oil sand at the time.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, March 24. (Exclusive)—A better demand by manufacturers in the spot rubber market today was responsible for the resumption of the recent upward trend in futures at the local rubber exchange which was interrupted somewhat in last Saturday's short session when slight losses were sustained.

The renewed interest in the outside market brought in a good supply of buying orders on the exchange from various sources and prices, which proved sensitive to bids, rose as many as 30 points during the day's trading. Some liquidation which came from a large uptown trade interest, was interpreted by many as a means of stabilizing the market as it moved forward and tended to check the advance to some extent. Final prices were 20 to 30 points higher after a turnover of 241 lots, or 60½ tons. March notices continued to be issued and yesterday's total of 35 brought the aggregate for the month thus far up to 1175.

A feature of the day's trading came when prices on the exchange went higher than those in London for the first time in about a month.

Crude rubber stocks at London and Liverpool at the close of last week rose to the new high record of 89,591 tons, an increase of 1877 tons over the preceding period.

London spot closed steady and unchanged at 7 11-16d and in Singapore the net delivery fell 1-16d to 7 7-16d in a dull market.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, March 24. (Exclusive)—The Daily Metal Trade today says:

Pig iron is moving actively on old contracts but new buying is lagging. Virtually all classes of smelters in some centers are taking in full quotas, due on contracts, and there is every indication that March shipments will be large.

Locomotive demand is slightly improved in the East and this is expected to be reflected shortly in the development of additional steel orders from railroad equipment manufacturers.

Specifications for bolts, nuts and rivets are slightly less active with most second-quarter contracts on makers' books. Spring weather has increased demand for fabricated building steel and operations in this line are being stepped up.

In the East plain structural shapes are moving at a steady rate and the shape mills in the district are able to maintain an 80 per cent operating rate.

The strength of wide diversification ▲

WIDE diversification of investments contributes to safety of principal and stability of income. Such employment of capital in numerous and varied investments is only practicable with relatively large funds. Many investors are availing themselves of the facilities of well established investment companies for the distribution of risk in this way.

For years the American Founders group of investment companies has been diversifying its funds among bonds, preferred stocks and common stocks, and among securities representative of many types of business, domestic and foreign. United Founders Corporation, through its large stock interest in American Founders Corporation, shares the strength of this diversification. In addition, United Founders has substantial holdings in public utility and other important fields.

United Founders Corporation is owned by more than 60,000 stockholders.

Body of Young Woman Found Near Highway

EUREKA, March 24. (AP)—The body of a young woman, clad in a fur coat and other expensive clothing, was found behind a log near the Redwood Highway in northern Humboldt county today under circumstances which led Coroner Oscar Swanson to believe she was slain.

The discovery was made by two State Highway Commission employees who telephoned Coroner Swanson from Orick, eight miles south of the Humboldt-Del Norte county line. They said the young woman, a blond of about 20 years of age, had apparently been dead about two weeks.

The men expressed the belief that the young woman had been slain elsewhere and brought in an automobile to the isolated spot, which is less than ten feet from the highway. They said there were no marks of a struggle near the body.

Los Jefes Seguirán Tratando de Alcanzar el Exito

LONDRES, Marzo 24.—No obstante la disensión nacida en el seno de la conferencia naval, consistente en la disputa franco-italiana sobre paridad, y en el paqueo (sniping) incesante de los críticos, el ministro Stimson y el presidente del consejo inglés de ministros, señor MacDonald, procuran defender a todo tranco el estandarte que han enarbolado; a saber, un tratado entre las cinco potencias.

Parece Ser que Tokio se Inclina a Aceptar el Convenio

TOKIO, Marzo 24.—Se notan aquí esta noche marcados indicios de que el gobierno japonés aceptará el jueves próximo el pacto provisional de los delegados japoneses y yanquis a la conferencia naval de Londres, por el que se prové que el tonelaje naval máximo del Japón sea el 69.6 por ciento del de los Estados Unidos. Confíase en que el yanqui será igual al británico.

Esta esperada decisión del gabinete, por la que vendría a quedar sancionado el convenio yanqui-japonés de Londres, créese aquí sea precursora, por lo menos, de un tratado naval entre el Japón, los Estados Unidos y la Gran Bretaña, aun en el caso de que Francia e Italia no se adhieran al programa de reducción de tonelajes navales.

La Asociación Mercantil de Chicago Defiende a su Ciudad

CHICAGO, Marzo 24.—Chicago, calumniada hasta esta fecha como ciudad donde priva el crimen, ha comenzado por fin a disipar esa nebulosa reputación, y a presentarse ante el mundo como líder en actividades comerciales y en muchos otros campos de lucha y esfuerzo. Tales son las palabras de una declaración publicada hoy por la Asociación Mercantil de Chicago.

Atribúyese esa transformación a una conciencia pública ya despierta, la cual ha sugerido a la Asociación Mercantil que inicie una campaña que acabe por revelar a la ciudad tal como ella es, y no tal como la han pintado.

"Durante los ultimos seis meses", dice dicha declaración redactada por el coronel Robert Isham Randolph, presidente de la asociación, "se ha observado marcado cambio en la opinión del mundo, y ha pasado ésta de una franca hostilidad hacia Chicago, a la estimación, y en muchos casos, a la admiración de nuestra metrópoli.

"En los últimos treinta días ha recibido el departamento de publicidad de la Asociación tres libros cuatro artículos en cuatro de las mejores revistas del país, y 30,000 recortes de periódicos del mundo entero; todos ellos de carácter laudatorio para Chicago."

Traeger Va a Ser Dado de Alta en el Hospital

Probablemente va a permitírsele al sheriff Traeger que salga del Hospital Luterano de California en el curso del día de hoy, según lo ha declarado ayer el doctor Charles P. Sebastian, su médico de cabecera; pero no podrá el paciente reanudar sus quehaceres antes de dos semanas. Entretanto, se ha arreglado que pase el sheriff ese intervalo al pie de la sierra, cerca de Glendora, en casa de unos amigos suyos. Traeger ingresó en el hospital el miércoles próximo pasado.

El Alcalde Porter Dará la Bienvenida a un León

El león Leo, perteneciente a la empresa Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, y que lleva siete años de viajar por el mundo, va a llegar a Los Angeles, y se le dará la bienvenida a las 10:30 a.m. de hoy en el Palacio Municipal.

El alcalde Porter dará sus parabienes a este rey turista del reino animal, que, en sus viajes, tiene ya visitadas la mayoría de las ciudades norteamericanas. Concurrirán al acto muchos actores y directores de la M.-G.-M., y amenizará la ceremonia la banda de Abe Lyman.

El león hará todas sus gracias y suertes bajo la dirección de su domador Volney Phifer. Lee y su jaula serán escoltados luego por Broadway y la calle de Washington hasta los "estudios" de Culver City, donde habrá nueva representación laonina a las 12:30 p.m.

Charlas Infantiles para Chiquillos de Escuela

II.

Y, a decir verdad, nadie creyó nunca que esos niños iban a hacerse famosos, así como ni los padres ni las madres de ustedes esperan que lleguen ustedes a ser presidentes, o millonarios, o duques, o actores (And indeed no one ever thought that these children were going to grow up to be famous any more than your father and mother expect you to be a president, or a millionaire, or a duke, or an actor). Decían, "¡Jesús, cómo crece ese niño!" o "Las niñitas son para vistas y no para oídas"; pero no decían, "¡Qué criatura tan verdaderamente notable!" (They said, "Mercy, how that child does grow!" or, "Little girls should be seen and not heard", but they did not say, "What a really remarkable child!"). Y, con todo, sus hijos llegaron a ser hombres y mujeres famosos y útiles, como cada uno de ustedes, niñita o niñito, puede llegar a serlo, si se lo propone firmemente, con resolución, y no deja nunca de procurarlo. Ese es el secreto, después de todo: probar y probar, y luego, volver a probar otra vez (And yet their children grew up to be famous and useful men and women, just as you can grow up, every little girl of you and every little boy, if you want hard enough, and mean to hard enough and never give up trying. That is the secret after all; just trying and trying, and then trying all over again).

UPLAND WOULD CUT DOWN LIGHT BILLS

UPLAND, March 24. — How to cut down on the city's electric-light bill is a question being considered today by the city service departments. Suggestion that part of the lights in the residence districts be shut off during the night as an economy measure has not met with enthusiasm by certain property owners. Plans are also being studied for working out a schedule on the daylight-to-dark basis to function with the calendar.

Charges made by Arthur A. Weber, manager of Miramar Estates, Santa Monica, that thousands of fictitious names have been signed on petitions against the Alphonzo Bell cement plant, will be investigated today by the District Attorney's office, it was announced yesterday.

Weber appeared at the District Attorney's office late yesterday with numerous witnesses and documents appertaining to the investigation.

Following a conference with Daniel Beecher, chief of Dist.-Atty. Fitts's trial department, the inquiry was placed in the hands of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Moses, who will begin questioning of witnesses today.

Certification of the referendary petitions against the Bell cement-quarry ordinances, which apparently fall short by less than 1000 of having sufficient names to hold up the effectiveness of the ordinances, was suspended yesterday by City Clerk Domingues pending final determination of legal points by City Attorney Werner.

On Wednesday Werner and former City Attorney Stephens, representing Judge Weber, are to confer on legal points, which may result in a decision permitting further examination of the petitions and the certification of additional names.

Alarming increase in the number of traffic fatalities is given as the reason. Care-[illegible] reveals, according to Davis, that the accidents are largely the fault of drivers.

Traffic regulations require motorists to come to a full stop before entering a boulevard and officers specially assigned to this phase of the investigation have found too many drivers regard a slight hesitation as compliance with the law. In many cases drivers have been seen to disregard boulevard-stop signs completely, and the new order demands the arrest of every such offender.

SPEED AND DRINK

However, the increased number of accidents is attributed chiefly to speeding and drunken driving. Police surgeons at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital are called upon to conduct from a dozen to a score of sobriety tests almost every twenty-four hours on suspected alcoholic drivers. Conviction is exceedingly difficult in such cases, police point out, because there is no legal definition of intoxication. An alcoholic breath is not accepted as proof and many drivers, helplessly drunk at the time of arrest, have been almost completely sobered in the lapse of time between their arrest and the sobriety examination.

AERIAL JOYRIDE FATAL TO THREE

Wallace Beery's Airplane Falls in San Gabriel

Pilot Maves, His Wife, and Friend Cremated

Craft Taken Up Without Owner's Permission

An aerial joyride yesterday afternoon resulted in the death of the two men and a woman who had taken out the new six-place Travelair monoplane belonging to Wallace Beery, the motion-picture actor, without, he said, his permission. The plane crashed in the San Pasqual wash about twenty feet north of Valley Boulevard in San Gabriel and in a few moments was a mass of flaming wreckage. Its occupants probably were killed by the impact, as they were badly mangled. Immediately after the impact there was a loud explosion and the wreckage burst into flames.

Burnt beyond recognition, the bodies of the two men were identified by Deputy Sheriffs Croushorn and Weybright of the Sheriff's homicide squad by transport pilots' licenses, one being found in the left hip pocket of each man. They were George Maves of 1133 North Gordon avenue, employed by Wallace Beery as a pilot, and Lynn H. Hayes of 1933 Selby avenue, Westwood, a friend of Maves. The woman, it was learned later, was Mrs. Cynthia Maves, wife of Beery's pilot.

SCORES SEE CRASH

The crash took place in full view of scores of motorists on Valley Boulevard and persons in front of shops along the highway. They hurried to the scene but were powerless to do anything, as the flames drove them back. Alexander Feher, who has an automobile repair shop across the road, telephoned to the San Gabriel Fire Department, which rushed apparatus to the scene and put out the flames with chemical extinguishers.

Witnesses questioned by R. I. Hazen and L. J. Holoubeck, inspectors of the United States Department of Commerce, and Capt. Morgan, head of the airplane detail of the Sheriffs office, agreed on some details.

These are that the plane approached Valley Boulevard from the south at a low altitude, variously put at 300 to 500 feet, that it began to turn to the left, that the motor had been idling, that the pilot banked the plane, that just over the wash the plane fell off instead of coming out of the bank and then plunged, nose down, into the wash.

FLIGHT UNAUTHORIZED

Examination of the wreckage disclosed that Maves and Hayes had been seated in the forward part at the dual controls and therefore it is not known which was flying the plane at the time of the accident. Mrs. Maves had been seated in the rear part of the cabin. A freak of the fire was that, although nearly all the clothing had been burned off the men, a little bit of the leather jacket which Maves had been wearing was found and in its pocket was a paper of safety matches which had not become ignited.

When informed of the accident, Beery was much affected, as he had employed Maves for various periods totaling about a year and a half and had flown many hours with him.

He was entirely unaware, until informed of the crash, he said, that Maves had taken the plane from its hangar at the United Airport in Burbank. Beery is himself a pilot, having 1700 hours of flying to his credit and he said Maves had been hired by him only to accompany him when he flew and to take care of the plane on the ground.

Beery said he had flown the plane himself for five hours Sunday and apparently it was in excellent condition. He disclosed that he had intended to start on a flight to Mexico City in the plane next week.

RECENTLY MARRIED

Maves and his wife had been married only two months. She was the daughter of Mrs. E. M. Darneille of Sacramento. Maves had come to this city originally from Chicago. He was 24 years of age and had learned to fly about five years ago at Clover Field in Santa Monica as a pupil of Art Goebel. He was a stunt pilot for some time, being a member of several air circuses, and then was hired by Beery. After a number of months with the latter, he entered the employ of Pickwick Airways and flew mail planes to Mexico. About three months ago he re-entered Beery's employ.

Hayes, who was 26 years of age, leaves a widow and two small children, a boy of 3 and a girl 18 months of age. He also learned to fly at Clover Field. He apparently was not steadily employed, but recently he had been general manager of the Angelus Aero Corporation at the Metropolitan Airport in

The bodies of the three crash victims were taken to the Hunt Mortuary in Alhambra and an inquest will be conducted there at a time not yet announced.

Flint Fountain Permit Given

Permission to erect a memorial fountain in the City Hall grounds to the late United States Senator Flint was granted the Flint Memorial Association yesterday by the Board of Public Works. The fountain is to be located in the grass plot opposite the south entrance to the City Hall.

The design of the memorial is scheduled to go before the Municipal Art Commission today.

CITIES CONFER ON POWER

Another Meeting Set for Next Monday by Group That Will Get Boulder Electricity

An effort to work out a definite allocation of the 6 per cent of Boulder Dam power set aside for the Southern California municipalities outside Los Angeles will be made at a meeting next Monday, it was announced following a preliminary meeting yesterday.

Representatives of the cities of Anaheim, Burbank, Beverly Hills, Colton, Glendale, Fullerton, Pasadena, San Bernardino, Riverside and Santa Ana attended yesterday's meeting with Northcutt Ely, representative of Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, whose department is arranging the contracts. The meeting was to advise the cities of the general set-up and terms of the power agreements and proposed contracts recently arrived at. Mr. Ely explained details of the agreement and how the smaller cities are affected.

PURPOSE SET FORTH

The city of Los Angeles and the other Southern California cities that have filed applications have been allotted 19 per cent of the Boulder Dam power. Of that amount, the outside cities are to get 6 per cent. How the 6 per cent is to be divided is a matter for the several cities concerned to settle, Mr. Ely explained. They will have a year to reach some sort of an agreement among themselves. At the suggestion of those attending yesterday's meeting, Mr. Ely will remain in Los Angeles to meet with the representatives again at the offices of the Metropolitan Water District next Monday, at which time it is hoped to have the requests of the cities in shape to handle.

Mr. Ely explained that the government can deal with the sale of power or falling water at the plant switchboard. It will be up to the cities to arrange for transmitting the power to the coast. It is thought likely that Los Angeles will be in a position to offer to transmit the power for these cities over the 220,000-volt transmission line which it will have to construct from the power plant to Los Angeles to handle the power it is to receive. There will be about 40,000 firm horsepower available to the smaller cities as a group.

PROBLEM EXPLAINED

The problem for the smaller communities consists of determining their needs in power, receiving an allocation and deciding whether such allocation will make it worth while on the basis of the cost compared to the cost of power available to them either at their own plants or from public utility corporations in this field. One phase of the problem is the question of distribution of the power to the several communities from the terminus of the transmission line to the coast. The cost to the cities will include the government price of 1.63 mills at the plant switchboard, plus plant operating costs, plus transmission cost to the coast, plus distribution costs.

Ely said the meeting occupied itself largely with an exchange of information preliminary to setting up a definite program. Those representing the cities included, for the most part, city officials.

N. B. BLACKSTONE EXPIRES

Merchant and Financier Found by Son Dead in Bed; Played Large Part in City's Progress

Nathaniel B. Blackstone, 87 years of age, founder of the N. B. Blackstone Company, president of the concern until his retirement in 1918 and one of California's prominent merchants and financiers, died unexpectedly during an afternoon nap yesterday. His death was discovered by his son, Henry Winthrop Blackstone, when he went to call him for dinner.

Nathaniel B. Blackstone

Mr. Blackstone played a large part in the merchandising history of Los Angeles. His civic activities were numerous and he aided every movement that would further business for the Southland. He also played a prominent part in financial circles, having aided in organizing several banks which in later years were merged.

BANK ORGANIZER

Until the first of this year he was a director of the Bank of America. In 1918 he decided to retire from all active business and sold the N. B. Blackstone Company to the firm of Hamburger and Son's Company. Since then he traveled and enjoyed his clubs. It had been his daily custom to leave his home at 1226 West Twenty-eighth street and go by taxicab to the California Club for lunch.

Yesterday he followed his custom and had lunch at the club but returned home earlier than usual. He said nothing to the attendants in his home when he reached there but went directly to his bedroom and retired. Shortly before dinner time the son discovered him dead.

SELF-MADE SUCCESS

Although he had never complained of the symptoms, physicians pronounced death due to a heart attack.

Mr. Blackstone's career throughout was marked by self-made success. He was born of New England parents on a farm at Livermore, Me., January 20, 1843. He worked on the farm and went to school until 17 years of age. He then went to Brockton, Mass., and obtained a job as a clerk in the dry goods store of H. W. Robinson. He worked for the Robinson store for five years and then went to Boston to work for the dry goods store of Ewing Brothers & Co.

After a few years he rose to a

CHURCH FIRE UNCOVERED AS RED PLOT

Attempt to Burn Study of Bishop Stevens Linked to Attack on Soviet

An asserted Communist plot to fire the private study of Bishop Bertram W. Stevens in St. Paul's Cathedral early Sunday morning in retaliation for the minister's public denunciation of the soviet anti-religious persecution was disclosed by police yesterday as an investigation of the arson outrage against the church proceeded.

Detective Lieutenant Hynes, head of the police Communist detail, declared that he has information from within local Red circles that the attempt to burn the study was plotted as one of a series of fires planned to be set in other places of worship.

Hynes's investigation, he said, shows that the arsonist climbed an iron fence at the rear of the cathedral at 615 South Figueroa street early Sunday morning, heaped oil-soaked rags and papers against the heavy study door on the second floor, set them ablaze and fled.

The fire failed to get sufficient headway to spread through the building, but damaged the door. A. T. Hall, the sexton, arrived at the cathedral at 8 a.m. Sunday and discovered the smouldering heap of smoking rags and the charred door. He notified police.

With the arson squad of the fire department, the police Communist detail immediately launched an investigation. Hynes says several suspects have been placed under surveillance and it is probable that arrests soon will be made.

Hynes says he believes the incendiary act was directed at Bishop Stevens and the church because of the churchman's strong denunciation of the soviet's religious persecution policy in Russia. He was one of the principal speakers at the protest mass meeting in Trinity Auditorium.

MRS. IRISH LAYS DOWN BOWL TASK

Second Resignation Note Sent Directors to Take Effect Immediately

Mrs. Leiland Atherton Irish, general chairman of the Hollywood Bowl Association for four years, yesterday resubmitted her resignation to take effect immediately in place of a previous withdrawal dated the 18th inst., which would have ended her connection with the Bowl August 1. The resignation was given to the members of the board of directors of the association at a meeting yesterday afternoon in Hollywood and was accepted.

The withdrawal of Mrs. Irish from her post as general chairman of the Bowl Association also terminates her connection with it as a charter member and a member of the board of directors. Following the acceptance of Mrs. Irish's resignation the members of the board unanimously adopted a resolution expressing regret that her association with the organization has been ended and also expressing gratitude for "her long-continued devotion and invaluable services to the Bowl undertaking."

JULIAN PAPERS GIVEN TO JURY

Nix Delivers Documents of Usury Investigation

Lewis and Attorney Wrangle in Tappaan's Court

Ex-Oil President Charges "Frame-up" Testimony

Three witnesses, familiar with the inside details of the overissue of stock and the subsequent collapse of the Julian Petroleum Corporation with its loss of millions of dollars to Los Angeles residents, will relate the history of the debacle today when the grand jury begins its investigation of criminal activities which may have attended the financial fiasco.

The inquiry, starting at 10 a.m., will be confined strictly to uncovering acts of persons connected with the corporation, the sale of the stock and its overissue, which may involve a conspiracy to commit grand theft; violations of the Corporate Securities Act and commission of perjury and forgery.

BERMAN MAY TALK

Jacob Berman, also known as Jack Bennett, "bright boy of the Julian organization," is believed to be the first witness scheduled to tell his story to the grand jury. Reports to this effect were denied last night by Dist.-Atty. Fitts, when he announced that the inquiry will start with the convening of the jury this morning.

Two other witnesses, both as cognizant of the Julian activities as Berman, but whose names are being kept secret by the District Attorney, are reported to be ready to follow the "bright boy" in the jury room.

They are understood to be in possession of facts and records that will substantiate the lengthy story of Berman and may take the greater part of the day.

It is believed Berman will go into a minute picture of the ramifications of the defunct corporation and will give to the grand jury the most complete volume of information that has been presented.

MAY ENLARGE CASE

With this picture in mind the grand jury is expected to continue its investigation until all those mentioned by the witnesses as being connected with the corporation have either been cleared of suspicion of criminal moves or are under indictment.

As a preliminary to the start today, the jury held a short session yesterday. City Prosecutor Nix was called for a short interview and immediately after his departure the adjournment was taken.

It was understood that Nix was called in regard to documents held in his office and connected with a large number of complaints of usury growing out of the Julian activities, which were dismissed.

DOCUMENTS SUBMITTED

Nix promised that the documents and papers requested would be returned to the District Attorney's file, and later in the day the huge pile of transcripts, complaints and records were placed in the grand jury room for investigation.

In explaining the grand jury request and the return of the records Nix said in a formal statement:

"At the request of the District Attorney and the grand jury, I am returning the records in the Julian matter to the District Attorney's office.

"These records were delivered to the office of the then City Prosecutor in August, 1927. In January, 1929, I assumed the office and during that month a check was made of the Julian records. We have just completed rechecking these records and we find that none are missing. All the records that were in my custody when I assumed the office, or which were delivered to me since then, are being returned to the District Attorney and the grand jury.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

THIS little trip up the Tucson road was a pilgrimage of the heart and soul for me.

I was going to Tubac and to the old mission—Tumacacori.

It was from Tubac that Juan Bautista de Anza—my special pet hero—set out with a little expedition of Spanish soldiers through the heart of the dangerous Apache country — through trackless unknown wastes to find California.

His father had tried to do this years before. His venture had ended in ridicule and humiliation. At his own expense the son set out to justify his father's reputation.

A MASTER EXPLORER

Of all the explorers, he was the most gallant, the most chivalrous and most skillful. Charles F. Lummis tells of asking the head packer of the United States Army if such a trip could be taken under the conditions De Anza had to face. The packer studied it for a while; then announced that it was impossible; that no one ever had or ever would make such a trip.

De Anza made it twice. Once with his soldiers; again with 240 colonists who founded San Francisco and Monterey.

WHERE THE WEST BEGAN

We are accustomed to say that the West began at Dodge City or Council Bluffs or Omaha, where the covered wagons started across the plains. The story of the West really began in this little mud-baked, sun-soaked town of Tubac on the mesa above the Santa Cruz River.

Except that there must have been a fort of some kind in De Anza's day—probably an adobe-walled enclosure—Tubac is now much as it was then . . . rows of adobes sprawling down the slope to the river; a whitewashed church standing in the sun, and a long, low adobe school building with a bell in a little dome above the roof.

HANDS ACROSS THE BORDER

These early explorers are a great bond of sympathy between Mexico and the United States.

At a banquet in Nogales one of the Mexican officials spoke feelingly of these heroes who are their heroes and ours—Coronado, De Anza, Father Garcias, Father Kino . . .

A CHARMING IDEA

The American town of Nogales is working on a charming idea in this connection.

In the middle of the town they are going to place a big boulder of native Arizona rock.

At the top of it will be the words: "Paso Por Aqui" (Passing by this place)—and the names of the explorers who passed.

LEWIS-BERMAN PLEA FAILS

United States Court of Appeals Denial Makes Federal Prison Nearer for Pair

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24. (AP)—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today denied the petition of Sheridan C. Lewis and Jacob Berman for a rehearing of the recent decision affirming their conviction in the United States Court at Los Angeles.

Each was sentenced to seven years in a Federal prison and to pay a fine of $16,000 following his conviction on charges of using the mails to defraud in connection with the affairs of the Lewis Oil Corporation, of which Lewis was the president and Berman the stock salesman.

The court denied the petition without comment.

On motion of defense attorneys the court granted a stay until April 23 so that the defendants may prepare an appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

Future plans of Jacob Berman and S. C. Lewis were in doubt yesterday but at the offices of their attorney it was asserted that probably a writ of review will be filed before the United States Supreme Court. A conference between Berman and Attorney Christensen is scheduled for today.

The denial of the appeal of Berman, the appeal petition for which was concurred in by Lewis, placed them one step nearer McNeil's Island to which they were sentenced to serve seven years by United States District Judge Henning, November 6, 1928. They were

REPORT ON CAR TRAVEL ISSUED

Trolley Conditions Declared Much Improved

Mileage Increase for Three Months 100,000

Recommendation of Better Equipment to be Made

Travel conditions on Los Angeles Railway Company cars for the last six months show 20 per cent improvement over conditions in 1927, according to a report filed with the Board of Public Utilities by W. J. Walters, assistant chief engineer of the department, who reported, however, that a recommendation for better type of cars and equipment which the engineering department believes can reduce expenses and give better service will be made to the board shortly.

Walters states that a check shows that the company operated 2,796,000 car miles on January, last, compared with 2,834,168 in December and 2,690,000 in November, an increase in the three months of more than 100,000 car miles.

CAR PEAKS CUT

He reports that car miles per 1000 passengers increased from 95.7 per cent in 1927 to 113.8 in 1928, an improvement of 18.9 per cent in conditions for that period. He points out that the increase in car miles for each 1000 passengers was immediately after the fare increase went into effect, also indicating the increase in fare caused a drop in passengers.

A check of car traffic prior to the fare increase in 1928 showed from 110 to 120 passengers per car in twenty-minute intervals, but no such high peaks were shown in 1929 and 1930 checks of the service, according to the report of Walters.

The board approved the statement of Walters that a standard of service should be established, fixing the maximum load point for any car line, with checks to be made by all companies at regular intervals on all lines, and on request at special times, when necessary.

FURTHER REPORT DUE

This will be the subject of a further report to be made for the board's consideration and for adoption.

Walters reported that representatives of each railway company have been appointed to confer with a representative of the Board of Public Utilities to go fully into details on the question of universal transfers.

The board's engineers are studying the recent tentative program of extensions and betterments proposed by the Los Angeles Railway Company following the court order upholding the fare increase to 7 cents.

LINE EXTENSION ARGUMENTS PRESENTED

Arguments by rival organizations which seek Los Angeles Railway car line extensions for inclusion in the general program of extensions as the result of the fare increase to 7 cents were heard at a special meeting of the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation and taken under advisement yesterday.

The board requested that written arguments and figures be submitted in order that it might go over them with its engineering division before reaching a decision on what its requests to the railway company shall be.

The railway company, which was represented at the hearing, has indicated that it is willing to make one extension, on either South Main street or Avalon Boulevard, but not both at this time.

L. S. Tillie, president of the South Main Street Improvement Association, which sent a committee of five to the hearing, argued that extension of the "O" line on Main from Slauson to Manchester, approximately two miles, is the logical and necessary extension.

He declared that this extension had been approved by the City Council, the railway and the board fifteen years ago, and a right of way obtained, but that the latter was abandoned during the business upset during the war.

J. J. Bonnell, president of the Goodyear Tract Taxpayers' League, and committee argued that the "S" line should be extended on Avalon Boulevard from Merrill avenue to Manchester, less than two miles, to accommodate employees of new industries in the district, also to encourage industrial activity, looking ten years ahead.

CONVICTION OF OFFICER SET ASIDE

Washburn Case Prejudiced by Unfair Testimony, Says Appeal Court Opinion

Conviction of Thomas B. Washburn, former police sergeant, on bribery charges which followed the expose of an asserted police bootleg graft ring by Harry D. McDonald, self-asserted pay-off man for the bootleggers, was set aside by Division 2 of the District Court of Appeal yesterday.

The opinion, written by Justice Thompson and concurred in by Acting Presiding Justice Craig and Justice Pro Tem Norton, declared that the trial court substantially prejudiced the rights of the defendant for a fair trial when it permitted the introduction of testimony concerning another asserted bribery not connected with the one in the indictment, and also in permitting testimony tending to attack the credibility of witnesses who furnished the defendant with an alibi.

Justice Thompson concluded the opinion with the comment that there was so great a conflict between the prosecution and the defense testimony that introduction of the improper evidence might well have swung the balance against the defendant.

Superior Judge Emmett Wilson presided at the trial and Washburn was defended by Attorney Joseph L. Painer.

Accident Case Jury Disagrees

A jury for the second time failed to agree in the suit of Mrs. Jerry Benjamin against the Pacific Electric Railway Company for personal injuries asserted to have been received when she fell from an electric car step. She asks $15,000 damages.

The hearing was before Superior Judge Edmonds. The jury stood six to six and was discharged. At the former trial the jury stood eight to four in favor of the plaintiff.

The plaintiff asserted that the car lurched as she was boarding it; that she was thrown from the step to the pavement. The accident occurred at Ardmore street and Venice Boulevard.

AIMEE M'PHERSON DEPARTS

Thousands Sing Farewell at Train as She Goes East to Take Ship for Holy Land

While 2000 of her followers waved pompons, sang and prayed, Aimee Semple McPherson, pastor of Angelus Temple, told them good-by from a temporary pulpit on a flat car, entered a special Union Pacific car and was away last night for the Holy Land at the head of a band of temple members.

The evangelist and her flock of travelers, including Roberta Semple, her daughter, and Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, her mother, will go direct to New York. Mrs. Kennedy will stop there, but Mrs. McPherson and the rest of the party will sail Saturday on the steamer George Washington for Cherbourg, Egypt and the Holy Land. The return here is scheduled for June 24, next.

For half an hour before the train left Mrs. McPherson led the Angelus members in an impromptu service. Flanked by the temple band and church singers the evangelist called for song after song from the crowd that overflowed onto the tracks and around the train.

Flowers were everywhere, on the flat car, in the special coach and sailing through the air at intervals as some member of the church gave up the attempt to crowd close enough to present the offering to the pastor and threw them in her general direction. She, in turn, tossed buds back to the crowd while her son, Rolph, whispered in her ear and Roberta stood by keeping time to temple tunes with a pompon.

Mrs. McPherson wore a green flannel ensemble and a green tam. Roberta was dressed in a similar outfit of pink shades. Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Jeffries of Seattle will act as assistant pastors at Angelus Temple during Mrs. McPherson's absence.

partnership in the firm. Then he went back to Brockton for his bride, Miss Louise Robinson, daughter of his former employer and sister of the late J. W. Robinson, Los Angeles merchant. Miss Robinson was attending the Lassell Seminary at Auburndale a town near Brockton. They were married at Auburndale, September 29, 1867.

They lived there seventeen years, with Mr. Blackstone commuting between his home and business. In 1887 he and his brother-in-law, J. W. Robinson, brought their families to Los Angeles. They established the Boston Store. Eight years later Mr. Blackstone established the N. B. Blackstone Company on Spring street opposite the Courthouse.

A few years later he moved to a larger store at Third and Spring streets in the Douglas Building. Later he moved to a building on Broadway between Third and Fourth. In September, 1917, he erected the Blackstone Building at Ninth and Broadway.

His son was associated with him and was vice-president of the company for fifteen years.

HOME WAS SHOW PLACE

On November 25, 1918, Mrs. Blackstone died, just a month and two days before they were to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary. Mr. Blackstone built the house in which he died thirty-eight years ago. The imposing wooden structure on the corner of Twenty-eighth street and Orchard streets was a show place for many years.

Mr. Blackstone leaves his son, two nieces, Mrs. Jennie Dow and Mrs. Anna Black, and two nephews, Roy Blackstone and Frank B. Mitchell. He was a member of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, the California Club, the National Republican Club of New York, the Maine State Society and the First Congregational Church.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed but burial will be in Inglewood Cemetery. The body is at the Bresee Brothers mortuary.

The resignation of Mrs. Irish followed closely upon the announcement that she would become a candidate for president of the Woman's Club of Hollywood.

E. N. Martin, vice-president of the Bowl Association, said after the directors' meeting yesterday that Glenn Tindall, present business manager of the organization, will continue in his post in active executive charge of the Bowl affairs. Mr. Martin explained that the post which Mrs. Irish held has been abolished and that future important decisions affecting the conduct of the Bowl affairs will be acted upon by the members of the board of directors.

Following the directors' meeting yesterday Mr. Tindall announced that plans are progressing for the Easter service in the Bowl. Rehearsals of the singing crucifix chorus of 350 boys and girls, a feature of the sunrise services, began yesterday afternoon at the Hollywood Congregational Church.

Mabel Miller Barnhart, chorus chairman, said that the human crucifix is to be made the keynote of the setting designed by William Francis Vreeland. It is to be banked in greenery, as a background for the costumes of the children.

The singing crucifix has been a part of the Hollywood Bowl sunrise services since 1922 under the direction of Hugo Kirchhofer.

Bar Will Honor Past-Presidents

Past-presidents of the Los Angeles Bar Association are to be honored guests at a dinner of the association Thursday night at the Alexandria. The meeting is the first over which Norman A. Bailie will preside as president of the organization. In addition to the Los Angeles past-presidents the presidents of all bar associations in Los Angeles county have been invited to attend.

John G. Mott, president of the association in 1925, will present greetings on behalf of the past-presidents; Henry W. DRUNK-DRIVING CASES PUSHED

Three Suspects Bound Over Under Bond for Trial

Complaints Issued Against Eight Other Motorists

Charges in Latter Instance Week-end Drive Result

Three men accused of drunk driving were bound over for Superior Court trial under $500 bail each by Municipal Judge Ballard yesterday.

Frank W. Wall, 29 years of age, of 935 South Union avenue, was arrested by Police Officers Swindle and Wing after they observed him pass the intersection of Bronson street and Washington Boulevard at high speed at midnight on the 9th inst., without lights, the policemen testified. They pursued him for sixteen blocks before they were able to arrest him, they said.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman called witnesses who declared that Roy Gorsuch, 19, of 1327 Oak Grove Drive, drove his automobile into a light pole at Eagle Rock Boulevard and Las Colimas avenue. Both automobile and pole were demolished, they said.

Maximino Guerrero, 43, Moorpark junkman, was driving erratically when he passed the intersection of Sunset and Santa Monica Boulevards, Officer Todd declared. He pursued Guerrero to the intersection of Sunset and Hollywood Boulevards and placed him under arrest, he said. In each case police surgeons testified that the men were drunk when examined.

Complaints against eight persons, charging them with driving automobiles while intoxicated, were issued yesterday by Dist.-Atty. Fitts's complaint department as the result of the week-end campaign against drunken drivers.

Those named in the complaints are:

Harry C. Rae, arrested at Hollywood Boulevard and Ivar street while driving in an erratic manner.

W. H. Waldron, taken in custody following a collision with another car on Graham street.

Rod Cameron, captured on Ventura Boulevard after officers asserted he had been seen driving in a reckless manner.

Guy Miller, asserted by officers to have been caught driving on Ocean avenue at sixty miles an hour, after which he collided with another automobile.

Claude C. Curl, arrested on Wall street after colliding with two other automobiles.

Albert J. Farnum, taken in custody after he crashed his car into a house at 1251 Federal avenue.

Frank Hernandez, arrested by Los Angeles police following an accident in which three other persons were hurt.

Dave Edwards, taken in custody by traffic officers after he had driven through a traffic signal and narrowly missed striking several pedestrians.

PASTORS COMMEND FITTS

Ministerial Association Lauds His War on Evil, in Resolution Introduced by Briegleb

Adoption of a resolution, introduced by Dr. G. A. Briegleb, commending Dist.-Atty. Fitts for his battle against the forces of evil and pledging him the support of the ministry of Los Angeles in his efforts to bring about the rule of justice, featured the meeting of the Ministerial Association yesterday at First Methodist Church.

The session was attended by more than 400 clergymen of various denominations, representing practically every section of the Southland. The resolution, setting forth many details of the accomplishments of Dist.-Atty. Fitts, was adopted unanimously.

The speaker of the day was Dr. S. D. Gordon, author of "Quiet Talks" and internationally famous evangelist, who spoke of the need of greater reverence for God and more love for mankind as a cure for the crime, poverty and sorrow of the world.

Dr. Gordon will address the ministers again at First Methodist Church at 1 p.m. today, tomorrow, Thursday and Friday and will be the chief speaker at a mass meeting to be held next Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the Bible Institute. He also will speak at the public services to be conducted at Philharmonic Auditorium at noon each day of Holy Week.

Another speaker was Rev. Thomas Grice, chairman of the educational committee of the State Humane Association, who requested the pastors to bring to the attention of their congregations the fact that Kindness to Animals Week will be observed April 21 to 27, inclusive.

Howard H. Russell, originator of the Anti-Saloon League, made a brief address in which he praised the national administration for its efforts to enforce the dry laws.

TRIPLE DEATH QUIZ CALLED

Inquest to be Conducted Today in Auto-Car Crash; One Dead, Five Hurt in Other Accidents

A Coroner's inquest will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. today into the deaths of three persons killed early yesterday when the automobile in which they were riding at an estimated speed of sixty miles an hour crashed into a street car at Sixth and Witmer streets. The dead are Adolf F. Chavez, said to be a city fireman, of 1081 Calzona street; Miss Becky Krieger, 24 years of age, of 323 North Grand avenue, and Miss Peggy Doreen Rice, living at 148 South Figueroa street.

Three other passengers in the car received serious injuries in the crash. Miss Marie Sala, 21, 1820 Bridge street, suffered a skull fracture, Mike J. Maisterra, 20, of 516 West Seventh street, severe head lacerations, and Victor Griego, 21, of 131 North Hix street, head lacerations. All are at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital in a critical condition. Two of the passengers on the street car—Mrs. Helen Asher, 26, of 625 South Burlington street, and Jack Charlip, 24, same address, were treated for cuts.

STREET CAR HIT

Eyewitnesses told police the car, driven by Chavez, sped ahead of another machine as it neared the intersection, then swerved suddenly to the left side of the street and struck the street car, which was proceeding in the opposite direction. The street car, according to police, was in charge of Motorman M. G. Johnson and Conductor F. Cleveland. Detective-Lieutenants Condaffer and Corsini report that fragments of liquor bottles were found in the wreckage, indicating members of the ill-fated party had been drinking.

In a collision of an automobile and a truck yesterday Mrs. Alice Hall, 70 years of age, 701 Overland avenue, Culver City, received a basal skull fracture. Her son, Frank B. Hall, 33, received minor injuries. While passing 5800 West Adams street their car collided with a ten-ton truck driven by Bill Williams, 3206 Santa Fe avenue, police report. Williams was held for questioning.

MOTORCYCLIST KILLED

Examination yesterday by County Autopsy Surgeon Wagner of the body of Clyde G. Hill, 20, of 2326 Duane street, who was killed in a motorcycle accident while deputy sheriffs were on their way to make another investigation in Dalton Canyon, disclosed that the youth had died of concussion of the brain and severe injuries of the neck and chest.

Hill, according to reports of officers, was thrown from a motorcycle operated by an unidentified youth when it hit the curbing in the 3300 block on Griffith Park avenue. Deputies from the Sheriff's office reported that they had fired one shot in the air when the two on the motorcycle acted in a suspicious manner and attempted to outdistance the officers' car. The youth driving the motorcycle, said by police to have been stolen, apparently was uninjured and fled after the crash.

An inquest into Hill's death is scheduled for 2 p.m. today at the Coroner's office.

CAR WRECKS AUTOS

Swinging about when its front trucks left the tracks, a street car yesterday injured two motorists and partly demolished their automobiles at Pico street and Norton avenue. Nathan Blumenfeld, 36, of 1040 South Cloverdale avenue, received rib fractures and possible internal injuries, and Dewey Stone, 32, of 1695 Ocean Front street, Santa Monica, a broken finger and injuries to his chest.

The street car, according to police, was in charge of Motorman R. S. Biddele and Conductor C. R. Clark. They reported that ball-bearings evidently had dropped from a passing motor truck into the track groove and derailed the car. A front axle of the car was broken in the accident.

HIT-AND-RUN DRIVER HUNTED

Deputy sheriffs yesterday were seeking a hit-and-run driver who Sunday evening struck and seriously injured Mrs. Clemencia Wilber, 67 years of age, 1259 South Bonnie Beach street, at the intersection of Ninth and Herbert streets.

Mrs. Wilber is in the General Hospital suffering from a possible skull fracture and other injuries.

The accident occurred while the woman was attempting to cross the street. After striking Mrs. Wilber, the motorist fled, outdistancing a second motorist who tried to overtake him, investigating officers reported.

POLICE LAUNCH SAFETY DRIVE

uty Chief Davis upon failure of motorists to respect the rights of pedestrians in crosswalks. Pedestrians in such cases have the right of way and the law demands that drivers come to a full stop, particularly when the pedestrian is on the same side of the street as the motorist. This section of the law is persistently violated, police investigators report, and many fatal accidents have resulted.

The survey which led to Davis's order was begun several weeks ago by the traffic bureau, but officers were instructed only to issue warnings. Motorcycle police were stationed at boulevard stops along all the major traffic arteries during the morning and evening rush hours. The purpose was to study the situation and thus determine, by first-hand evidence, the percentage of drivers who habitually violate the law.

The ratio was alarmingly high, Davis said.

Russian Actress and Pianist Wed

Miss Galina Kopernak, Russian actress, and Max Rabinowitsh, Russian pianist, were married by Superior Judge Guerin in the Courthouse yesterday afternoon, with Dmitri Tomkin, composer, and C. Bakaleinikoff as witnesses.

He is now connected with the newly established talkie department of a local studio, and teaching voice in Hollywood. The bride gave her age as 28 years, and Rabinowitsh his as 36.

Charles Bowman Found Guilty of Manslaughter

Charles F. Bowman, 44 years of age, of 917 South Broadway, was convicted in Superior Judge Fricke's court yesterday of a charge of manslaughter arising out of an automobile accident which occurred on Christmas Day. Judge Fricke permitted Bowman to file an application for probation.

It is charged that Bowman ran down and killed David C. Hallyer, 55, of 1535 Anderson street, injuring two other persons seriously.

The accident occurred at Pico Boulevard and Toberman street.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bristol of 1552 West Pico Boulevard are the other persons injured in the accident.

Officers charged that Bowman had been drinking.

WEST PLEADING FOR HOME LIFE

Scout Executive Addresses Social Agencies

No Substitute for Parental Love, He Declares

Outline of Hoover's Survey on Children Given

The preservation of the home as the foundation of organized society is the most essential concern today of the men and women interested in child welfare problems, in the opinion of James B. West, national chief Scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America, speaking before members of the Council of Social Agencies yesterday in the auditorium of the Broadway Department Store.

"No matter how humble it may be," said Mr. West, "there is nothing that can take the place of the parental love and attention a child receives at home and it is this affectionate interest which is the fundamental basis of real character building. There must be no competition between agencies and homes and parents must not be allowed to feel that an agency is a place where a child can be parked so that the parents shall be free to their pursuits of pleasure."

SURVEY REVIEWED

Mr. West came here several days ago to attend a regional Boy Scout meeting. His appearance before the Council of Social Agencies yesterday was to outline the purpose of President Hoover's child health and protection investigation. Mr. West is chairman of the committee on children outside of the home and [illegible].

He gave a brief history of the investigation, which will cover the field of national child welfare agencies and some private ones.

[illegible] HEAD OF SCOUTS

The hope of the survey, he said, is that out of it will come something which will challenge an informed, intelligent and human interest in the well-being of the boys and girls of the country.

Mr. West has been chief executive of the Boy Scouts since 1910, the year of its inception, and in the [illegible] he has acted as counselor to four Presidents of the United States on child welfare matters.

She then sued for [illegible] damages.

JAPANESE HARP PLAYER ARRIVES

Koto Expert Plans to Give Instructions

Mrs. Sai Amagasa

A TOUCH of the color of ancient Japan came to Los Angeles yesterday in the person of Mrs. Sai Amagasa, Nippon's foremost artist of the koto, or Japanese harp. Here by invitation of leading Japanese residents to give a year's course of instruction, Mrs. Amagasa arrived aboard the Nippon Yusen Kaisha motor liner Asama Maru.

The koto which Mrs. Amagasa brought to Los Angeles is itself said to be more than 100 years old, while the first native harp, still unchanged in type through the centuries, was devised in the ninth century.

The koto, having the appearance of a willow log, is very susceptible to weather conditions, according to Mrs. Amagasa. It "catches cold" on the least provocation, she says, and therefore is kept carefully wrapped in heavy silks when taken outdoors.

Widow of War Veteran Files for Back Pay

In order to permit the widow of Robert D. Catherman, soldier with the A. E. F. in Siberia, to collect $3100 in back pay due Catherman from the government, Attorney L. Greenbaum yesterday filed letters of administration to the veteran's estate.

Catherman in 1918 gained considerable notice when he trained a machine gun on a barge load of Russian officers, killing twenty-nine of them. Just before his death last Armistice Day Catherman's claims to full disability were recognized by the government. His widow will collect $3100.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO HAVE HOME

Pretentious Edifice to House State Relics Will Be Erected Here

Plans to build a permanent home forthe Los Angeles Historical Society are being prepared.

Details have not yet been made public, but it is announced by the society that the building will be in the form of an early Spanish adobe to carry out the spirit of early Los Angeles. Instead of the solid adobe walls, however, the plans call for a steel frame with concrete, the adobe being merely for facing and ornamentation. The building will be fireproof and a safe depository for the hostoric relics dealing with the pioneer period of Los Angeles, which are gradually being assembled.

According to present plans the corner-stone of the building will be laid on the 150th anniversary of the founding of Los Angeles, September 4, 1931. The event will be preceded by a pageant depicting the various steps in the development of Los Angeles from its beginning.

officer of such agency. I emphasize and stress the latter statement, lest there be lurking anywhere the thought that the City Prosecutor's office under my jurisdiction has been reluctant to furnish these records promptly to anybody or person entitled to their use.

"I now wish to repeat my policy of office: The City Prosecutor's office, since my incumbency, has expeditiously prosecuted every infraction of the law in the Julian cases with which the office is empowered to deal. And under my jurisdiction my office will continue at all times, to promptly co-operate with any and all law-enforcing agencies or responsible officers seeking to right any wrong which may have been committed upon the person or persons of the State of California."

Nix was accompanied to the grand jury room by his deputies, Kroll, Lindley and Jack. They were not questioned.

FIVE TO APPEAR

At the same time the grand jury swings into action five defendants named in indictments on charges of bribery in connection with the Julian case acquittals will appear before Superior Judge Wood for plea and date of trial. They are Berman and his brother, Louis Berman; S. C. Lewis, former head of the defunct corporation; Louis Krause, asserted detective and Berman "go-between," and John C. Groves, a juror. Frank C. Grider, another juror, who was named in the batch of bribery indictments, will be arraigned and may enter his plea. When the others were arraigned last week Grider appeared without an attorney. Since that time he has retained Attorney William B. Beirne of Rush & Beirne. The Grider counsel was undecided last night as to his court action today.

Action of the United States District Court of Appeals yesterday in denying the rehearing of the conviction of Berman and Lewis on charges of using the mails to defraud will not affect the present investigation, according to Fitts.

"The seven-year sentence in Federal prison and $16,000 fine which now appears certainly faced by Lewis and Berman will not deter our present inquiry in any way," the District Attorney announced.

News of the denial of his appeal reached Lewis while he was testifying in a civil suit now pending before Superior Judge Tappaan, brought by Julian stockholders against members of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange.

ROW ON ACCOUNT

Lewis was completing testimony he started some weeks ago, and the chief part of his evidence for the day brought a heated discussion between the witness and Attorney Morrow over a special account of R. M. Reese on the A. C. Wagy Company, stockholders, books.

Morrow contended that the account was in reality that of Lewis, and known as a "ficticious account." Lewis held that it was a regular house account, held by the firm which he formerly owned. Both agreed, however, that the account, whether "ficticious" or "house," had no connection with Reese.

At the start of the afternoon session, Lewis asked for a recess, asserting that he was ill, and so nervous that he could not continue. The request was granted and the hearing will be resumed today at 11 a.m.

CHARGES "FRAMING"

Before his attack of illness and earlier in the day, Lewis delivered a scathing charge against brokers, who he contended were guilty of "framing" the recent jury-bribing cases against him.

He declared that J. H. Weaver, one of the witnesses before the grand jury, came to his office some three weeks ago and told him that B. M. Strickland, a member of the stockholders' committee and others, had paid him $2000 to make an affidavit of the jury bribing. Lewis also charged that Weaver was to name him as the briber and to mix Mrs. Caroline Love and others in the scheme.

Weaver asked him, according to Lewis, how much it would be worth to him to halt the moves. Lewis said that he immediately wrote a letter to Attorney Morrow asking him what he knew about the asserted plot. Morrow, according to Lewis, repied that he knew nothing about it.

LETTERS SHOWN

Lewis showed copies of the letters he claims were exchanged, both under date of January 29, this year. In his letter Lewis tells Morrow that Weaver had been taken to the District Attorney's office by investigators and accused of having made the statement about jury bribing to Strickland. Lewis then offers a challenge to the defendants in the civil suit to take the entire matter before the District Attorney and have he grand jury "reopen the Julian Petroleum Corporation case from start to finish."

In replying, Morrow said that he had never heard of Weaver, and that Strickland was unknown to him or his client except through observation in the courtroom. Morrow also calls attention to the fact that Lewis is testifying under oath, and he does not care to continue correspondence on the matter, and requests that the letter and reply close the issues raised.

tried with C. O. Steppe, their Canadian representative, on the charge of using the mails to defraud with the sale of gold certificates in connection with the financing of the Lewis Oil Company, the California properties of which the Julian Petroleum Corporation later acquired.

STEPPE PLEADED GUILTY

They were indicted by a Federal grand jury in May of 1928, and their trial began on September 26. Witnesses from all over the United States and Canada were subpoenaed to appear. Steppe, who was indicted on only one count, pleaded guilty and was fined $1000.

Lewis and Berman were found guilty on seven counts each. Judge Henning sentenced each to five years at McNeil's Island and fined them $1000 on each of six counts, the sentences to run concurrently. On the seventh count each defendant was sentenced to two years at McNeil's Island and fined $10,000. The verdict meant that both Lewis and Berman must serve a total of seven years and pay fines of $16,000.

MAILS USED

An appeal for a new trial was denied and Berman's attorney filed notice of an appeal before the United States Court of Appeals. A mandate staying execution of the sentence was allowed and Lewis and Berman were required to post $75,000 bail each on the appeal. A reversal of the lower court's verdict was argued on a writ of error, but yesterday's verdict disallowed it.

Robber's Wife Seek's Divorce

Asserting that her husband, Lynn Keith, is serving a minimum sentence of seven years for bank robbery, Mrs. Hazel Keith is suing for divorce in Superior Court.

Keith was convicted of robbery a year ago, according to the petition. Divorce court records show that most convicts' wives sue them for divorce in less than a year and very few wait more than three years before filing.

Mrs. Keith asks custody of her child, Donald, 2 years of age.

CRANDALL'S WEDDED LIFE TERMINATED

Wife of Former Chamber Head Granted Decree and Property Division

Mrs. Katherine W. Crandall was given an interlocutory decree of divorce from Shannon Crandall, former president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, late yesterday by Superior Judge Archbald. Mental cruelty was asserted by the wife.

Besides the decree Mrs. Crandall was given the income from a $125,000 trust fund, $26,000 in cash, a Lincoln automobile and substantial attorney fees.

Under the questioning of her counsel, Chester E. Cleveland, Mrs. Crandall declared that during the later years of her married life her husband's demeanor toward her was "ugly and sour;" that he frequently went for weeks without talking to her and that when they were out on trips and anyone showed her any consideration he would quarrel with her and be surly toward her.

Mrs. Crandall further declared that one time when mutual friends asked her husband why he did not take his wife out more, he replied that it was because she had a lot of Puritanical ideas.

According to the camplaint, Mr. and Mrs. Crandall were married October 30, 1901, and separated November 21, 1929. They have two children, a son, Shannon Crandall, Jr., 27 years of age, and a daughter Frances Crandall, 24.

DINNER DECLARED THROWN OUTDOORS

Alfred A. Marshall flew into a fit of rage on Christmas Day, 1929, grabbed the Yuletide turkey and the rest of the dinner from the table and threw it all outdoors, Mrs. Marshall testified yesterday before Superior Judge Moncur when seeking a divorce on the ground of cruelty. Represented by Attorney W. G. Mason, Mrs. Marshall said her husband grew angry at her son-in-law. He threw the young man out of the house and the dinner after him, she said. They married on September 10, 1929, and separated four months later. A decree was granted.

LANDMARKS GROUP ORGANIZES

R. F. Del Valle Made Chairman of Committee Formed for Sponsoring Historic Development Near Plaza, at Meeting Held in Old Avila Adobe

Senator R. F. Del Valle was elected permanent chairman of the Civic Center History and Landmarks Committee at the formal organization of that group yesterday at a luncheon meeting at the Avila adobe, 14 Olvera street, at which James R. Martin was host. Herman Lichtenberger had been serving as temporary chairman and Miss Marian Parks is secretary of the committee.

This group, composed of about thirty-five original members, persons prominent in the civic, business and club life of the city, is organized for the purpose of sponsoring historic development in the north end of the Civic Center, in that section lying between Sunset Boulevard and Ord street.

Olvera street and the Avila adobe have been their inspiration, according to Miss Parks, and it will be the aim of the committee to make its work tie in with the Avila project. In the district, she said, there are about six adobes, several old brick houses and one very old wooden one which will be the object of the organization's endeavors.

Gordon Whitnall, director of the City Planning Commission, spoke briefly on the feasibility of historic development in the Civic Center area. He said there is splendid opportunity to begin with in the geographic exactness of the Civic Center, the architectural reality in the old buildings and the historic background.

The organization also will sponsor a movement to petition the City Council to give the north spur of Spring street its original name of Primavera street, in order that it will fit more perfectly into the general scheme of things in the Plaza.

Rites Tomorrow for Mrs. Wilson

Funeral services for Mrs. Bertha Augusta Wilson, milliner with headquarters in New York for many years, will be conducted tomorrow at 3 p.m. at Pierce Brothers chapel, 720 West Washington Boulevard. Entombment will be in Inglewood Park Mausoleum.

Mrs. Wilson was born in Germany, and at 16 years of age came alone to the United States. She became successful as a milliner, and eventually owned and managed a chain of stores in New York, St. Paul and Chicago.

Sixteen years ago Mrs. Wilson, with her husband, Orris Perry Wilson, a New York newspaper man, retired from business, and the couple since had made Los Angeles their home, touring the United States or Europe annually. Five years ago Mrs. Wilson was paralyzed, but in spite of this Mr. and Mrs. Wilson toured as far as the Middle West each summer. She died last Saturday at her home at 955 North Alvarado street at 74. She leaves her husband, a sister, Mrs. Ernestine Whaley; a brother, Herman E. Brandt of St. Paul, Minn., and a niece, Mrs. Amanda Stuewe of Los Angeles.

Mann Act Case Defense Almost Stumps Judge

United States District Judge Killits, veteran of the Federal bench, apparently was doubtful yesterday about the case of George Ferris, recently convicted on a charge of violating the Mann Act by transporting Leslie Tullos, a young woman, from Shreveport, La., to Los Angeles for improper purposes.

The court had previously remarked that it seemed incredible that a young man should travel fifteen days with a young woman without kissing her. It was stated to the court that the defendant had left a wife and a child to go with the young woman. The court pronounced a sentence of thirteen months at McNeil Island prison for Ferris.

MAP SUBMITTED

The assessment district map for the improvement of Westwood Boulevard from Santa Monica Boulevard to Pico Boulevard was submitted to the City Council yesterday by the City Engineer and referred to the Public Works Committee.

Today's Bible Text

There is therefore now no condemnation of them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.—Romans viii, 1.

THAT GOOD-WILL TOUR

Uruguay plans a Pan-American air congress in connection with its centennial celebration. This is a real result of the Lindbergh visit to Latin countries.

THAT LONG SLEEP

Boy, unconscious for a month, gets big headlines in the newspapers. Some of our public officials, who have been sleeping for years, get little more than a passing notice.

FIND SAFETY PAYS

Factory employers who fought State regulation in the interest of safety for employees now are conducting an educational campaign among workers in New York to cut accidents down to a minimum.

PITY THE ENUMERATOR

Census director orders enumeration to begin April 2, fearing the people would give "foolish answers" on All Fools Day. From the experience of past performances, "foolish answers" are not confined to any day.

TO LET—ONE THRONE

King Alfonso is said to be thinking of abdicating. He should stop and consider. Better hang on to your scepter for a while, yet, Alf. However, thanks for the yacht races in Southern California waters!

HIGHWAY BILLBOARDS

The best reply to those who are arguing in favor of retaining billboards on highways was given recently by Dr. Henry Van Dyke when he said: "Why advertise the beauty of scenery on billboards that deface it?"

THE OLD SOCK

The millions of Americans who want to keep what they have made would not look kindly on the suggestion of H. G. Wells that the boundaries of nations be scrapped. We've had to tighten up the immigration laws as it is.

VISITING THE SICK

The American Red Cross and Miss Mabel Boardman, who originated the idea, have started a new activity of the organization that will meet with commendation everywhere. Twenty-eight women have been graduated from a special course that trained them to visit the sick in civilian hospitals.

CAR CASUALTIES

The car casualties for 1929 have just been released by the State statisticians. Either the list was unusually long and required time, or the authorities were hesitant about telling the public. A 20 per cent gain of killings was made over the year preceding.

A total of 2243 lives were offered up on the altar of the speed god last year, says the State Department of Public Health at Sacramento.

In 1928, there were 1719 deaths from automobile accidents. Automobile fatalities increased faster last year than the relative gain in the number of registered motor vehicles. We had 2,062,143 motor vehicles registered in 1929. This was an increase of about 180,000 over the preceding year. The death rate per 1000 rose from .99 in 1928 to 1.1 in 1929.

We slew 267 children under 15 years of age as compared with 254 the year before. About 12 per cent of the fatalities are the innocents of our homes.

Alpine, Plumas and Trinity counties came through without a single fatal accident. However, their land largely stands on end and is almost inaccessible to cars in places. And when vehicles do enter, they chug along so slowly on the grades that the dangerous curves and yawning chasms are guiltless. The records show that the greatest number of accidents occur where travel seems the safest. There we take chances.

San Francisco is to be commended for the dropping of her traffic toll from 144 in 1928 to 118 in 1929. However, San Francisco is not a motorable city. It is almost entirely surrounded by water and her streets do not invite cars.

Los Angeles jumped up her mortality list from 137 in 1928 to 189 in 1929. The excuse is not apparent. The urge to get there ahead of the other fellow is largely responsible.

LAST CALL FOR SETTLEMENT

The statement of Secretary of Interior Wilbur that he proposes, as soon as the power agreement contracts are signed, to ask an appropriation from Congress to begin work on Boulder Dam and that dirt may start to fly late in the summer, is, in effect, a warning both to Arizona and to California that the time is growing short in which they may effect a friendly settlement. If Arizona wants anything more than the Boulder Dam Act allots her—and she has frequently professed that that enactment does not meet her requirements—there is one way to be sure of getting it, and that is through a tri-State compact.

California may seem to be sitting pretty with steps being taken to put construction under way, but as a matter of fact her position is not quite so comfortable as this. Her way to security, also, is through a tri-State compact, and she ought to make every reasonable effort to get it.

There is an "if" in the situation, or rather two "ifs," of which one is much larger than the other. The smaller "if" is the attitude of Congress, which might balk at appropriating money, though the requirements set forth in the Boulder Dam Act have been complied with, over the objections of Arizona, which no doubt will be voiced in both the Senate and the House. For Congress to refuse the appropriation would not be logical, after its own conditions have been met, but Congressional votes are not always swayed by logic. There is latent opposition to this development in various parts of the United States, upon various grounds. But with Arizona joining the other States of the Colorado basin, as she would do if the tri-State agreement had been reached, it is not likely that the opposition would amount to much.

The other "if" is that not even the ablest lawyers can tell which way the United States Supreme Court will decide certain legal issues involved—there is no certainty as to the outcome of the suit which Arizona will file against the carrying out of the Boulder Dam Act. The decision might favor Arizona or might favor California, or might even go further and knock all the contentions of both galley-west, and with them all Federal action in reclamation and flood-control matters. There is, actually, uncertain constitutional justification for Congress to do anything in connection with a stream except improve its navigability. While the Boulder Dam Act and any other Colorado River control act—even one which Arizona ardently desires—will purport in its title to be for the improvement of navigation, everybody knows that that is merely a convenient fiction. And such convenient fictions do not always stand up under court test.

Both Arizona and California, therefore, have excellent reason for not wanting to take the matter into court, when there is a possibility that the result might blast the hopes of both. The sane and sensible thing to do is for these States to avoid the courts and get together, making such mutual concessions and compromises as are necessary. Of water there is plenty for both, of power more than the present market, at least, can well absorb. Protection from floods is urgently needed by both States.

In a tri-State pact there is certainty; in a lawsuit there are all sorts of uncertainties. The only sure thing about a lawsuit is that it will bring about expense and delay.

THE DOHENY ACQUITTAL

The verdict of a jury which found Edward L. Doheny not guilty of giving a bribe to Albert B. Fall, who has been found guilty of receiving it, certainly creates a legal anomaly, but one inherent in the jury system. The same thing has happened before and will happen again. The verdict of one jury is not binding on another, and there is never anything to prevent one set of twelve persons from taking a different view of the same transaction from another set of twelve persons. One verdict is entitled to as much respect as the other, inconsistent as they are. It must be remembered that while these two juries passed upon opposite phases of the same transaction, they did not have before them exactly the same evidence.

Fall's efforts to cover up the source of the $100,000 which he received from Doheny was largely responsible for his conviction. Doheny admitted the payment, declaring it a loan to an old friend. The jury believed him.

But it was the same transaction and the same money in each case. If one is guilty, both are. If Doheny goes free Fall should not be punished. The brand of "faithless public servant" which the Supreme Court fixed upon him is, it would seem, punishment enough, in view of the fact that no other stigma is or can be placed upon Doheny.

THE MEANS "REVELATIONS"

It is to be hoped that the general public, to which has been offered a sensational and salacious book by Gaston B. Means, who once, unfortunately, was a Department of Justice agent, will suspend judgment at least concerning the attacks he makes upon the reputation of the late President Harding. The fact that Means is an ex-convict and confessed grafter does not, of course, necessarily mean that he is lying in this instance, but it certainly should be weighed in considering his credibility.

If, as seems likely, Means is proved a slanderer in this authorship, it will not have been the first time he has been caught lying. He has been thoroughly discredited in other "exposures" and has been involved in many shady transactions, in addition to the ones which caused his imprisonment.

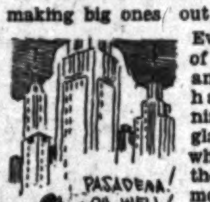
His object in publishing his "memoirs" is to make money, and obviously he has every incentive to exaggerate and to distort. The incidental blackening of his own reputation means nothing to him; that was already so bad that it could hardly be made worse. United States Attorney Rover at Washington has promised a thorough investigation of the allegations in the book, which in all probability will prove their falsity and the ulterior motives of Means.

JOB FOR KAYE DON

If the Silver Bullet can do 150 to 200 miles per hour by just "stepping on her a little," why not bring Kaye Don to Los Angeles after the speed tests to line up some of our "hit-and-runners"?

The Lee Side o' L.A.
by Lee Shippey

PASADENA, we are almost sorry to see, is outgrowing itself. In every downtown block builders are busy making big ones out of little ones. Even the corner of Fair Oaks and Colorado is hardly recognizable at first glance to one who has not been there for some months.



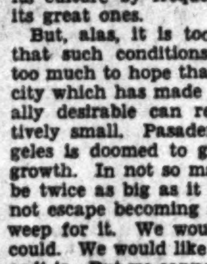
PASADENA! OH, WELL!

We say we are almost sorry because Pasadena has seemed to us an ideal city, large enough to have the finest of schools and the best of public improvements, yet small enough to be neighborly—a place in which most of the real people know each other, and take interest in each other. With an unusual proportion of citizens of national or world importance, Pasadena takes pride in its own and enhances its culture by frequent contact with its great ones.

But, alas, it is too much to hope that such conditions can last. It is too much to hope that any Southland city which has made itself exceptionally desirable can remain comparatively small. Pasadena like Los Angeles is doomed to great and steady growth. In not so many years it will be twice as big as it is now. It cannot escape becoming a great city. We weep for it. We would save it if we could. We would like to see it always as it is. But we cannot see the slightest hope for it.

Where Notables Abound

E. Willard Spurr of Pasadena probably has the most notable collection of autographed photographs of notable people to be found in California. Spurr has won only three loving cups and twenty-three medals at various world's fairs and photography exhibitions, and he also is an official photographic correspondent for the New York Times. Nearly every celebrity who visits Pasadena visits Spurr's studio, which is in his home, and he has hundreds of photographs which these sitters have signed to him in appreciation of his artistic work.



"He Seen His Duty"

Since our colyum reported the rebuke of the lady who asked, "What would Mr. Coolidge say?" in calling attention to our grammatical blunder in saying, "He seen his duty and done it," several interesting letters have come in. One is from a lady who explains that the expression originated "with a Missouri politican, an ignorant old fellow named Sockless Jerry Simpson." We withhold that lady's name for fear some of our Kansas friends would slay her, as "Sockless Jerry" happened to be a Kansan and an extremely shrewd, keen man, a sort of Will Rogers of his day.

Another letter is from James Morgan, distinguished Boston editor and historian, who writes: Dear Lee: Let me come to the rescue of the lady in distress over, "'He seen his duty and done it.' I doubt that Mr. Coolidge would choose to say anything about it, but another President, Benjamin Harrison, not only condoned the offense but appointed the offender his Secretary of Agriculture. This was Jerry Rusk, who modestly disclaimed public applause for an act of his as Governor of Wisconsin by saying that he, 'only seen his duty and done it.'"

Hoping Too Much

Lee: I see that now the talkies are to be smellies, too — that odors as well as sound will be given out by the screen. Let us hope this will mean the end of rotten pictures.—Fuller Prunz.

HARDLY CONCEIVABLE IN THIS DAY AND AGE!

Waiting the First Client

The open office waits for him,
The new stenog. so eager.
The lawyer full of pep and vim—
But business is so meager!
The lawyer sighs, the days fly by,
But still he does not come.
At last the lawyer finds out why—
It is because he's dumb.—I. M.

Why not try advertising?

P.S.: In the meantime, look out for those eager stenogs.

Hay Shocking

Miss Anne Thrope writes us that you can make hay while the sun shines, that's proof it's shocking weather.

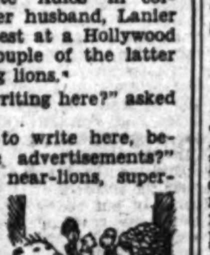
Some Mild Interest

Many great and famous — and modest—people are coming to Hollywood as the result of talking pictures, but alas there are some who merely try to appear great and famous. Mrs. Bartlett, who wrote "Adios" in collaboration with her husband, Lanier Bartlett, was a guest at a Hollywood tea at which a couple of the latter were impersonating lions.

"What are you writing here?" asked Mrs. Bartlett.

"What is there to write here, besides real estate advertisements?" asked one of the near-lions, superciliously.

"Oh, I don't know," said Mrs. Bartlett. "But I just received a cablegram from London asking for European rights on my book, 'Adios,' which is all about California. So it seems as if some people might be interested."



SPRING IS HERE

The time is coming when the fishing will be a little better on the other side of the lake, the strawberries and watermelons will be sweeter in your neighbor's patch and the flowers will be a little fresher and brighter a little farther on in the desert.

CHURCH TOWERS

Churches started skyscrapers by pushing their towers up into the sky. Now a San Francisco congregation has run its tower up thirty stories and has filled them with apartments and 500 guest rooms. Modern religion has more than bells and bats in its belfry.

SO PASSES ROMANCE

By James J. Montague

In the Balkans the bandit no more
Goes forth of a night to his work
In a cloak from a costumer's store,
And armed with a saber and dirk.
No longer this villain, whose sinister voice
Is never uplifted in psalmody,
Plies his rascally trade on the highways, arrayed
In the garments of musical comedy.

Of old, these felonious lads,
When they rode in pursuit of their prey,
Wore trousers as gorgeous as plaids
And overcoats equally gay.
And their victims considered it almost worth while,
Though they ransomed themselves with fat bonuses,
And footed it home through the chill Balkan gloam,
To be robbed by such dashing Adonises.

But lately a different type
Of highwayman lurks over there,
Who uses a length of lead pipe
Which he wields with a truculent air.
The clothes that he wears are devoid of all taste—
They would make the well-dressed person shivery—
And he fells to the sod with a blackjack or "rod"
The folks who are slow in delivery.

Thus the poetry passes from crime
In the spot where it held its last stand.
No longer are hold-ups sublime
And nobly and handsomely planned.
Like the crooks along State street or Upper Broadway
The brigands are rude and importunate;
Only yeggmen abound all the wide world around,
Which to me seems extremely unfortunate.

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

MACHINES AND EMPLOYMENT

[San Francisco Chronicle]

In presenting evidence of the rise in employment during January James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, is happier than he sometimes is in speculative discussion of causes of unemployment.

In a recent radio address Mr. Davis warned against the "robotizing" of America through the too free use of labor-saving machinery. It seemed odd to hear so progressive a thinker as the Secretary of Labor talk in this vein. That a new machine may and often does throw large numbers of workers temporarily out of employment is a fact. But it is an insignificant fact compared with the larger truth that machinery has been one of the great contributing factors to the permanent improvement of the industrial masses.

Dr. Thomas Thornton Read's survey showing that the United States is doing as much work as all Europe and Asia combined is a complete answer to the fear of machinery.

THE CHILD STALINS

[Chicago Tribune]

Child Communists who have been working in the public schools to bring their schoolmates and playmates to class consciousness and then have them chase the bourgeoisie up the street were taken into court for inciting a school strike. Their artless prattle of the revolution interested the judge, who asked them if they were not willing to work their reforms a little less violently. No, they weren't. They were Reds and they wanted red meat.

Juveniles may find Communism an interesting child's game. It has a great many things attractive to them. There is the illusion of maturity, essential in an exciting game. They can talk just as sensibly as a grown-up Communist, with a patter of mystic phrases. They are supposed to be quite terrifying, a thing the most amiable child likes occasionally to be, but the amiable ones do not carry it beyond reason. They will relent, when it has gone far enough, and confess that they are not really hairy wolves and the folks can come down off the piano, and as a reward could they have some candy? Then there is the destructiveness and some children think they would like to shoot 'em down and lop off heads, burn big buildings, and divide up the contents of confectionery stores.

Communism, with a good bedtime story teller, might do something in the kindergarten where its general logic would confine it.

[New York Times]

The Hon. Butler B. Hare of South Carolina has expatiated in the Senate on the remarkably high iodine content of Palmetto vegetables, fruit and milk. Will the Hon. Hiram Johnson accept these statements as fact or will he rise in behalf of the calumniated, protected products of his own "fair State"?

"In South Carolina the iodine content of peas is 197 and 8.4 in California; potatoes, 519 in South Carolina; spinach, 424 in South Carolina, 26 in California. The iodine content of squash is 1018, in South Carolina, sweet potatoes, 135; tomatoes, 273 in South Carolina, 17.5 in California; asparagus, 145 in South Carolina, and 12 in California; cabbages, 504 in South Carolina; cucumbers, 527; and eggplant, 338."

Nobody can surpass us in veneration for iodine. Yet, in justice, we must remind Mr. Hare that if Cole Blease owes much of his vigor, graciousness and statesmanlike views to the rich iodines of his native foodstuffs, Hiram Johnson has grown great and learned to suffer and be strong on California products as fortunate and life-giving in other ways.

Council May Defeat Bonds

LOS ANGELES, March 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I venture to predict, that unless something intervenes the proposed bond issue to be voted on in May may be defeated as was the school-bond issue. This misfortune will be almost entirely the fault of the majority in the City Council, who by their methods have thoroughly disillusioned the voters. The poor and those of moderate means have the same vote as the well-to-do.

They have been betrayed by so many pre-election promises concerning special assessment and zone law changes that no amount of propaganda in the shape of ringing appeals in newspaper articles and frantic warnings by city officials is going to change them and unless some great change of heart occurs the city will be placed in jeopardy.

Unfortunately this seems to be the only method to call attention to the predicament of the small property owner, the public may and does vote new men into office only to find that their reform candidate slips and is presently bolstering up some retrograde movement in the zoning law or saddling a host of small property owners with another special assessment because it is wanted by another group to whom financially it gives no trouble. Nothing short of placing the city in danger will satisfy them and they are surely asking for it. A. F. N.

Hearing Fully Reported

LOS ANGELES, March 19.—[To the Editor of The Times:] My regard for The Times has been very materially increased because of the fact that liberal space has been given to report fully the hearing of the "dry" witnesses before the Congressional committee. I am sure that information given out in this way will do the cause of law enforcement in support of the Constitution of the United States tremendous benefit.

Sir Esme's Example

BEVERLY HILLS, March 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] That inspirational article on your editorial page—"Sir Esme Howard to Learn a Trade"—took effect on me instantly, with the result that I am presenting to a friend of mine, who owns a poultry ranch in San Fernando Valley, a plan to develop the property, with my aid and the aid of my family. I have never done any physical work, but have realized for a long time that the real labor of this world ought to be done by all classes of men, in order to improve the standard of health, morality and longevity. I recall the remark made by the German Kaiser at the time of his threatened dethronement when he said, "I can't go hungry. I have a trade. I am a scissors grinder."

Joke Went Astray

SOUTH PASADENA, March 20. [To the Editor of The Times:] I thought you might enjoy knowing how clippings from your paper travel around the country, and even go abroad. Several weeks after Christmas I wrote a friend in Detroit and inclosed a number of "Will Rogers's Remarks" and some of "The Lancer." My friend sent them to a friend, an English minister in Iowa, and he sent them to his father in England. I am wondering if the Englishman could see the joke or jokes. I enjoy the editorial page and clip that quite a bit.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Auto Mechanics?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

The free auto mechanics class at the Bell Evening High School, 4328 East Bell avenue, Bell, is rejoicing in a factory cut-away 1929 chassis—Willys-Overland—showing all working parts, such as the motor, transmission, rear end, brakes and timing chain. This was a gift of the Willys-Overland factory. All students in the class have the free use of this chassis for study purposes. There is no charge of any kind in this class, and men and women of all ages are welcome. The work is both technical and practical, and all students have the opportunity to work on different makes of "rolling stock." The class meets on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7 to 9, in the auto shop of the school.

Apple-blossom time in Normandy and cherry-blossom time in Japan have nothing on Louisiana, which is now celebrating azalea time, when State citizens make pilgrimage from the gulf to the northern pine hills, and tourists and artists from elsewhere drive into the Pelican State to enjoy the gorgeous blooms of which twenty-five varieties flame in gardens, fields and woods. A BIRD ORCHESTRA

BY WILLIAM HAMILTON CLINE

Our German opera week is past history, albeit a glorious memory. Our Philharmonic Orchestra season is drawing to a close. And it will yet be some while ere we will listen to our "symphonies under the stars." Are we to be music-starved meanwhile?

Hardly. For now comes for us one of the most delightful of all our harmonic treats; one not duplicated anywhere else at any time; one not to be bought for money, but free to all who will hear—the yearly era of the mocking birds.

And with all due respect to the efforts of mere man to make melody for our souls' good, how feeble are his best endeavors in contrast with the chromatic choruses of these feathered songsters, our most lovely lyric possessions!

First time this spring, they awakened me one recent moonlit night—a whole ensemble of them, gathered in the huge pepper tree that shelters my sleeping porch. (Yes, I know some benighted folk would damn the tuneful mockers, even as others would proscribe our gracile peppers. A murrain upon all such; I'm strong for both.) This silvery night, out of a sound sleep, the clustered choir called me and I awoke gladly, shed my blankets and stood a-shiver while I gloried in the cadenzas and cadences, the trills and runs and intermezzos such as never man could make.

The lacy traceries of the drooping pepper boughs across the white night, with the moon's glow bathing it all in a translucent, eerie beauty, ethereal, unreal; the utterly silent world save for that marvelous melody —what a stage setting it all made, there in the hour 'twixt midnight and morn—an episode which for sheer splendor of surroundings and song no craftsman could emulate—a study in sincere simplicity; an epitome of entrancement.

How many there were of these divas of delight I do not know. When they chorused their united carols, it seemed as if the whole ambiant atmosphere was a-tune. Then would come a hush, to be broken by a solo so simple yet so supernal that the very air became vocally vibrant with its appeal—tender, soft, sweet beyond words. Echoing it from afar, as it seemed, would come the antiphonal reply; then one and another voices would pick up the appointed strains till once more the magnified melody would swell into passionate fortissimo and the night would ring with its reverberations, until before long a full symphony would be in progress —andante, adagio, allegro, scherzo—all the passages perfect in progression, leading on to a finale that was not final, but merely a semiclimax, to be followed by nuances of new beauty, each lovelier than the last.

I've no idea how late it lasted. Chilled, I lay down again full in the misty moonlight, and, enthralled, gave myself up to its enchanting. Slumber came before long; I was lulled to repose again by that ornithological orchestra even while it seemed in a way as if I were dreaming of Elysium and listening, indeed, to the chants of the cherubim and the harmonies of harps of gold.

EZRA ANTHONY HEALY

BY ROCKWELL D. HUNT

Greetings, on this happy birthday, to Dr. Healy, dean-emeritus of the school of religion, dearly beloved of all the Trojan hosts, by the entire university community! Friends and lovers all, we rise with glad acclaim to salute you and your forescore and six years! And at your side, steadfast as time, better than fine gold, Mary Priscilla—her with one accord and with glad acclaim we likewise joyously salute!

Ezra A. Healy was born at Smith's Falls, Ontario, Can., on March 25, 1844. In 1872 he was graduated from Victoria University, subsequently being awarded at the hands of his alma mater the degrees of master of arts and doctor of divinity. He was married to Mary Priscilla Edmunds on July 15, 1872, and thus the twain have traveled together down life's pathway for nearly three-score years.

Dr. Healy possesses in generous measure traits of mind and heart that are all too rare today. His felicitous speech is equalled only by his clear thinking. His ringing rotund voice is well matched by his chaste and perfect diction. Specially happy and generous is he in paying tribute to a friend. His depth of sympathy and of human understanding have subjected him to excessive demand in attendance at funerals of departed friends; his sprightly wit and buoyant, winsome manner have marked him a favorite for performing marriage ceremonies for young couples. It would seem that everybody who knows him loves him—to be acquainted with him is to be his friend. The only thing he is capable of hating is evil, and that he hates with right good will.

Today is Dr. Healy's birthday. May there be many more of them! May his pathway grow brighter and brighter unto the perfect day! It is a matter of joy and felicitation to the University of Southern California that he is in our midst to enjoy its auspicious semicentennial, the dean of the "Silver Committee."

MAN CHEATS DEATH, THEN KILLS SELF

Meat Market Owner Whom Crazed Woman Wounded Commits Suicide

Herman Pfirrmann fatally wounded himself with a shotgun last evening, less than a year after he had escaped death from five bullet wounds inflicted by a crazed woman. He died last night in Georgia-street Receiving Hospital where he was nursed back to convalescence in 1929.

Pfirrmann was 40 years of age, lived at 412 West Sixtieth street and was proprietor of a meat market at 5823 South Broadway. While alone in his market office last evening he fired a shotgun charge into his abdomen. A friend, Richard Perkins of 135 East Florence avenue, who entered the office to visit him, found Pfirrmann dying. Two employees who were in the market, had not heard the shot.

Detective-Lieutenants Patton and Fountain of the Seventy-seventh-street division attributed Pfirrmann's act to financial troubles following the death of his brother George last September.

On May 29, 1929, the same detectives arrested Mrs. Mary Balles of 314 West Fifty-seventh street on a charge of shooting Pfirrman while he was washing his market windows. The woman made wild charges against the market man which were baseless, investigators established. The woman later was committed to the State Hospital at Patton.

Pfirrmann leaves his widow and a daughter.

School Girl's Injury Laid to Accident

An investigation conducted by Superintendent of Schools Bouelle into a report to the Board of Education from Joel Quinones, Mexican Vice-Consul, that a 7-year-old child named Margarita Lopes had been severely punished by a teacher in the Hooper-street school disclosed that there is no truth in the report, Superintendent Bouelle advised the board last night.

The child did suffer a fractured arm, the principal of the school reported, according to Bouelle, but it was the result of a fall when she was accidentally tripped by another girl as she was descending the school stairs.

Upon recommendation of its teachers and schools committee the board accepted this explanation of the incident and instructed its secretary to advise the vice-consul of the facts, with the additional statement that no reason existed for punishing the girl, as her conduct had always been exemplary.

Husband Dead and Wife Dying From Flames

Burned while trying to save his wife from flaming death yesterday, Robert Freedman, 6002 East street, Belvedere Gardens, died in General Hospital last night. Mrs. Gertrude Freedman was reported to be dying at the same hospital.

Sheriff's deputies report that she was cleaning with gasoline which became ignited. Her screams summoned Freedman, whose own clothing was set ablaze in his efforts to smother the flames burning his wife.

Autopsy Called in Girl's Death

An autopsy will be performed today on the body of Magdalene Reber of 1116 West Forty-eighth street, who, according to police, died last Saturday as the result of an illegal operation.

Pending outcome of the autopsy, two men are being held as material witnesses in connection with the death. They are Dr. Roy Millsap of 1126 West Forty-sixth street and Freeman Gulbransen, 20, of 938 West Forty-seventh street, asserted sweetheart of the girl. The physician, according to Detective Captain Bean, has admitted treating the girl for peritonitis but denies performing an operation.

Cooking School Invites Women

All women who enjoy serving unusual dishes should come to The Times Free Cooking School today at 2 o'clock, where Chef Wyman will demonstrate a menu comprising little-known but very appetizing dishes—all of which are especially suitable for serving during Lent.

She will prepare baked asparagus and lettuce, a cheese fondue and chicken-of-the-sea and grapefruit salad. The desserts she will make are a pumpkin custard pie and ginger-ale fanchonettes, which are individual pies made with ginger ale.

The class is held in the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

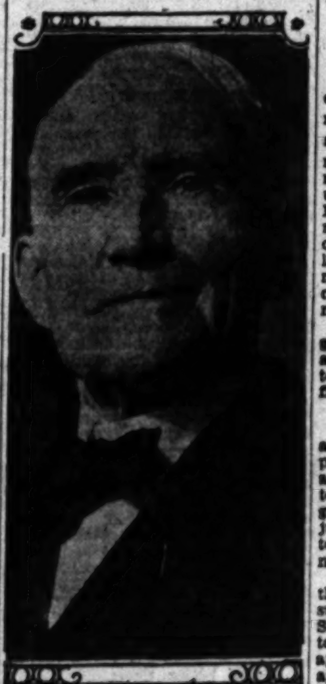
DRY-LEAGUE FOUNDER HERE

Dr. Russell Declares Liquor Already Defined as Issue in Next Presidential Campaign

"We are in the midst of the 1932 Presidential campaign right now and the big issue is spelled with six letters, liquor," said Dr. Howard Hyde Russell, associate general superintendent of the national Anti-Saloon League, yesterday, who is visiting his son, Ernest C. Russell of Glendale. Dr. Russell, who lives at Westerville, O., originated the Anti-Saloon League at Oberlin, O., in 1893.



Dr. Howard Hyde Russell

Although nearly 75 years of age, Dr. Russell is one of the most active league leaders in America and yesterday he gave an interesting resume of the present conditions, together with the Anti-Saloon League's program to meet what he called "the new crisis in the fight for national sobriety."

Discussing the Washington hearings on prohibition, Dr. Russell said:

WORST WITNESS

"Although we did not seek the fight, we consider we whipped them to a frazzle," said Dr. Russell. "The best, or shall we say worst, witnesses for the wets were President Atterbury of the Pennsylvania Railroad and Pierre Du Pont, Delaware powder manufacturer, both of them poor sports who believe in 'personal liberty' for themselves, but would deny it to their employees.

"The Anti-Saloon League is in its second campaign," said Dr. Russell. "The history of civilization shows that in every such reform two campaigns are necessary, the first being a campaign to agitate and organize to enact a law, the second to organize more strongly to create sympathy for, understanding of and enforcement of the new law.

"The law prohibiting slavery was passed by Congress in 1808, but it took a second campaign of fifty-seven years to finish the job," said Dr. Russell. "The Eighteenth Amendment took effect in 1920. War conditions hurried up the passage of the law many years sooner than progress, under normal conditions, would have brought its enactment."

"Would enforcement now be easier had the enactment been more gradual?" Dr. Russell was asked.

DIFFICULT PERIOD

"Yes," he replied. "The people in the wettest cities then would have been more fully taught the truth about alcohol and its dangers in this machine age, and the second campaign, now on, would triumph more quickly. Millions who voted to abolish saloon and brewery mistakenly thought their vote settled the question, but they are waking up to the fact that the enemy is at work.

"The election of California's heroic son and the firm, wise stand of Hoover's administration, not only to obey and enforce the code against liquor lawlessness but against all forms of lawlessness, has brought a new, widespread public sentiment to support the plans of the government," said the speaker.

"Respect for law is growing more popular. On the other hand, a warning has come to all patriots. The wets have formed the fiercest combination ever organized. They now are more notably and shrewdly managed and more strongly financed than ever before."

"To offset this, the Anti-Saloon League will agitate, educate and build up more strongly than ever the necessary public sentiment. Through the media of speech, pen, press, platform and pulpit we shall lay the truth upon the hearts and consciences of Americans. Also, the league will use the new providential methods available, motion pictures and the radio," said Dr. Russell. "Best of all, perhaps, is the youth movement now under way, 'The American Bond,' which firmly binds all patriots in the United States of America. 'The American Bond,' with its cornerstone the American's Creed and the patriotic question boxes (employing the Socratic method of instruction) now is under way in many grammar schools, high schools, colleges and universities. In these institutions of learning there now are 35,000,000 young men and women who will be the patriotic citizens and voters of our nation within the next few years. In coming years 'The American Bond' will outvote the wet 'Crusaders.' By the methods enumerated the citizens of our beloved country shall learn the truth about what the Carnegie Institution calls 'the narcotic, habit-forming poison of ethyl alcohol' and that truth shall make our nation free."

UNEXPECTED RICHES WILL GIVE YOUTHS EDUCATION

Plans for the spending of the first $100,000 of an unexpected inheritance of $700,000 bequeathed to her by a comparative stranger were in the making by Mrs. Fred Mallrup of 1361 Winona Boulevard yesterday. The fortune was left to Mrs. Mallrup by Henri De LaSalle, an 89-year-old citizen of France, who had prospected for gold in California with her uncle.

When notified of her good fortune by the Public Administrator of Paris in an official communication Saturday, Mrs. Mallrup was overwhelmed, not only with joy, but also with astonishment that a man, virtually a stranger, should leave such an amount of money to her. The only provision for the expenditure is a clause directing that she create a trust fund of $100,000 for the financing each year of some boy or girl in college.

Henri De LaSalle obtained the start of his fortune in the gold fields of California and the Yukon. His partner was George La Lamontdier, uncle of Mrs. Mallrup. The uncle, who also left a fortune of $60,000 to Mrs. Mallrup, died in Australia almost six years ago.

"It does not seem possible that good fortune could come twice in one's lifetime," Mrs. Mallrup said. "And it is singular that this comparative stranger should direct me to spend a part of the money for the purpose that I have always dreamed of doing. He could have had no idea that it was my hobby.

"The only time I saw him was when he spent five days in Los Angeles last August while on a trip around the world. He did not appear to be burdened with money and never mentioned the subject. He was interested in my retirement from the stage. He intimated that the only quarrel he and my uncle ever had was over my being on the stage. It was the first hint that I had that I had ever been discussed by the two old prospectors.

"I suppose all my friends want to know how I shall spend the money. I can answer by saying that I do not intend to spend it in any other way than I have used the money my uncle left me. I will live just as I am now living because I have everything I want, but I will be able to give more to charity and to educate young men and women.

"I do not have to make any plans as to how I will finance boys and girls in school, because I have dreamed for years of doing that, but I lacked the money.

"The plan I have formulated will, of course, not permit the students to live in luxury, but they will not be restricted in college social life and athletics. I expect each student helped through college to repay to the trust fund the money he or she has used, after graduation. It will be an honor debt, however, and there will be no contracts.

"I will seek the aid of schools throughout the country to determine worthy cases and I will select the most promising up to the limit of the income. After the students begin to graduate their repayments will start coming in and this will greatly augment the amount I can use each year. In this manner the fund will increase."

Test for Police Captains to Be Held on April 2

The test for captains of police, postponed once at the request of the Police Commission pending its reorganization plans, is to be held on April 2 by the Civil Service Commission. A second request by the Police Commission to hold it over again was turned down recently. It is open to lieutenants of police.

On April 5 there will be a test for promotion of patrolmen, sergeants, fingerprint and handwriting experts to detective lieutenants.

No date has yet been set for the proposed test to create an eligible list for Chief of Police. There have been two postponements of sixty days each since the first of the year at request of the Police Commission.

Not Guilty Plea by McIntire in Hit-Run Death

Charged with running down and fatally injuring Mrs. Margaret Tower while he was in an intoxicated condition, W. R. McIntire, former Los Angeles police officer, yesterday pleaded not guilty to charges of murder, driving while intoxicated and failure to render aid after an automobile accident.

Superior Judge Wood, before whom McIntire appeared, ordered the defendant to appear before Superior Judge Aggeler on April 8, next, for trial.

McIntire's arrest did not occur until nearly three weeks after the woman had been struck down on January 1, last.

SUPERVISORS DELAY MOVE FOR CURBING WINE TONIC

A request of the United Church Brotherhood that the Board of Supervisors pass an ordinance regulating the sale of wine tonics in unincorporated sections of the county was tabled yesterday by the board owing to the absence of Supervisors McClellan and Beaty, both reported ill.

The communication, signed by Attorney J. W. Joos of the civic affairs committee of the church brotherhood, was filed on motion of Supervisor Wright, who expressed the opinion that the subject involved is one of too great importance to be acted on hastily and without all the Supervisors being present. He suggested that discussion be resumed later.

The church brotherhood's move is based on the theory that the general sale of wine tonics of a large alcoholic content is contrary to the intent of the prohibition laws.

BOND PRACTICE RECEIVES UPSET

Judge Bishop Rules Against Municipal Court

Guaranteeing of Fines Not Necessary, He Says

Trio Convicted of Playing Poker Had Appealed

In criminal cases requiring bonds on appeal guaranteeing the payment of fines in addition to the appearance of the defendants, a rule of long standing in the Municipal Court of Los Angeles, was upset yesterday by Superior Judge Bishop when he overruled a demurrer of the lower court in the cases of Lawson Duncan, Zack Williams and Percy Jaggers. The three men were recently convicted on a charge of playing draw poker for money.

The three defendants were found guilty before Municipal Judge Wood and each was sentenced to serve a term in the City Jail and to pay a fine.

DEMURRER FILED

The judget set a bond on appeal at $500 for each defendant. They presented a bond guaranteeing their appearance which the court refused to approve on the ground it did not guarantee the payment of fines. The judge's ruling was made pursuant to an established rule of the Municipal Court.

Failing to obtain the release of the men Attorney Edward R. Brand sued out a writ of mandate in the Superior Court before Judge Bishop to compel the Municipal Court to approve the bonds guaranteeing the appearance of the defendants.

BISHOP OVERRULES

Judge Bishop overruled a demurrer, filed in the cases by the lower court, declaring in his opinion:

"It is my opinion, therefore, that however wise it would be to require a bond on appeal conditioned upon the payment of a fine, that the Legislature has authorized such a bond where the judgment is for a fine only, and that where imprisonment is made a part of the judgment, as here, a bail bond guaranteeing the payment of the fine cannot be required before the defendant may be released on appeal.

"The demurrer is overruled, the respondent given five days to answer."

BEANS BREAK UP HOME

Seeds of fabaceous legumes, ordinarily known as beans, were distasteful to the appetite of the mother-in-law of Walter W. Gregg, according to Mrs. Carol Gregg's divorce complaint on file yesterday, and as a result, Gregg became so abusive around the house that it was impossible to live with him.

"If your mother isn't good enough to eat our beans, she can get out of here," Gregg observed, according to the complaint. In addition, her husband beat her, Mrs. Gregg asserts.

A VARIED, BALANCED DIET MORE IMPORTANT THAN CALORIES

The widespread interest in calories has been stimulated by the equally widespread interest in dieting. While this is fine for an adult under expert guidance, it is unnecessary in feeding average children and sometimes this interest leads to very poor diets.

We can determine the probable number of calories a child will need, according to age and weight, give the child that exact number of calories and still have him very badly fed. Certain foods, such as fats and sugars, contain a large number of calories in a given amount—tablespoon or cup as the case may be. Other foods, notably tomatoes, cabbage and green vegetables of all types, contain a small number of calories in the same amounts. But that does not make cream and sugar better foods to be stressed in the diet than tomatoes or cabbage. We need many foods valuable for their bulk, minerals and vitamins quite aside from their caloric content.

CALORIES NOT FOR AMATEURS

When a mother writes, "Send me a list of all the foods and their caloric values," (it would take a booklet to convey such information,) I feel that the mother has the wrong idea about diet. She is thinking of it in terms of calories and not of food. Such considerations belong to the scientific field of dietetics and not to amateurs.

Children need all kinds of food in the diet. That is supremely important for the mother to know. If she sees that the child gets these varieties and his appetite is satisfied, she needn't have the least idea about the number of calories he is getting to know that he is properly fed.

If the child is grossly overweight she should take pains to see that he gets the same varieties of food in lessened amounts to discourage an enormous gain. If he is underweight and is eating in amounts all he can manage at the moment, she is wise to try adding to his diet foods that are of high caloric content without adding much to the diet's bulk. But again she needs expert help with this problem.

We might compare calories to the better known standard measurement, inches. When we make a dress for a child we fit the dress to her, seeing that it isn't too long or too short. When we get through we don't worry about the dress and say: "Now I wonder if it has the right number of inches in it." It is much the same with calories. Good diets are figured by dietitians to contain an adequate number of calories. If the child gets all the types of foods he should have, if he is fed regularly, eats an amount that satisfies him, keeps him gaining and obviously happy and well, then what odds how many calories are in the diet? If the diet fits the child, that is all that matters.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

> Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

BEEF GOULASH

Cut one pound of lean beef into one-inch squares, dust on both sides with flour, heat two tablespoonfuls of shortening in a saute pan, add the meat, and brown on both sides, when brown add one medium-sized green pepper chopped, two cloves of garlic sliced, one onion chopped fine and just enough water to barely cover the meat; cover tightly and simmer until the meat is tender. Just before serving reduce the liquid and add one cupful of tomato puree, simmer slowly for twenty minutes, then add two cupfuls of cooked noodles, season with salt and paprika; place on a hot platter and sprinkle with chopped parsley.

COCOANUT BUTTERSCOTCH PIE

Two cupfuls of milk, four tablespoonfuls of flour, three tablespoonfuls of butter, one teaspoonful of vanilla, three eggs, one cupful of dark brown sugar, one-eighth of a teaspoonful of salt, and one can of cocoanut, scald the milk in a double boiler, sift the sugar and flour together, and pour over it the scalded milk. Return to the fire and cook, stirring constantly until thick and smooth, add the butter, salt and one-half of the cocoanut. Remove from the fire, stir in the slightly beaten egg yolks, return to the double boiler and cook for one minute longer. When cool add the vanilla, place the mixture in a baked pie shell, make a meringue of the whites of the eggs, place it on top of the mixture and cover with the remainder of the cocoanut. Place in a slow oven and brown.

ASPARAGUS CUPS

Take one pound of fresh or canned asparagus; if fresh, cook it. Make a cream sauce of three tablespoonfuls of butter, two tablespoonfuls of flour, and one cupful of milk, season with salt and pepper, beat one egg slightly and when the cream sauce is thick, add the beaten egg to the mixture, cooking one minute after adding the egg. Take Vienna rolls, cut a slice off at the top and remove the soft center, butter the inside of the shell, and set in the oven until well browned; place three or four stalks of the cooked asparagus in each roll, pour the cream sauce over it, sprinkle with chopped parsley and serve at once.

BREAST OF VEAL WITH GREEN PEAS

Take two pounds of breast of veal and cut in pieces two inches square, place in a Dutch oven or saute pan three tablespoonfuls of butter or shortening; saute the meat until evenly browned, remove it, keep hot and add to the shortening one medium-sized onion, sliced thin, and cook until amber colored, then remove the onion and stir into the hot shortening one fourth of a cupful of flour, stir and cook until the flour has browned: then add two cupfuls of beef stock or water, stir until smooth and boiling: add the meat, onion, and two teaspoonfuls of kitchen bouquet. Then allow to simmer slowly, covered tightly until the meat is tender, season with salt and paprika, and ten minutes before serving add to the mixture one cupful of shelled green peas.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

FLIP FORGETS THE WARNING

In matters that you do not know
Make haste by moving very slow.
—Old Mother Nature.

Over in the Green Forest, Flip the Terrier had slipped away from Bowser the Hound. As fast as his swift-moving little feet could take him he hurried back to where he had seen Prickly Porky the Porcupine. When he and Bowser had left there Pricky Porky had been up in a tree. Flip expected to find him up in a tree now. He had gone back because he wanted to look Prickly Porky over more thoroughly. You see, Bowser had told him about the thousand little spears that Prickly Porky carries on his tail and hidden in the long hair of his coat. Flip wanted to see those little spears again. He was curious about them and he wanted to satisfy his curiosity.

As he approached the tree where they had left Prickly Porky, Flip heard a rustling sound. It came from off to one side. Flip paused and looked that way. He caught a glimpse of some one moving just back of a small hemlock tree. Cautiously Flip moved around to where he could see better. Once he would have rushed around heedlessly, but he had learned that this was not a wise thing to do in the Green Forest. When he reached a point where he could see clearly, there was Prickly Porky shuffling along.

Flip stood still and watched him for a few minutes. "He's the slowest moving fellow I ever saw," thought Flip. "He doesn't look the least bit dangerous. I can see what I suppose are those little spears that Bowser told me about, but I don't see many. Most of those I do see are on hi stail and those are short. His coat seems to me to be mostly long hair. He certainly doesn't look dangerous to me. I believe I could kill him without half trying. Yes, sir, I believe I could kill him in a jiffy."

Just then Prickly Porky turned his head and Flip for the first time saw the long, big, front teeth which Prickly Porky possesses. Those teeth looked as if they might hurt. Yes, sir, they sure looked as if they might hurt. Flip was suddenly filled with respect for those teeth. But when he noticed how very slow Prickly Porky was as he shuffled along, he thought less about those teeth. Excitement began to take possession of Flip. There was no log handy for Prickly Porky to poke his head under. He was right out in the open. The hair began to rise along Flip's shoulders. He growled. Prickly Porky heard that growl and turned.

"You'd better leave me alone," said Prickly Porcupine

"You better leave me alone," said Prickly Porky.

"I haven't touched you yet, have I?" retorted Flip.

"No," replied Prickly Porky, "so I am warning you that you better not."

"Perhaps you think I don't dare to," said Flip.

"I don't care whether you dare to or not," retorted Prickly Porky. "Come ahead and try it if you want to, but I warn you you better not."

By this time Flip had forgotten all about the warning that Bowser the Hound had given him. This slow moving, clumsy fellow didn't look dangerous. Moreover, Flip felt that Prickly Porky was daring him to fight. Flip began to walk around Prickly Porky in the stiff-legged manner a dog sometimes uses when he is getting ready to fight. All the time Flip was growling. He didn't bark. For one thing he didn't want Bowser to interfere again. He didn't feel like barking anyway. He barks when he is excited. When he is angry he growls. And Flip was angry now and growing more so.

Household Suggestions

Spring is Coming

Salt and water make a good cleanser for the wicker furniture, but perhaps a solution of warm water and a little turpentine is even better. It will clean out those crevices like magic.

New Plaster

Newly plastered walls should stand from eight to ten weeks before being painted or papered and even longer if the weather proves damp. A successful job cannot be done over plaster that is not thoroughly dried out.

All Gone

Berry and other fruit stains are prevalent at this time of the year and here is where mother gets out her embroidery hoops, encircles the stains, places the hoops over an open bowl and pours boiling water through the stains until they disappear.

Warm Weather Baking

Small ovens may be bought to set on top of the gas stove that will cook just one dish at a time, such as spaghetti, biscuits, baked potatoes and casserole dishes. They are a delight in warm weather when we avoid lighting the large oven and heating our kitchens.

Better Service

Fill the hot-water bag just half full of boiling water and press all the air out before screwing on the top. The bag will be much more comfortably used and will stay hot longer.

Water Spots

If you have spilled water on your silk dress resulting in a large rough spot, scratch them gently with your finger-nail and you will find the ring disappear and the spot can scarcely be noticed.

Obstinate Stoppers

Put a few drops of sweet oil around the glass stopper of the perfume bottle when it sticks and place a lighted match close enough to warm the bottle. When warm, strike the stopper gently with a stick wrapped in a cloth. After a few gentle blows and turnings, the most obstinate stopper will yield.

When the Cake is Done

When the cake is ready to be taken from the oven it will be firm to the touch when lightly felt on the top. It will have shrunken a bit from the sides of the pan. A toothpick thrust through it will come out perfectly clean and dry.

Gas Company's Inventory Check Report on File

Progress in checking the inventory and appraisal of the properties of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, provided for several months ago in an appropriation by the City Council, is reported in a preliminary memorandum filed with the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation yesterday by its valuation and rate engineer, F. F. Ball.

Ball states that as the result of this appraisal it is hoped to obtain a decrease in gas rates in the proceedings now pending before the California Railroad Commission.

He reports that actual work of checking began February 1 and he and five engineers and one stenographer are employed in the work.

Ball reports that the ultimate method of setting up the case undoubtedly will be affected by the United States Supreme Court decision of January 6 in which it was established that present value, or the value at the date of inquiry, is the basis on which a fair return to the owners of property used in the public service should be predicated, also that depreciation should likewise be computed on present value.

Health and Diet ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

SYNOVITIS AND BURSITIS

If our bones were fastened together without any padding membrane between, we would have a painful, grinding sensation with every move we made. Without joints we would have the agility of pokers, and would be unable to bend, or twist, or dance the Varsity Dance. This ability to move freely, to the easy, smooth movements of our knees, elbows, ankles and other joints. Fortunately, nature has provided us with a clever invention; whenever two bones meet they are separated by either an elastic cartilage or by a small sac or pouch filled with liquid. The sac arrangement called the synovial membrane acts as a cushion and prevents grating and absorbs jars. The fluid inside of the synovial membrane looks something like eggwhite and is made up of mucin and albumin, with some fat and inorganic salts.

A bursa is the same as a synovial membrane except that instead of being between two bones it helps a muscle or ligament in sliding over the edge of a bone.

Sometimes the bursae or synovial membranes become inflamed, causing the joint to be swollen, painful and the movement limited.

The pain is caused by the swelling which pushes the membrane out of its natural position and greatly stretches the binding ligaments of the joint.

You may think that synovitis or bursitis, meaning the inflammation of these membranes, is unusual, but I am going to name a few of the conditions where this occurs. You will find that you have heard about it quite often. Housemaid's knee is an inflammation of the bursa in front of the kneecap. It comes from pressure during kneeling while scrubbing and cleaning. The uses of the vacuum cleaner and the new floor moys undoubtedly save the human knee from much of this labor, and for that reason housemaid's knee is not the standard joke that it used to be. This disease is different from an inflammation of the synovial membrane of the knee which is leeper within the knee joint. With housemaid's knee the swelling is mostly in front of the knee and is superficial. With the inflammation of the synovial membrane, most of the swelling is at the sides. The proper treatment is to rest the joint and to use cold applications. There is not usally much pain unless the condition is chronic and infected with pus. If the sac becomes infected it is generally opened and surgically drained.

Synovitis sometimes occurs withouta any injury and is thought to be of rheumatic origin. When due to the rheumatic toxins, the synovitis may subside in time, leaving a severe arthritis instead. This is especially likely to occur if the synovial membrane has been inflamed for any length of time, in which case there is a tendency for the entire joint to be affected. The ligaments are partly destroyed and in some cases the ends of the bones and the synovial membrane itself will be thickened and misshapen.

Chronic synovitis may follow smallpox, scarlet fever, injury, tuberculosis, blood poisoning, typhoid, pneumonia and rheumatism. Sometimes children who have what is known as growing pains in the bones may have the trouble extend to the joints, bringing on synovitis.

RADIO EFFECTS WIDE BENEFITS

Definite Influence Exerted for Well-being of Man

Esthetic as Well as Physical Improvement Evident

School of Air Will Present Story of Jefferson

> The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m.: Dr. Frank McCoy, health expert, and Jennie Durkee, instrumentalist. World-wide news at 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Radio is exercising a definite influence on the physical well-being of man. Among the phases of this influence are the direct benefits resulting from setting-up exercises in early-morning hours, health talks by eminent authorities, dietetics and cuisine, modes and fashions and what have you. These have had a direct reaction.

On the other hand, radio has brought a new atmosphere into the American home. Perhaps for the first time a respect for silence under given conditions is appreciated. A key-down influence has resulted. Children are learning, because of radio, that shrill sounds are not harmonious. Voices in the home are becoming better modulated.

TEMPERAMENTAL ANGLE

The temperamental side of home life is more far-reaching in its relation to the physical well-being of a family than had been realized until the advent of radio. Homes which seldom had music now are filled with it daily. Drab effects have become colorful. Monotony has been broken. The creative mind has been awakened. Visions of life have broadened under the new influence.

The study of these effects contains the very essence of what radio should be, namely, an adjunct for the well-being of mankind as expressed in home comfort and happiness. The haphazard follower of broadcast will not understand this viewpoint but, if radio means anything to you, it is worthy of this careful consideration.

WHERE TO TURN

KHJ at 11:30 a.m. in its American School of the Air is to present the part that Thomas Jefferson played in drafting the United States Constitution. This will be portrayed in a vivid drama opening in the Virginia Colonial Legislature at Williamsburg, March 27, 1774. At 6 tonight the Paul Whiteman hour will have as its guest artists Jeanette Loff, motion-picture actress, and Grace Hayes, who made her first hit in "The Passing Show of 1926." Among the songs to be featured are "Cooking Breakfast for the One I Love," "Kickin' a Hole in the Sky" and "When a Woman Loves a Man." At 7:30 tonight Howard Preston, bass baritone of the Chicago Civic Opera, will take the title role in musical comedy memories. He will feature hits from "The Vagabond King." From 9 to 10 tonight KHJ will have Pietro Gentile, well-known Italian baritone, in song recital. Gentile's repertoire will include ancient Hebrew laments, grand opera arias and ballads of today.

FEATURE FOR STUDENT

KFI at 12:15 noon will be of particular interest to students of music. Dr. Walter Damrosch will be guest speaker. The Flint Central High School choir will be heard on this hour. At 6 p.m. the Eveready hour will bring "The Violin Maker of Cremona." A notable cast of radio and stage stars has been assembled for the dramatization of this classic. At 8 p.m. the San Bernardino Chanters are to be heard. They promise choral music of secular appeal. At 9:30 tonight Soiree Intime will feature Robert Hurd, Gretchen Garrett and Ivan Ivanhoff in an hour of excellent chamber music.

KECA at 4 p.m. is to feature May Browning, ballad singer, in songs especially arranged for 'matinee spooners, while at 6:30 p.m. James Thorton, vaudeville and variety star for the past half-century, will appear as guest artist in a program featuring several of his leading hits.

KNX at 12 noon will feature Frank and Mae Collins, in a vaudeville novelty offering including piano, saxophone, accordion and bassoon selections. At 9 tonight the Adventurers will continue their explorations of the highways and byways of India. At 9:30 tonight a recorded program featuring Gene and Glen, the Harmony Boys, and their pal, Jake with his harmonica, will contribute a half-hour of music and song.

KFWB, in addition to an excellent feature program throughout the day and evening will feature at 2:10 p.m. the baseball game between the Cubs and the Angels. At 9:30 p.m. the prize fight between Frankie Campbell and Ray Spiker will be broadcast by remote control.

QUICK AID FOR TREES REQUESTED

Park Commission Would Hire Favored Concern to Doctor Plants Sans Bid

A request from the Park Commission to employ the Davey Tree Surgery Company of Los Angeles for not more than $17,662.78 for special tree-and-soil treatment in four city parks without calling for bids was presented to the City Council yesterday. The Council referred it to City Attorney Werner for a ruling on its legality, in view of the fact that the City Charter provides that bids must be advertised on all contracts for more than $2000. Pershing Square, Sycamore Grove, Echo Park and Hollenbeck Park are the areas to be treated.

The request of the Council was signed by Commissioner Barnes, one of Mayor Porter's appointees, and Secretary Hassett. President Van Griffith voted "No" on the proposal.

The Davey Tree Surgery Company, a copartnership, was employed for $480 several months ago on request of Commissioner Barnes to make a survey of trees in Los Angeles parks. It reported that many trees were sadly in need of repairs and Barnes urged the employment of the company to fix up trees in six parks for $28,000.

The matter was held up by an adverse report of former Commissioner Yeatman, whose resignation followed shortly thereafter. The appointment of Swanfeldt brought the vote 4 to 1 in favor of the plan.

Reasons for employing the company without asking bids, as given in the communication to the Council, are that expert aid is immediately necessary. Under the plan the company will have the services of three Park Department tree surgeons now employed at $6 a day each.

Traeger Ready to Quit Hospital

Sheriff Traeger probably will be permitted to leave the California Lutheran Hospital some time today, it was stated yesterday by Dr. Charles F. Sebastian, his attending physician, but he will not be able to return to his duties for about two weeks. In the meantime it has been planned for him to spend the intervening time at the home of friends in the foothills near Glendora.

Traeger was taken to the hospital last Wednesday.

The affair, scheduled to begin at 6:30 o'clock, is in celebration of the 200th anniversary of the monk's admission into the Franciscan order. Fra Serra was only 16 years of age when he took his vows on the Island of Mallarca in 1730.

Orra E. Monnette, banker and head of the Board of Library Commissioners, is chairman of the committee in charge and also will deliver an address. His subject will be "A Name Which Never Fades." Other speakers and their subjects are: Prof. J. Arthur Thompson, English scientist, "The Worship of Heroes;" Dr. Frank Dyer, "Junipero Serra's Thorn in the Flesh;" Dr. Frederick Warde, Shakespearean actor, "The Little Brown Friar" and Archbishop Frederick E. J. Lloyd, "Revering the Saints." The speakers will be introduced by L. E. Behymer, impresario, as toastmaster, following the invocation pronounced by Rev. Campbell Shields of San Diego.

An instrumental and vocal program will be given by Alberta Davis, Lawrence Sigmund and Josiah Dyer.

The dinner is in the nature of a public testimonial and all citizens are invited to attend. Dress may be either Spanish or informal. Reservations are being received by Mrs. W. R. Mitchell, DRexel 5821, and E. P. Teasdale, MUtual 4671.

Group of Physicians Favor Natural 100% Bran for Constipation

Perhaps you are one of the millions of people in this country who suffer from atonic constipation—bowel irregularity resulting from intestinal sluggishness. Here is expert advice for its relief—the opinion of thousands of physicians on this vital subject.

Not long ago ten thousand doctors were asked this question, "Do you believe that raw natural 100% bran is the best form of bran for the relief of constipation?"

93% of the answers were "Yes."

Pillsbury's Bran is natural 100% bran — nothing added, nothing taken away. Doctors say natural 100% bran is best. Think over these two statements—then go to your grocer tomorrow, get a package of Pillsbury's Bran, and start the natural relief of that aggravating and dangerous condition. The unpleasant results of constipation are well-known—headaches, lassitude, sallow complexion, loss of sleep, nervousness, loss of vitality and increased susceptibility to more serious disease.

Add roughage to your diet—primitive man ate roughage, and had no constipation. Pillsbury's Bran is roughage in a particularly effective form. You can use it to prepare many delicious foods—muffins, tea cakes, apple cake, macaroons, doughnuts, etc.—the recipes are on the Pillsbury package. You can sprinkle it over salads, or mix it with cereals. You can eat it as it comes from the package, with cream and sugar. No matter how you eat it, Pillsbury's Bran is the best kind of bran—natural 100% bran, recommended by this overwhelming majority of doctors.

KING ANSWERED ON PRISON SITE

Senator Rochester Declares Finance Director Errs

Water Supply on Ground Now Held to be Ample

Reference to Location Also Called Inaccurate

State Director of Finance King of San Bernardino county was answered yesterday by Senator Rochester of Los Angeles in the controversy over the location of the State junior felon prison. Rochester is secretary of the legislative committee which has unanimously recommended a site of 1116 acres in Bouquet Canyon. King has refused to give his approval to this Los Angeles site, declaring the land is not suitable and there is insufficient water.

Rochester points out that King's own experts have given favorable consideration to the recommended site, while King obviously is referring to quite another location.

TEXT OF STATEMENT

Rochester's statement follows:

"I noticed in the Sunday newspapers that Lyman King, Director of Finance, announced that he will not vote for the Bouquet Canyon site for the proposed junior felon prison, unless the Water and Power Board guarantees adequate water supply. It seems that Senator King's statement is somewhat premature, inasmuch as he wrote me last week to inquire of the board their opinion upon furnishing water for the prison.

"While this inquiry is in progress and before the board has had time to investigate the matter, King issues a statement based upon a personal statement of one of the members of the board. The letter the Finance Director sent me stated the personal opinion of Dr. Haynes, with not the slightest intimation that he was speaking for the board.

"On the 11th inst., the City Attorney held, in interpreting Section 219, Article XXII of the Los Angeles city charter, that the Water Board under the law can supply, from the surplus water, the needs of the prison.

WATER UPON LAND

"If we are to take the word of Mr. Jamison, an expert that Director King sent down from Sacramento, there is sufficient water upon the land now that can be developed to cover reasonable needs of the prison.

"Mr. Jamison's report, which is in the hands of Director King, I am informed, also states that there is at present 170 inches of water developed. An inch of water is rated in volume to be nine gallons per minute. This would make 1530 gallons per minute. Figuring this upon the day's basis and dividing by 200 gallons, the amount stated by water experts to be used per person per day, would show that, according to Mr. King's expert, there is now developed enough water to care for 11,016 persons. The maximum number of inmates calculated to be housed, according to the plans of the State Department of Architecture, is 4000.

LOCATIONS CONFUSED

"The report of a technical committee that the Bouquet Canyon site is long and narrow was explained to Director King. In my presence Mr. Kingsbury, Surveyor-General of the State, told Mr. King that the report had reference to another piece of land and was not the same piece that was recommended by the legislative committee. I am at a loss to understand Mr. King's forgetfulness. The site recommended by the legislative committee is a square piece of land, flat and level. Our report is in the hands of Mr. King and speaks for itself. The site has 900 acres of flat land and 216 acres of tillable rolling hills. Mr. King knows this, having read the report and having had it confirmed by Prof. Weir of the University of California, who was asked by Mr. King to report upon the land. That report reached Mr. King February 13.

"As secretary of the legislative committee it is my duty to defend that committee from the inaccuracies of Mr. King. The legislative committee has worked for three years upon this investigation and has inspected sites all over Southern California. Mr. King was appointed Director of Finance February 1, and probably his incorrect statements are due to the fact he has just taken office."

LAW HOLDS IRATE SPOUSE

How Vernon Smith, Venice amusement concessionaire, talked Roy Hansen out of killing him on suspicion that he had caused Hansen's wife to desert him, when told to William McKay of the District Attorney's office yesterday resulted in a complaint being issued against Hansen charging him with kidnaping.

Smith, who lives in Venice, asserts Hansen with a loaded revolver forced him to accompany him to his home and held him prisoner until he convinced the irate husband that he knew nothing of Mrs. Hansen's whereabouts.

Clown Boasts of One-Time Royal Position

For five years, Pepito, the Spanish clown, who is one of the three headliners on the R.-K.-O. vaudeville bill this week, claims he enjoyed the distinction of being the royal jester of King Alfonso of Spain.

The King, in appreciation of Pepito's mimicry, presented him with a pearl and diamond stickpin made in the form of a crown. Despite fashion's edict, the clown proudly exhibits the gift, which adorns his cravat when he doffs his stage costume for regular clothes.

In private life Pepito is known as Jose Escobar. He was a painter in Barcelona, decorating costumes for actors, when he decided to become a footlight impresario. He originated his own costume, and shortly after his stage lark was summoned to the palace at Madrid to become the court entertainer.

Actress Backs Mother's Plea

Ala Bennett, film actress, appeared in Superior Judge Crawford's court yesterday to testify regarding the reputation of Albert Erickson, her stepfather, whom her mother, Mrs. Doris Erickson, is suing for divorce.

"He gambled all the time, ran after women and continually drank," said Miss Bennett. "His conduct ruined my mother's health."

The decree was granted.

Former Home of John Off Burns

The former John Off residence at 2302 Grand Place, now used as a rooming-house, was destroyed by fire last night. The two-story frame house burned quickly and was almost completely gutted when fire apparatus under the charge of Battalion Chief Moore arrived. The firemen, however, prevented the leaping flames from spreading to near-by frame dwellings.

In addition to Patrick Moore, the lessee of the house, there were only four other persons in the place at the time the fire started, and they all escaped. The house is owned by the Volkman estate.

NEWS SOUGHT

The interest of the public in what prominent representatives of the film industry have to say on conditions bearing on production of talking pictures was shown recently on Bradley King's arrival in Honolulu. According to a cable dispatch, this author-scenarist was met as the boat docked by numerous interviewers in quest of a statement for their paper.

The Grand Duke Alexander of Russia, brother-in-law of the late Czar Nicholas II, will speak at the University of Southern California, in Bovard Auditorium tomorrow at 11:15 a.m., according to announcement of Dr. Frank C. Touton, vice-president. The time is so students specializing in political science and international relations may attend his lecture as a class assignment.

The public is invited.

A luncheon, with invited guests only attending, will follow the lecture by the Grand Duke, in the Student Union Building. Dr. Frank C. Touton and Col. Warren B. Bovard, vice-president of the University of Southern California, are to act as hosts in the absence of President R. B. Von KleinSmid.

Warmth Equals March 24 Peak for 34 Years

Perspiring Angelenos who might be disappointed upon learning that yesterday was not the hottest day of the year may take comfort from the fact that it was the hottest March 24 in Los Angeles since the year 1896. On that memorable day thirty-four years ago the mercury climbed to the dizzy height of 89 deg. It climber to 89 deg. for a maximum yesterday, also.

Many took refuge at the beach, where the resorts took on a midsummer aspect. According to the records at the Weather Bureau it was 89 deg. for a maximum on last February 17. The minimum yesterday was 65 deg. The forecast last night called for more of the same brand of weather as enjoyed yesterday.

Temperatures as high or higher than that in Los Angeles were recorded in outlying communities. Anaheim reported a maximum of 89 deg.

Romance of High Seas Coming to Fox Boulevard

Appearing together for the first time since "Dynamite," Conrad Nagel and Kay Johnson will be seen at the Boulevard, starting Thursday, in a film romance of the high seas, "The Ship From Shanghai," an adaptation of "Ordeal," the Dale Collins novel.

Charles Brabin directed "The Ship From Shanghai." The cast includes Carmel Myers, Holmes Herbert, Louis Wolheim, Jack McDonald, Zeffie Tilbury and Ivan Linow. Wolheim appears as the mutineering ship steward, and Nagel and Miss Johnson are seen as members of a millionaire yacht party on a pleasure cruise. On the Boulevard bill, Lynn Cowan will preside over the stage revue.

Nancy Carroll Vehicle Next at Paramount

"Honey" starts at the Paramount Theater Thursday, following Ruth Chatterton in "Sarah and Son," the current attraction. This Paramount production is a farce comedy and presents an outstanding cast of players.

Nancy Carroll is starred, and has for her leading man Stanley Smith, who appeared in "Sweetie." Others in the cast include Lillian Roth, Skeets Gallagher, Harry Green, Charles Sellon, Zasu Pitts and Mitzi Green.

This production is taken from the stage farce-comedy, "Come Out of the Kitchen." It boasts of several new songs which are already becoming popular. These include "Sing You Sinners," "In My Little Hope Chest" and "Let's Be Domestic," "Sarah and Son" is proving popular with theater-goers.

Million Dollar Arranging Stage for Vaudeville

The big stage of the Million Dollar Theater is a busy workshop these days, with preparations being completed for the first showing of vaudeville starting Thursday.

For the opening bill S. M. Lazarus has booked the Three Freehands, George Yeoman, Noodles Fagan, Sonia and her "Revue Internationale," Hadji Alli and the original "Empire Four."

On the screen Nancy Carroll in her first stellar production, "Dangerous Paradise," with Richard Arlen and Warner Oland, will be shown. "Dangerous Paradise" is a story of the South Seas. "The Love Parade," starring Maurice Chevalier, will close its engagement Wednesday.

Vallee Film to Play at Palace

Due to the holding over of "The Cock-Eyed World," boisterous Fox comedy, featuring Victor McLaglen, Edmund Lowe and Lily Damita, the opening date of "The Vagabond Lover" at the Fox Palace Theater has been advanced to Sunday.

Directed by Marshall Neilan, "The Vagabond Lover" stars Rudy Vallee, radio crooning idol, in his motion-picture debut. Sally Blane, plays in the feminine lead, and Marie Dressler furnishes the comedy relief.

McCAREY CASTING

Leo McCarey has started casting for "Roadhouse," an original story by Bradley King. McCarey is to direct this as a special feature for the Fox organization.

ROGERS TO STAR IN "HEADS UP"

Noted Comedian Will Have Role in "Simple Simon;" Chaney's Next for M.-G.-M. Called "Cheribidi;" Mary Lewis Goes East for Opera

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Charles (Buddy) Rogers is to be given a chance to travel once more. He will shake the Hollywood dust from his spats within the next few weeks and journey back to New York, not this time to vacation, play around and be worshiped, however, as was the case at the time of his last trip, but to work.

CHARLES ROGERS

The popular young actor has been assigned to star in Paramount's forthcoming production of the stage musical hit, "Heads Up," when the Aarons and Freedley success is filmed this spring at the Paramount Long Island studios. It will be the first time Rogers has worked in the East since his elevation to stardom.

"Heads Up" will go into production immediately after Buddy completes his role in the Schwab and Mandel picturization of "Follow Through," which is shortly to get under way.

Lovers of color in films will be pleased to know that "Heads Up" is to be filmed in Technicolor throughout.

ED WYNN TO PLAY IN ARTISTS FILM

When Ed Wynn arrives in Hollywood, under contract to Florenz Ziegfeld and Samuel Goldwyn, to star in a picture for United Artists, we shall indeed feel that a quorum of metropolitan stars is in our midst.

And, indeed, when Broadway is finished with "Simple Simon," or rather, when Ziegfeld feels that its sun there has been long enough and that he would like to be generous, the star, Wynn, is to come west and play in a film version of the production, about which everybody is talking.

In the meantime other Broadway stars are arriving one by one, including Eddie Cantor and his wife and progeny, while Ziegfeld himself has postponed the production of "Tom, Dick and Harry" in order to come west and supervise and direct the production of "Whoopee," which stars Cantor.

Ziegfeld is to arrive on April 5. It is quite likely that his wife, Billie Burke, and his daughter, Patricia, will accompany him.

Chaney's Next M.-G.-M.

Studios are going rather far afield for stories these days, it appears. At any rate it became known yesterday that Lon Chaney's next Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture will be adapted from a French yarn called "Cheribidi."

LON CHANEY

In the picture Chaney will speak lines. Which of course will be no novelty to him, since he began his career as a stage actor. At present, however, Chaney is polishing up his accent. He is also studying Spanish and, it is said, will appear in some Spanish versions.

Actress Goes East

Before Mary Lewis can start work on her Pathe contract she will have to clear up a little matter of fulfilling an engagement for five performances for which she is under contract with the Metropolitan Opera Company in New York.

She therefore decided to get the matter off her mind at once and left last night for New York, where it is understood her five performances can be played within a fortnight at the longest, when she will at once return to Hollywood for her first picture.

The story in which Miss Lewis will appear will be a French period tale, of the days of Marie Antoinette, in which she plays the role of a peasant girl who rises to fame at court, quite possibly an historic character.

Paul Stein is likely to be the director of the production, although so far no definite assignment has been made.

John Mack Brown's Role

While there is nothing definite about the matter, we understood that it is quite likely that Johnny Back Brown's career is to be given a boost upward by his being assigned the role of the lead in Winston Churchill's "The Crisis," which Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is to produce.

Brown has many notable roles to his credit, including the lead opposite Mary Pickford in "Coquette," besides several important leads played for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer where he is under contract.

Sam Wood is to direct "The Crisis," which is to be made as an important special.

Edna Hibbard in Movies

It was quite a foregone conclusion that that clever actress, Edna Hibbard, would win a place in the films.

EDNA HIBBARD

So we aren't surprised to learn that she is signing with First National to star in a series of short subjects.

The first one, called "The Sawmill Mystery" is already completed.

Miss Hibbard is well known to the New York stage. Recently she starred here at the Belasco in "The Door Between."

Foy Directs Travesties

If anyone in the world has a flair for travesty, it is Bryan Foy, whose burlesques on historical subjects, called "Hysterical Studies," were appreciated by fans when he directed them for Universal.

Now Foy is engaged, as head of the Warner Brothers' short-subject department, in personally directing a series of two-reel travesties on melodramas. These include the filming of the famous old vaudeville skit, "More Sinned Against Than Usual," and his latest, "An Ill Wind, Or the Dawn of a New Day and a New Hope," also "The Sawmill Mystery."

Virginia Sale in It

That brilliant young character comedienne, Virginia Sale, seems about to become a permanent fixture at Warner Brothers' Studio.

VIRGINIA SALE

Having just finished a role in another picture over there, Miss Sale has just been signed for a character comedy role, that of a down east gossip, in John Barrymore's current starring vehicle, "Moby Dick," which Lloyd Bacon is directing. Miss Sale is a member of the noted Sale family which includes Charles (Chic) Sale.

Famous Dancers in Pictures

Fred and Adele Astaire, world-famous dancers, are shortly to enter films, according to information received yesterday.

The two will appear in First National pictures, if present negotiations go through. At present the two are in New York. They were to have played in Ziegfeld's new production, "Tom, Dick and Harry," but that production being postponed, they are at liberty to take a fling at the movies.

COURT ENDS PARTNERS' ARGUMENT

Receivership Ordered for Delicatessen When Pair Cannot Agree

Partners in the Weber & Blue delicatessen establishment, 1635 Vine street, went to Superior Judge Gates's court with their attorneys yesterday to settle the dispute that arose when the cook-partner insisted on invading the precincts of the waiter-partner and, according to the latter, scaring away the customers.

After listening to considerable argument Judge Gates ordered a receiver appointed with a $500 bond to liquidate the business and divide the proceeds between K. Bluestein, plaintiff and cook, and Morris Weber, defendant and "front man."

Bluestein, in his petition, stated that he and Weber quarreled on the 10th inst., and that Weber ordered him out of the restaurant. Weber, through his attorney, Lewis A. Schaffer, responded in court yesterday that Bluestein, a self-asserted strong man, was coming into the dining-room and lifting chairs with one hand, not caring whether or not customers were seated in them.

Police were called. They took the warring partners to jail and turned the keys to the place over to the desk sergeant. In a day or two neighbors complained about the food that had been left in the restaurant. Health officers came and sniffed, then broke in and threw away what was no longer of any value.

That was why Bluestein engaged Attorney A. A. Rotberg to file the injunction suit asking that Weber be restrained from interfering with the operation of the restaurant and the disposal of what food was left. Judge Gates denied the injunction, but appointed a receiver to take charge of the business.

RESTRICTION DEBATED

Students at Woodbury College yesterday debated the subject, "Resolved, that Mexican Immigration Should be Restricted." An audience decision favored the affirmative, presented by Joe Varner, Bob Tilandy and Earl Berndes, against the negative presented by Carlyle Santson, Christy Nolte and George Smith.

MADGE KENNEDY IN SLEUTH ROLE

Star Helps Unravel Mystery in "Perfect Alibi"

Milne Melodrama Whimsical in Crime's Strategy

Play Not Typical Stellar Vehicle; Company Good

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

The little element of time proves to be the undoing of the crimesters. Consider the clocks and you may be able to guess in advance how the guilt is going to be pinned on the murderers in "The Perfect Alibi."

Madge Kennedy is starred in this play by A. A. Milne, which opened last night at the Biltmore Theater. It is a mental sort of melodrama, with a mystery motif. There are no concealments from the audience, but there is suspense concerning how the characters on the stage will come to know the perpetrators of a revengeful shooting. In this respect, "The Perfect Alibi" is not unlike "Rope's End," now being given here; it is, however, infinitely more agreeable.

Author Milne has previously concentrated on the comedy whimsical. At least, most of his plays known to us here are of that genre. He is whimsical in his present melodrama in the sense that his central crime is very oddly carried out, and that the manner of its doing is such as to leave little doubt regarding the tragedy being a suicide in the minds of those on the stage.

The audience sees the actual enactment. They behold one of the villains adroitly maneuver to have the victim hold a revolver in his hand covering the other villain. They see villain No. 1 call up the police station, pretend that he is reporting the crime, and (again adroitly) force the telephone receiver into the hand of the murderee, exclaiming as he does, "Listen to this," and then turn said murderee's own revolver against him quickly and pull the trigger.

All of this is ingeniously worked out plotwise, and it looks as if the alibi, later established between the two men, is foolproof besides. Cold, hard viewing of the facts would make the position of the two criminals seem impregnable. And it actually is to cold analysis, but where analysis stops, woman's intuition begins and that is what makes for the puncturing of the "facts" and the eventual solution.

"The Perfect Alibi" is a pleasantly reasonable affair, and that is its main attraction. Just why it was selected as a starring opportunity for Miss Kennedy here is perhaps less obvious. For she has scarcely more than a dozen or so lines to speak in the first two acts. After that, as Maurice Chevalier might say . . . plenty. Because she solves the crime, along with Alan Bunce, featured in the cast.

Miss Kennedy is very natural and sincere in her impersonation, and when any comedy latitude is allotted her, offers evidence of her well-known gift in that line.

Richie Ling, seen here last in "The Road to Rome," had the most striking chance for a subtly-shaded characterization, and he made much of this. He is a very convincing player.

Two gem-like parts were those presented by Leo G. Carroll as a rural Bobbie and Sidney Paxton as the man strategically disposed of. In a thankless role as a Scotland Yard investigator A. P. Kaye was eminently satisfactory. Horace Sinclair in an eccentric bit was capable and Barbara Hastings quite effective. Lionel Hogarth and Ada Sinclair were others. Altogether a rather competent company. It should be mentioned that Mr. Carroll received a special tribute of applause when he left the stage. Miss Kennedy was given sustained applause on her first entrance and after the final curtain. A tribute was tendered Mr. Ling when he came on the stage.

One wonders of course just why Miss Kennedy and "A Perfect Alibi" come here for a single week. Perhaps it is an experimental venture to find out how the Coast will receive stage plays, now that the atmosphere is so charged with the talkie idea. Perhaps the talkies themselves lure—who knows?

Water Scenes a Feature of Mystery Film

Unusually beautiful water scenes are among the features of "Murder Will Out," First National Vitaphone production which is the current attraction at Warner Brothers Downtown Theater. The water "shots" were taken at San Pedro, from a speedboat, a yacht, and a submarine, all of which figure in the plot of the Will Jenkins murder-mystery travesty.

Jack Mulhall is the featured player in "Murder Will Out." The supporting cast includes Lila Lee, Noah Beery, Malcolm MacGregor, Tully Marshall, Cland Allister, Hedda Hopper and Alec B. Francis. Clarence Badger directed.

"Murder Will Out" gives way Friday to "Under a Texas Moon," the Technicolor production. Frank Fay is featured.

LITTLEFIELD CAST

Mel Brown has selected Lucien Littlefield to play Arthur Lake's parent in "Tony." This is the New York stage success which Brown is to transfer to the screen for the William Le Baron organization.

Staid Operahouse Goes Collegiate

Dorothy Lee

Will help the Mason Theater assume a youthful and gay atmosphere tonight when "Rah, Rah Daze" starts its engagement. Waring's Pennsylvanians will be the feature of the show.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

WHAT between lucrative motion-picture contracts proffered to their stars, and other things, the Civic Repertory Theater has had to go outside its organization to cast "The Hero," next on the bill.

Grant Mitchell, of course, is going to have the lead. He took it in New York. Now it seems Norma Lee is going to play opposite. As Miss Lee was with Mitchell in "Kempy" when it was seen on Broadway, some good team work is expected. Incidentally Miss Lee is Mrs. Elliott Nugent, who, with his father, J. C., wrote "Kempy."

Helen Keers, Walter Vaughn, Georgette Rhodes and Jackie Searle will be other performers in "The Hero." It starts Monday at the Music Box.

Jetta Goudal in "Congai"

Although Jetta Goudal is packing her trunks preparatory to starting for Europe on April 1, there are strong rumors that "Congai," in which she is to be starred, may yet poke its head upon the Los Angeles play horizon this spring.

Miss Goudal says that if "Congai" really does materialize, she will unpack the trunks. It's a play of the East by Harry Hervey and Carlton Hildreth, which Sam Harris did in New York with Helen Menken. Hervey talked to Miss Goudal about the lead in the original production, but at the time she couldn't break away from pictures.

Now George Holland, who is producing "June Moon" on the Pacific Coast, has the rights. He wants Miss Goudal to play it, but so far hasn't been able to get set on the theaters here or in San Francisco.

Not Much Longer Now

Howard Hughes, who has spent nearly three years and $4,000,000 on "Hell's Angels," confidently says that it won't be long now before the formal premiere. This despite the fact that Mr. Hughes announced the picture would open at the Chinese on April 19, and now it seems that John McCormack's picture is going to open instead.

Mr. Hughes is talking of not waiting for the McCormack film to finish its local run. He may book "Hell's Angels" into the new Pantages, the Biltmore or perhaps the Carthay Circle, he says. The new Pantages is, at the moment, considered the most likely bet. The premiere would be about May 1.

The mix-up on bookings at the Chinese occurred while Harold B. Franklin was in New York. Verbal negotiations here with the Hughes office and the Chinese Theater had been completed for "Hell's Angels" and Franklin's return and signature to the contract awaited. Then in New York Mr. Franklin signed a contract for Mr. McCormack's tenor effort. So everything was all off.

Run of a Year and a Half

If "The Desert Song," which Lillian Albertson is reviving at the Majestic Sunday night, only stays in town a fortnight on this occasion, it will then have played a total of seventy-nine weeks on the Pacific Coast, or a week more than a year and a half. It already holds the West long-run record. The cast, curiously enough, with the exception of one lead, is about the same as in the original production. Josephine Houston is going to sing Margot instead of Elvira Tanzi, but Perry Askam, John Merkyl, Myrtis Crinley and some of the rest of Albertson tried and true troupers, will be lifting their voices again.

New York Theater Notes

Here are some late bulletins from the East about happenings in the theater there:

Three musical shows were among the productions which gave their last Broadway performances Saturday night. They were "Bitter Sweet," "Sweet Adeline" and "Top Speed." Also closing were "Mayfair," "Many a Slip," "Everything's Jake" and Mei Lan-Fang, the Chinese actor.

Ruth Easton will be featured with Giuseppe Sterni in "Oh, Professor," a comedy which goes in rehearsal this week.

Oliver D. Bailey, who operates the Republic Theater, is planning to present next season a play entitled "Who Are You?" by Franklin Russell.

May Collins will succeed Claiborne Foster in the leading role of "House Afire" when the play opens Monday night at the Little Theater.

"ALL QUIET" SCHEDULED AT CIRCLE

Dynamic Film of War to Have World Premiere in Near Future

Heralded as the most sensational departure from typical motion-picture story themes, Universal's production of "All Quiet on the Western Front" has been officially announced as the next attraction at the Carthay Circle Theater. Owing to the popularity of "Happy Days," first Grandeur film, no definite starting date for the new film has been set.

Adapted to the screen from Erich Maria Remarque's compelling story of youth tossed into the maelstrom of war to fight an unfair battle for life, "All Quiet on the Western Front" has been awaited locally with more than ordinary interest.

Listed among the cast are Lewis Ayres, 20-year-old boy chosen from more than a score of applicants for the leading role of Paul; Louis Wolheim, Russell Gleason, William Bakewell, Walter Browne Rogers, Slim Summerville, Ben Alexander, John Wray, Arnold Lucy, Scott Kolk, Owen Davis, Jr., Yola D'Avril, Pat Collins, Harold Goodwin, Bodil Rosing, Zasu Pitts, Bertha Mann, Edmund Breese, Lucille Powers, Renne Damonde, Hienie Conklin and Poupee Andriot. Lewis Milestone directed.

Talking Scenes Taken Despite Bad Conditions

Neither wind nor rain nor the surging of the sea could prevent the excellent recording of sound and talking scenes on board the good craft Elsie, on which take place many of the incidents of "Hell Harbor," the United Artists production which begins its first local engagement at the United Artists Theater tomorrow. One thousand feet off the shore of Henry King's synthetic village at Tampa, Fla., cables were run to the Elsie, and the voices of Lupe Velez, star of the picture, and John Holland, leading man, went swimming along to the recording truck on the sands.

LUPE VELEZ

Though the producers of "Hell Harbor," working at such a distance from the studio in Hollywood, were laboring under rather extreme difficulties, the results as shown in this stirring romantic drama are said to be all that could be desired. Miss Velez's supporting cast includes, in addition to Holland, Jean Hersholt, Gibson Gowland and Al St. John.

M'CORMACK FILM BOOKED

John McCormack, noted tenor, will make his debut in sound pictures on April 18, when his recently completed Fox Movietone production, "Song o' My Heart," will have its premiere at Grauman's Chinese Theater.

In this lyrical romance, McCormick sings eleven songs. Ten of these songs, which include several of his most noted ones, will be in English and one in Italian. The manner of presentation is unusual, due to the fact that they form a part of the story. The love interest, which is predominate throughout, is enacted by Maureen O'Sullivan and John Garrick. Other members of the large cast include J. M. Kerrigan, Alice Joyce, Farrell MacDonald, Tommy Clifford, Emily Fitzroy, Effie Ellsler, Edwin Schneider, Andreas De Segurola and Edward Martindel.

Frank Borzage, twice winner of the gold medal of honor for excellence in motion-picture production with "Seventh Heaven" and "Humoresque," directed the production.

The picture was started in Ireland last summer and an entire production staff was transported from Fox-Movietone City. Scenes reflecting the beauty of Ireland were made in Wicklow, Dublin county, the Midlands and in the immediate vicinity of John McCormack's estate at Moore Abbey, Monasterevan. It is the first talking picture to be made in Ireland. Two of the players, Miss O'Sullivan and Clifford, were discovered in Ireland and returned with the company to California.

W. E. Boeing Says Burbank Field World's Best

Aircraft Executive Here to Survey Interests

Huge Business Revealed by Company's Report

WILLIAM E. BOEING

In the United Airport at Burbank Southern California may lay claim justly to the most complete aviation center in the United States, if not in the entire world, according to William E. Boeing of Seattle, chairman of the board of the United Aircraft and Transport Corporation, who is making a survey of the company's interests here.

Boeing made his observation following an inspection of the airport yesterday. By reason of its strategic position, situated, as it is, in San Fernando Valley, it meets every requirement of the perfect base, he declared and because of the surpassing facilities included within its boundaries it eclipses anything of its kind he has ever seen. This opinion is shared, he added, by unprejudiced observers who inspected the port since it has assumed nearly finished proportions.

WATCHES PLANE TEST

The aviation executive watched with absorbing interest yesterday the continued tests which the new Northrop low-wing all-metal commercial plane is undergoing at Burbank, it being a product of one of United's many subsidiaries. Nothing of a revolutionary nature is anticipated in the new plane, Boeing said, but it is expected to develop further refinement of the factors of safety, performance and speed.

The company, of which Boeing is the chairman, is a holding company controlling airplane, aircraft engine and propeller-manufacturing concerns, as well as companies engaged in operation of air transport lines, aeronautical schools, airports and experimental laboratories. Something of its magnitude is revealed in the first annual report recently off the press which Boeing brought from Seattle.

During the year 1929 the operating revenue and equipment sales amounted to $31,423,617.78. Operating revenue was derived from transport of mail, passengers and express and sales of engines, planes and propellers. Of the latter, 40 per cent were for military and naval requirements.

COMMERCIAL BROOD

Subsidiary companies of the parent body include Boeing Airplane Company, Boeing Aircraft of Canada, Ltd.; Hamilton Standard Propeller Company, Northrop Aircraft Corporation, Ltd.; Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Company, Ltd.; Canadian Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Company, Ltd.; Sikorsky Aviation Corporation, Stearman Aircraft Company, Chance-Vought Corporation, Boeing Air Transport, Inc.; Pacific Air Transport, Stout Air Services, Inc.; Boeing School of Aeronautics, United Aircraft Exports, Inc.; United Airports Company of California, Ltd., and United Airports of Connecticut, Inc.

Boeing's present visit to the city is limited. He expects to return north in a few days, but plans to be here again for the military air maneuvers slated to be held at United Airport late in April. This evening he will be a guest, with Col. Charles Lindbergh, at dinner in the home of Thomas F. Hamilton, president of United Airports of California, Ltd.

PACIFIC NOW WELL NAMED, SAYS COUNT

VISCOUNT MATSUDAIRA.

Japan and America have the peace of the world largely in their hands, in the opinion of Viscount Yasuharu Matsudaira, political leader of the Japanese nobility and also his country's leading horticultural authority. Viscount Matsudaira, here to spend a year in study of the American economic situation, was an arrival yesterday from Yokohama aboard the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Asama Maru.

He is a polished gentleman, speaks English with the ease of a native American and is the present head of the ancient Tokugawa family, which in the seventeenth century ruled feudal Japan. His title therefore dates from 1620. Viscount Matsudaira is a member of the House of Peers and told newspaper men that though his business is politics his hobby is horticulture.

He discounted any hopes for a five-power treaty at the London conference for naval limitation, because, he declared, the defensive needs of all the participants prohibit their making worth-while concessions.

"I think Japan and America are in a position to keep the peace of the world, anyway," he continued. "The Pacific is fast becoming the world's market place and as long as our nations maintain their present supremacy in that area there will be no room for warlike aggressors."

Viscount Matsudaira will spend three months in Southern California before proceeding eastward.

SENORITA VASCONCELOS WEDS

She Becomes Bride of Mexican Athlete

Mr. and Mrs. Herminio Ahumada, Jr.

BEFORE an altar aglow with candles in the peaceful sanctuary of the Church of Our Lady of the Angels Senorita Maria del Carmen Vasconselos, daughter of Jose Vasconcelos, recently a candidate for the Presidency of Mexico, and Herminio Ahumada, Jr., Mexican athlete, yesterday morning took the vows which made them man and wife.

Only a few friends and relatives were present for the ceremony, which was conducted by Father Victor Marin. The bride wore a gown of white lace with a tulle veil caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas and lilies of the valley. Her attendants were Mrs. Herminio Ahumada, Sr., mother of the groom, and Mrs. Juan Ruiz. In the absence of her father she was given in marriage by Juan Ruiz. The bridegroom's attendants were his father, Herminio Ahumada, Sr., and Andres Pedrero.

Following the ceremony the couple held a brief reception in the patio of the old cathedral, after which they went to the Hotel Rosslyn for a wedding breakfast, at which the bride's mother, Mrs. Carmen Vasconcelos, presided.

The couple expect to pass a brief honeymoon in the north, later going to Chula Vista, where they will make their home.

The bride, who comes from Oaxaca, is 18 years of age, and for the last two years has been an art student at the University of California at Los Angeles. She also has studied in Paris and in New York City.

Mr. Ahumada, 29 years of age, is a member of a prominent Sonora family, and has been a law student at the University of Mexico. He was captain of the Mexican track team which went to the Paris Olympics, and he was the sprint champion of Mexico from 1922 to 1924. He will continue his law studies in San Diego.

GIRLS' ACTS IN NEWS REEL REAL NEWS

California Maids Shown in "Times"-Universal Film With Startling Stunts

Girls of two California schools provide thrilling action subjects for the latest issue of The Times-Universal News Reel, to be shown soon at many local theaters. High school girls of Del Monte are shown riding at a gallop and hitting bull's eyes with their shots. At the Earle Wallace Adagio School, Los Angeles, the girl dancers are flung in graceful whirls high in the air and caught just before they hit the ground.

Contrasted with these lively Coast girls are shown the Pratt Institute girls of Brooklyn, making a complete wardrobe for $32.

DRIVE FOR CHILDREN'S HOME BEGUN

Fund of $80,000 Sought for Larger Protective Institution at El Monte

More than fifty widely known Los Angeles women interested in the Ruth Protective Home held a meeting at the Alexandria and launched a drive for an $80,000 fund for the new building to be erected in El Monte. The present home is in Compton, but the building and grounds are inadequate for the children accommodated.

Mrs. Alexander H. Kerr, general superintendent of the Southern California division, presided at the meeting and announced the plans for the eight weeks' drive. Mrs. Kerr told those present that she believed the $80,000 quota will be raised before the stipulated period is up.

In the present home only children less than 1 year old and children above 10 years can be accommodated. In the new home in El Monte there will be adequate quarters for the accommodation of children of all ages.

SIX CONTENDERS SURVIVE TRIALS

Hollywood High Hearing Eliminates Entrants

Constitution Contest Finals to be Held in Seattle

State Winners to be Guests of "The Times" There

Semifinals of Hollywood High School in the National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution yesterday afternoon reduced to six the original field of twenty-three contestants.

The six survivors are Joseph Costello, Lawrence Dunsmoore, Helene Goldberg, James Green, James Pike and Rollin Woodbury.

The extemporaneous feature was used in connection with the set speeches. The judges were Emily Carter, Howard Benedict, both in the history department of the high school, Edith Everett, English, Miss Ray Feenan, oral arts teacher, Mrs. Esther Temple, Spanish department, and George Thompson, history. Still another contest will have to be held to pick from the six survivors the school orator to contest in The Times' semifinals.

Los Angeles headquarters of the oratorical contest has been notified of progress made in Seattle preparing for the Pacific Coast finals, which will be held in the magnificent Civic Auditorium of that city on May 9.

Dr. M. Lyle Spencer, president of the University of Washington and a former journalist of wide experience, will preside. Dr. Spencer has been an ardent friend of the contest since its inauguration by The Los Angeles Times seven years ago and is said to have canceled a number of engagements in order to preside on this occasion.

MUSIC BY THE BAND

The music on May 9 will be provided by the fine orchestra and band of the American Legion of the State of Washington. This is the band of Alfred William Leach Post in Olympia, State capital. It was designated as the official department band last year, and the vivid red tunics and blue breeches of the members will introduce a note of color at the finals.

Entertainment for the orators of the various subdivisions of the Pacific Coast zone, together with other contestants at the finals, is being arranged by the Seattle Times sponsor for the Northwest zone. The eighth State finalists of Washington, who will enjoy a ten-day vacatoin in Seattle as guests of the Times, in addition to their cash prizes, will each be detailed an official host and hostess and every entertainment the city can provide will be lavished upon the visitors.

WINNER'S GUERDON

The winner of the Pacific Coast finals will go direct to Washington, W. C. to compete with the champions of the six other zones into which the country is divided, and irrespective of who is winner at this final contest, all seven of the zone winners, all expenses paid. If girls are among the national finalists they will be accompanied throughout the trip by a suitable chaperon.

The prizes in the subdivisions are alluring, also. In the zone sponsored by The Times everyone of the seven district winners will be awarded a cash prize. The first in The Times finals will be given $500; second, will receive $250; third, $100; fourth, $50, and the remaining three, $25 each.

The aggregate amount of money spent annually by the newspapers of the country sponsoring the National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution runs into hundreds of thousands of dollars—a purely voluntary contribution on the part of these papers for patriotic training of the youth of the land and for a better American citizenship.

CONTEST INCEPTION

The contest of 1923 was a small local affair covering first Los Angeles, then Southern California and having only a few thousand entrants. The Times contest had such a laudable purpose and was so instantly successful that when presented to the National Newspaper Publishers' Association as an activity of The Times it was immediately adopted by other prominent newspapers throughout the country and the contest became national.

It was then conceived that such a contest, if adopted by other countries, might become an instrument for promoting good will among nations, and thus the contest became international. Some twenty-five nations will be represented in the international contest in 1930, when the world's champion high-school orator will be proclaimed.

Pyle's Racer Takes Poison

Two poisons were swallowed yesterday by a disappointed entry in the C. C. Pyle cross-country foot race of 1929, police reported after Joe Spangler had been taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. Miss Jone Duval called an ambulance to 1421½ Virgil Place, where Spangler roomed. She said that she heard him groaning, found him writhing in agony, and that he said he had taken two kinds of poison.

Detective-Lieutenants Bergeson and Harper reported that Spangler said he was from New York, where he started with the Pyle runners on the cross-continent hike ending here. He told officers he had not received a dollar for his pedestrian efforts, and that he had become despondent. Doctors report he will recover.

Mrs. Mallie Elder Lewis, asking Superior Judge Yankwich to give her a divorce from John J. Lewis, yesterday said her husband was not only ugly and surly, but stayed away all night on many occasions and refused to explain where he had been. The court granted a decree.

POLO PONIES TO BE SOLD

Crack Argentine Mounts Will be Auctioned Off Saturday at Midwick; Gauchos Play Tomorrow

BY FRANK ROCHE

If you fancy that you would like to have one of those Argentine polo ponies your chance comes Saturday afternoon at the Midwick Country Club when twenty-two of the famous South American string that has run rampant in Coast competition this winter will be auctioned off. Announcement to this effect was made yesterday by Midwick officials concerning the auction sale. The Argentine poloists will wind-up their American tour with a game tomorrow and one Sunday against the Midwick big four.

The Pampas horsemen shipped a string of fifty-two ponies here for the Coast tournaments. Two of the ponies died en route and six others have been turned out to pasture since their arrival. They will keep half of the balance left and sell the rest, the Gauchos announced—hence the auction sale.

MANUEL ANDRADA

The South American ponies have proved about as big a hit with polo followers as the Pampas four themselves. They can turn on a dime and they just love the game of polo. It really was the ponies who spelled the difference between defeat and victory for the Argentines in last Sunday's game at Midwick. The South American mounts stood the gaff much better in the last half than the Midwick ponies.

EXPECT CROWD

Tomorrow's game at Midwick is expected to draw a record crowd for a week-day exhibition. Sunday Midwick officials believe they will have to turn the fans away by the hundreds when the Galloping Gauchos make their last appearance of the year on the Coast.

Midwick is sending its big four combination of Neil McCarthy, Elmer Boeseke, Eric Pedley and Carleton Burke again into action against the Argentines. Playing together as a team they have given the invaders the only real battles this winter and Purple club followers believe they will take the South Americans once before the series has ended.

The playing of Pedley and Boeseke in last Sunday's game against the Argentines was nothing short of marvelous. These two horsemen upheld the honor of the West in brilliant fashion. It is easy to see why the international games committee has invited them to come back for the tryouts at Meadowbrook next summer.

The famous Argentine team combinations were working like a charm in the last half of the game, but even so, Pedley and Boeseke stood out like a sore thumb from the rest of the field.

There is one player on that Ar-

STEWARDS TO PROBE WILD RIDE

Agua Caliente Officials to Investigate Crowding in Rich Handicap

AGUA CALIENTE, March 24.—Senior Steward Francis Nelson here will investigate the ride of Jockey Tommy Luther on My Dandy in the Agua Caliente Handicap, he stated today. Luther crowded Victorian right after the start of the race, causing Jockey George Ellis to pull his mount up.

My Dandy, breaking from the middle of the field, darted right for the rail after the start, causing other horses besides Victorian to pull up, but Victorian was in the greatest trouble.

Tommy Luther is one of the better known western riders, gaining his greatest fame here by riding Crystal Pennant to a victory in the Coffroth Handicap. Nelson will hold his investigation in the morning, and make his decision during the afternoon. Luther may be barred from riding if the stewards find him guilty of foul riding.

A terrific left hook to the chin sent Clark down for the count. Godfrey weighed 246 1-2 pounds, ten and a half pounds more than Clark.

OXY POINTS FOR POMONA

Pipal Returns from San Diego With Dope on Sagehen Runners; Big Meet Saturday

Coach Joe Pipal's Oxy track aggregation meets Pomona on Patterson Field in the crucial dual meet of the conference season next Saturday. For that reason Pipal is directing his men with an eagle eye in practice preparing to upset the Sagehen's hopes.

The Tiger mentor returned from San Diego Sunday with several ideas and a stock of information after witnessing the Aztecs defeat Pomona, 71-69. "Pomona looked to me like a team that was pointing for another meet," Pipal said yesterday, "and that team is naturally Occidental. I am inclined to think that Strehle slightly underestimated the San Diego strength or could have won easily."

COACH JOE PIPAL.

One thing is certain that Pomona will be at full strength to meet Oxy next Saturday and has an excellent chance to upset the Tiger tracksters. Hank Cobb, crack quarter-miler from Pomona, will toe the marks with his team-mates, Dyer and Shelton, against the three Bengal stars, Capt. Appleton, Johnny Walker and Dick Fairbanks, in what is bound to be a thrilling race. Cobb did not compete in the Aztec meet.

Coach Bob Strehle has a fine two-miler in Cunliffe, who will be favored to defeat McKee of Oxy. Pipal has not decided yet whether to run Rud Crawford in that race or the mile or both. Crawford could win the mile easily, but would have a tough time in the eight-lap classic.

Cecil Howard is the only Tiger hope in the sprints when he tangles with the Sagehen array of Bear, Petty, Gray, and Baynham, all of whom are plenty fast. Oxy will come back in the hurdles though

EASTER HERO OUT OF STAKE

Crack American Jumper is Scratched by Trainer

LONDON, March 24. (AP)—The unexpected scratching of John H. Whitney's Easter Hero from the Grand National today left only five American-owned horses to face the starter Friday and turned the gruelling four-mile test into a complete riddle.

With Easter Hero definitely out of the race Sir Lindsay, which put up a good performance in the Cheltenham Gold Cup, will be the lone bearer of the Whitney silks. Gordon Selfridges's Ruddyman, Victor Emmanuel's Rhyticere and Royal Arch and S. Sanford's Sandy Hook complete the American representation.

Easter Hero first developed lameness after winning the Cheltenham but appeared to have recovered, turning in a good trial Sunday. An examination today, however, showed a return of the lamness and it was decided to scratch him. The jumper's leg was flushed and he walked with a decided limp. The veterinarian's verdict was that the horse could not be run in the National and do himself justice.

GALLAGHER COPS VERDICT

BALTIMORE (Md.) March 24. (AP) Marty Gallagher, Washington heavyweight, tonight was given the decision over Al Friedman of Boston in their ten-round bout here. One judge favored Friedman and the other judge and referee Gallagher.

WALSH, HORNE ANGEL HOPES

Lelivelt Selects Veterans for Mound Duty

Nelson Slated to Hurl for McCarthy Outfit

Cherubs All Set for Coast Loop Race to Open

BY BOB RAY

The great series for the chicle championship between William Wrigley's Chicago Cubs and William Wrigley's Los Angeles Angels will be resumed this afternoon at William Wrigley's Field. So far the Cubs and Seraphs have split even in six struggles, and seem to be having a hard time registering any superiority over each other.

AUGIE WALSH

In an effort to get an edge on the National League champions Skipper Jack Lelivelt is going to send Berly Horne and Augustino Walsh, two of his regulars, against the heavy-hitting Chicago outfit. Lynn Nelson, the ex-Masked Marvel of Kansas City, is expected to start on the mound for the Cubs, and just who will share the hurling burden with him is a matter for extensive guesswork. Joe McCarthy is trying to shape his hurlers around so that he will have his aces ready to go against the Pittsburgh Pirates in the four-game series starting Thursday, so he'll probably not use any of his regulars today.

The Angels have certainly shown up in great style so far against the National League champions and if they don't finish one-two in the first half of the Coast League race, it will be quite a surprise. Lelivelt has the boys in perfect shape, not a sore arm has been reported in the Angel camp this spring, and the Cherubs are champing at he bit to get going when the season opens two weeks from today. The Angel pitchers have been performing highly effectively and the rest of the squad has been fielding behind them faultlessly. Another thing that has made Lelivelt happy so far is that his athletes have outhit the Cubs in a majority of the six games—and the Cubs rate as a pretty fair hitting club in the National League.

The Cubs and Angels took ad-

LEAGUE LEAD AT STAKE AS TROJAN BALL CLUB FACES CARDINAL NINE

First place in the California intercollegiate baseball league will be at stake at Bovard Field this afternoon, when Stanford and Southern California hook up. The Cardinals are scheduled to play the Trojans today and tomorrow, and the Bruins Friday and Saturday.

SAM BARRY

The U.C.L.A. outfit, however, is anxious to have the dates changed, as dedication ceremonies at Westwood are to take place. Arnold Eddy, assistant general manager at S.C. said yesterday that the Trojans are willing to play today and Friday, letting the Bruins perform tomorrow and Saturday, provided Stanford is willing. The Cards are scheduled to arrive this morning, and the decision will be made then.

Stanford leads the league at present with three victories and one defeat. The Cards took two out of three from Santa Clara, and one from St. Marys. The Trojans and Bears are tied for second place. Sam Barry's athletes after losing one and tying one with Santa Clara, came back strongly to nose out the Bears in a double-header 4-2 and 3-2, showing greatly improved form, and have a real chance to take the loop title.

"Rudy" Rintala, Stanford's all-around athletic star, is leading the league in hitting with a mark of .555 compiled in four games, and "Spike" Kelly, Card infielder is next, with .507. Jess Hill, the Trojan star is next with .477 in four games.

RICHFIELD PUCKS WIN AS RIOT FEATURES CONTEST

A free-for-all fight between ice-hockey players which caused a small-sized riot and some sparkling flashes of puck chasing featured the victory of the Los Angeles Richfield Oilers over the Hollywood Millionaires at the Winter Garden Ice Palace last night. The Oilers won by a 3-to-2 score in an overtime period which followed a battle royal between Jack Lawrence of the Richfield team and "Dutch" Singer of Hollywood.

Singer took a swing at Lawrence just before the third period ended, and Lawrence retaliated by poking "Dutch" in the eye. A free-for-all started on the ice with players from both teams taking a hand in the battle. The gendarmes rushed out and separated the players and the game was resumed after a fifteen-minute

Frankie Campbell Faces Ray Spiker; Hess Tackles Thomas in Olympic Bouts Toni

TWO FEATURES ON FIGHT BILL

Big Marine Heavyweight to Battle Campbell

Frankie Seeks to Register Another Knockout

Hess Will Tangle With Boy from Northwest

BY KAY OWE

Goldie Hess and Frankie Campbell headline the Olympic in a double main event tonight. Both meet newcomers.

FRANKIE CAMPBELL

Eddie Thomas, an 18-year-old kid from Bellingham, Wash., who has fought Billy Townsend four times, tackles Hess. While Hess is the favorite an upset isn't at all impossible.

Ray Spiker, a big marine from San Diego, faces Campbell. He weighs 205 pounds, twenty-five more than Campbell, and is a crushing hitter. He broke the jaw of his last opponent.

Both the Hess-Thomas and Campbell-Spiker bouts are ten-rounders. There are thirty-six rounds of boxing on the card, with two sixes and a four for a supporting line-up.

Young Thomas is the latest output of the great northwest. It was at first reported here that he had gotten a draw with Townsend. And Townsend stands ace high in Los Angeles with two knockouts Wildcat Carter and Armando Santiago—here.

BEAT TOWNSEND TWICE

But Thomas has done even better. He has twice beaten Townsend and also lost a ten-round fight to the blond slugger. Thomas claims that Townsend outweighed him eight pounds the first fight nine pounds the second twelve pounds the third and sixteen the last fight—the one he lost.

In the gymnasium the Bellingham kid has speed to burn, flicks a fast left and he claims to have knocked out eighteen men in thirty-six starts. The fight he dropped to Townsend is his only defeat.

Hess is coming right back after a tough scrap with Eddie Mack. His eye—cut in that fight—is in none too good shape. But Hess is a gamester and would fight every night in the week if his manager would let him.

Campbell will try to score his thirteenth straight knockout. He has an even dozen behind him in his spurt that has given him national ranking as a heavyweight.

Spiker will have a twenty-five-pound weight pull. Campbell tips 180. The marine is over six feet tall, also, and has a long reach. He is tackling a terrific hitter his first start in the big time, but has plenty of confidence—typical of the marine service.

The fellow is on a thirty-day leave of absence, and it is said he may leave the service if he triumphs over Campbell tonight. He hits with both hands.

His last fight was with Pickles Heintz. Spiker broke his opponent's jaw in the fourth round of the fight, but was unable to knock him out.

Campbell has complained the last few days of a sore spot in his right shoulder, but believes he will "blow" the marine down in a couple of heats, as he has been doing most of his opponents.

The "new Dempsey" has his eyes on an outdoor show with Paolino Uzcudun, and such a match is already in the making. The Basque wants to come to the Coast and Campbell is by far the most outstanding figure for a ball park show.

CAMPBELL IS CHOICE

Campbell is naturally a choice over Spiker. However, those who saw Spiker in some of his service battles believe he has more than an outside chance.

The two sixes for tonight feature Sammy Jackson vs. Mike Hector and Joe Marciente vs. Johnny McDonald. The opening four is between junior lightweights—Joe Nelson and Frankie Abendino.

Jackson is giving away a few pounds to Hector. This promises to be a tough mill. The younger Jackson has just recently left the welterweight ranks, where he showed much promise.

CITRUS UNION NINE WINS

Citrus Union High's baseball nine won a hard-earned victory over the South Pasadena Tigers yesterday afternoon by the score of 3-2 on the winner's diamond. The Citrus team garnered but four hits, while the Tigers were held to two blows.

JUNIOR OLYMPIC GAMES Training Tips

BY D. W. LOTT

Supervisor of Municipal Sports, Department of Playgrounds and Recreation.

VI. CHINNING

Every healthy boy is ambitious to compete in the 1932 Olympics, and thereby bring honor to his community. The chinning event is expected to produce in every boy who competes in the Junior Olympics that degree of bodily strength which is so necessary to all-round development. This instruction is dedicated to the boy who is willing to strive to attain all-around athletic ability in the hope that the suggestions contained herein will be found useful.

READY

Take a position directly under bar, arms in easy position at side, the whole body and mind relaxed. Tensing muscles require strength, and unnecessary effort will reduce the number of times a boy is able to chin bar. The bar should be one and one-half inches thick and seven feet above ground. Therefore, from this position, under bar on ground, or from a small platform provided for the purpose, the leap upward for the bar should be made with the least possible effort in order to conserve strength for the test of the pull-up. If you are unable to reach the bar with a graceful leap from the toes, you will do well to enlist the assistance of another boy who, taking position behind you, and placing one hand on each side of your body at the hips, can by slight lift simultaneously with your upward leap, produce desired result, and with no loss of effort.

It is important that the bar be not too smooth for a firm grasp, a condition which can be remedied if the chinner will rub a little magnesia over the palms of the hands. A small cake of magnesia may be obtained at any drug store for the sum of 5 cents.

HANG

In practicing for this event it is well to anticipate the command "Ready" by judges before leaping to grasp bar, as in this way you are sure there will be no loss of energy due to your having started before the judges are ready. In other words, determine just how you are going to reach bar before taking position. You are now ready to leap for bar. Raise arms forward and upward, slightly bend legs at knees, leap from the toes and grasp bar firmly with hands apart shoulder width. If you require that assistance your helper should be in position and start his lift simultaneously with your leap. Body and arms should now be extended and relaxed, head up, eyes forward, weight raised evenly on both arms, and you are ready for the first pull-up.

Any grip is permitted. However, for best results, decide what grip you will use and when you leap to bar do not change grip unless it seems necessary, as changing position of hands requires prolonged suspension of weight and unnatural height.

PULL-UP

Pull up to bar with a continuous motion, weight equally divided on both arms as before, until chin is over bar but not touching it. Lower body full length, with arms fully extended, muscles relaxed as before as much as possible.

In all chinning tests you will be required, every time your body is lowered, to touch with your toes a flexible band which has been placed in position. Repeat action of raising and lowering body in exactly the same way until you have reached the limit of your ability.

Constant practice at this event will enable one to relax muscles all over, as body is lowered after each pull-up, a practice which will result in conserving strength for a possible additional point. Any motion of the body other than up and down results primarily in a test of skill, whereas this event is meant to be a test of strength. Note that squirming, kicking and jerking movements are forbidden, and are liable to handicap the athlete not only in having one or more pull-ups thrown out but in preventing him touching mark with his toes without great effort. Therefore, the boy who has trained faithfully to extend his arms and body after each chin will more readily meet the rigid requirements when test day arrives.

PROPER BREATHING

In competitive racing the athlete needs as much oxygen as he can get and, therefore, breathes through his nose and mouth. It is very important, also, in chinning, that sufficient oxygen be taken into the lungs at regular intervals during this test of strength, so as to give new life to hard-working heart and muscles. Practice breathing deeply before approaching bar, then breath full and regularly as your chinning progresses; inhale as you raise to bar and exhale as your weight lowers.

Note: If breathing is without effort and through constant practice becomes rhythmical, an athlete will find that his chinning will also become rhythmical and free from squirming, jerking and kicking. Proper breathing is therefore essential.

SAN CLEMENTE, March 24. (AP)—The Seattle Indians' management today unconditionally released Ervie Vache, outfielder, and sent Ane Rose, shortstop, to the Miami club of the Arizona State League, and announced that the present staff of eleven pitchers would be retained until after the Pacific Coast League season opens.

Bill Klepper, president of the Seattle club, tonight is en route to Seattle, where he will make preparations for the season's first game.

MISSION BAND RESUMES PRACTICE

STOCKTON, March 24. (AP)—The main body of the San Francisco Mission ball club resumed operations in the Stockton training camp today after a week's absence in San Francisco and San Jose, during which Wade Killefer's club played Pittsburgh and Portland.

Although the players were let off with a comparatively light workout today, Manager Killefer outlined a program of daily practice games for the remainder of the training season, starting with a contest on Tuesday.

Sacramento plays an exhibition game here Friday and two on Sunday, while the Oaks come on Saturday. Killefer was much impressed with the work of Joe Coscarart, young shortstop, during the past week's series, and is convinced that the lad has made the grade as a regular.

CLARK GRIFFITH TO STAND PAT

CHATTANOOGA (Tenn.) March 24. (AP)—Although the Senators badly need Leon (Goose) Goslin, and they would welcome their star outfielder back to the field, President Clark Griffith has let it be known that he will not waive any of the punishment due recalcitrant players. The Goose is two weeks overdue, and if he checks in now, he will pay for his own training expenses for thirty days or until such time as Walter Johnson approves his physical condition.

Things otherwise are lining up to suit Manager Johnson. In a statement made here yesterday, he said: "All we have to do is to specialize in batting practice and team play and we are ready to start the season. Our team work and pitchers will develop naturally in the exhibition games we will play."

DAN HOWLEY MAY KEEP ECKERT

ORLANDO (Fla.) March 24. (AP)—There is a possibility that Al Eckert, young southpaw, who belongs to the Peoria club may not go back there. Dan Howley, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, said he is seriously considering keeping the youngster because of the impressive showing he has made in practice and in exhibition encounters. "I have not decided," Howley said, "but he is pretty nearly ready and it won't be long at any rate until he is showing his stuff on the main line."

WILDCAT CAGE TO BE KEPT BUSY

CLEARWATER (Fla.) March 24.—Wilbert Robinson's wildcat cage is to see a lot of service this week. It is a rope meshed cage seventy-five feet long, fifteen wide and fifteen high. On one end is a back drop, and a few feet in front a regulation home plate. Suspended on either side of the plate are two sand bags, the top of each being shoulder high and the bottom knee high. At the other end of the cage is a pitching slab. Robbie makes his pitcher go through their full repertoire, trying to pitch each ball between the bags.

ED ROUSH STILL OUT

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) March 24.—If John McGraw really meant what he said, Ed Roush, veteran outfielder, is just about through as a member of the New York Giants. Roush, who has declined to accept a big cut in his salary, was given until yesterday to report to the Giant training camp, or suffer "the consequences." Roush neither reported nor sent any word to McGraw.

BORRELLI WILL INSTRUCT BOYS

Playground Director Ready to Aid Youngsters

Junior Olympic Games Event to be Taught

Parochial Schools in Meet Next Saturday

BY BRAVEN DYER

Ralph Borrelli, for ten years a director of physical education in the Playground and Recreation Department of the City of Los Angeles, yesterday started work as a field executive of the Junior Olympic Games, concentrating on the forty-seven playgrounds situated in and around the metropolis.

BRAVEN DYER.

Mr. Borrelli, himself a fine athlete, will devote all of his time to aiding playground instructors in conditioning their boys for the Junior Olympic Games meets to come. Accompanied by Jack Henderson, popular Playground and Recreation Department official, Borrelli visited Junior Olympic Games headquarters and lined up a schedule of operations with John F. Ness of the executive committee.

Boys of the local playgrounds should take quickly to Mr. Borrelli, who has a record of fifty-six pull-ups, made when he was in his athletic prime several years ago. This event, chinning, has never been an easy one for youngsters entered in the juvenile pentathlon and Mr. Borrelli should be able to show them many fine points in the art of chalking up twenty-five or more chins in a hurry.

Mr. Borrelli is well acquainted with the playground situation, for many years having engineered the popular circus performances given at local fields during the summer.

What may prove to be one of the best early season meets of the season will be held Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Loyola High School field, competitors from all parochial schools taking part. D. W. Lott, whose splendid article starts in adjoining columns today, will be on hand to give youngsters a few pointers on chinning. Mr. Borrelli will also be on deck and the meet should be one of continued action from start to finish.

Three hundred youngsters of the Boys' Welfare Community Association at Alhambra have entered the Junior Olympic Games program for 1930. The Knights of Columbus organization of Alhambra is backing the group and expects great things of the boys.

B. B. Stein, police officer of Alhambra, is in charge of the squad and has H. Dowdell and W. Smith as his assistants. Schools entered are All Souls, St. Theresa's, St. Stevens at Monterey Park and the San Gabriel Mission School.

Leo Pozza, student executive at Hazard Playground, reports that there is great enthusiasm among Junior Olympic Games competitors of his field. Under the instruction of Coach Thompson the boys are going ahead rapidly in their training and some excellent marks are anticipated now that the weather has warmed up and the youngsters can loosen up their muscles.

Louis Provenzano, junior champion of the playground last year, has moved into the senior division, and is being given plenty of competition by Charles Cabibi. Among the juniors Joe Crispi, Paul Frisques and Arthur Madrid have been showing excellent form. Paul is caging thirteen and fourteen out of twenty basketball throws with much consistency. Young Crispi, although only a midget, shows a lot of fight, according to Pozza, and is rated one of the best competitors in the squad.

Henry Thompson is assisting Pozza as student executive, the two of them aiding Coach Thompson in his work. Both boys are Lincoln High School students and have had previous experience in the Junior Olympic Games.

Wanamaker in Tennis Win

PENDING WORLD RECORDS

"HOW many of these 'pending world records' are there for track and field?" queries A. E. Jones, who is puzzled over the distinction between the official world records and the pending marks.

The authority in this case is the A.A.U. Athletic Almanac for 1930, which shows ten track-and-field marks which are to be acted upon when the I.A.A.F. meets in Switzerland next month.

These records, made in the United States and approved by the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States since the last meeting of the I.A.A.F. in 1928, will become the official world records if they pass the official scrutiny in April:

100 yards (starting blocks) George Simpson, 9.4s.
100 yards, Eddie Tolan, 9.5s.
220 yards (starting blocks) George Simpson, 20.6s.
400 meters, Emerson Spencer, 47s.
220-yard hurdles (starting blocks) R. C. Rockaway, 22.8s.
One-mile relay (two turns) New York A.C. (Scholz, Kerr, Burke, Cuhel) 3m. 17s.
Broad jump, Edward B. Hamm, 25ft. 11 1-8in.
Pole vault, Lee Barnes, 14ft. 1½in.
Discus throw, Eric Krenz, 163ft. 8¾in.
Discus throw, Peter A. Rasmus, 159ft. 1⅞in.

Two discus marks are in this list because both surpass the accepted world record of 158ft. 1¾in. made by Bud Houser in 1926, and in the event of one mark not being approved the other might get the official okeh and become the new world record.

TROJANS HAVE EDGE

THE results of last Saturday's meets indicate the California Bears are in for a trimming when they entertain the Southern California Trojans on the home oval at Berkeley next week-end.

The Trojans look superior by anywhere from fifteen to twenty-five points, perhaps more.

They have a tremendous advantage in all flat races up to the mile—100, 220, 440 and 880. The Bears have the edge in the mile, two-mile and Capt. Al Pogolotti's showing in both the low and high hurdles the other day was good enough to forecast victories for him in his two favorite events. He may be beaten in either or both of the stick events, but he has better times to date than his Trojan competitors.

In the field the Trojans dominate the situation in the high jump, pole vault and shot put.

In the other three events—broad jump, discus and javelin—it's a tossup.

The Trojans' tremendous strength lies in being able to mass points in events where first places are assured, such as the 100, 220 and 440, for example.

California, on the other hand, may win firsts in events like the hurdles and be shut out of the other places. The Bears have six potential first place performers to the Trojans' eight, but have nothing like the Trojans's strength in second and third-place men.

And in the fifteenth event—the relay—the Trojans are terrific favorites. They have four men who run right on each other's tail all the time, and their 3m. 19 2-5s. the other day is indicative of still faster time later in the season.

FUTURE WORLD'S CHAMPS

BOB VAN OSDEL, the skinny Trojan sophomore who astounded the natives by leaping 6ft. 7¼in. at Occidental the other day, is on the road to fulfilling a prophecy by his former trainer, grizzled Pete Poole, that the boy is a potential world champion.

Pete was training the boys at Compton High when Van Osdel first came under his observation.

He saw the possibilities in the boy, and worked zealously with him.

"He's the greatest high-jump prospect I ever saw," Pete told me in the locker-room of the L.A.A.C. three years ago.

The following season Van Osdel was a senior at Compton. He won the high jump in the Southern California championships and set a record of 6ft. 3 1-8s. He tied with Coggeshall for first in the State meet, and they collaborated in making a new C.I.F. mark of 6ft. 2 3-16in.

Last summer Van Osdel went to Denver as a member of the L.A.A.C. team. He tied for second in the national junior A.A.U. championships, and jumped 6ft. 3in. to do it.

His old rival of high-school days—Lassalette of Puente—won the senior championship the following day.

But at Occidental Saturday Van Osdel caught up with Lassalette and passed him. Lassalette jumped 6ft. 4in., and Van Osdel cleared 6ft. 7¼in.

A JAMES WOODS IDEA

THE proposal of Gov. Young that the boxing commission act as a body instead of functioning under sectional control is really an idea of James Woods, the Los Angeles commissioner who now makes his residence in San Francisco.

When Mr. Woods first submitted his resignation, and had his offer rejected, this was the thought he left with the Governor.

This is the system employed in New York, and it might work out here, but it probably would be a good idea to have one or two of the commissioners reside in the State's boxing centers rather than in isolated sectors and secondary boxing centers.

Santa Monica Trips Redondo, Morales Stars

Although Santa Monica defeated the Redondo Seahawks by a 63-50 score yesterday afternoon at Redondo, individual honors went to Babe Morales, stellar Seahawk sprinter who added his name to the few prep sprinters, who have broken 10s. in the century this year. Huge Throng Expected at Lieb Dinner

Over 500 people are expected to attend the testimonial dinner being given Coach Tom Lieb of Loyola University Thursday night. The event is being held at the Ambassador Hotel. It is the first welcoming gathering that has been extended to the new football mentor, who gained national fame last fall by handling Notre Dame's greatest football eleven in the absence of Knute Rockne. Lieb has been busy with the details of mapping out his football program since his arrival here. The work of the noted coach will be watched more closely than any other on the Coast this fall. Loyola will be expected to use many of Notre Dame's plays. The Fighting Irish come here this year to play U.S.C. for the big game of the year.

But Johnny, game and forceful as he was, never was able to jar Campolo loose from his carefully prepared plan of battle. The giant met the little fellow plunging in, hung him up on left jabs, smashed wicked belts to the short ribs and stomach and pounded Johnny fiercely about the head in the clinches.

CAMPOLO WARNED

Despite his advantage at close quarters, Campolo's undoing probably came about there. He couldn't resist the urge to crash his right hand down on the back of the neck of the blond battler, a neck that was exposed invitingly almost a foot below the level of his own head. Time and again Referee Donovan warned Campolo that this punch was illegal and finally went to the Argentine's corner halfway through the struggle and gave Victorio a final admonishing.

Although both landed scores of solid punches, neither was ever in danger of a knockout. Risko rocked the Argentine in the seventh, his best session, with a volley of looping left swings to the head, but Victorio rallied strongly. Again in the ninth, Campolo was forced into retreat by Risko's dogged head attack.

Campolo had Johnny webbling in the second, third, eighth and tenth rounds, but Risko always managed to shake off the winging right-handers to the head and came back for more.

The small crowd of 10,263 gathered for the charity show sponsored by the House of Calvary Cancer Hospital paid $49,421 for the evening's entertainment. Campolo, in addition to his wide advantage in height and reach, weighed 225 1-4 pounds, compared with Risko's 196.

BY WAY OF REVENGE

(Albert R. Gates of Chicago has been named the dictator of the professional golfer's association.—News item.)

Often to me the pros have said
"What makes you lift your blinking head?
"Why don't you break your bally wrist?
What makes you pivot with a twist?
"Why do you cut across each clout
In place of hitting 'inside out?'"
To which I sadly make reply—
"I do it, but I don't know why."
So, Mr. Gates, here is your chance,
To bring the dub a new romance;
If they don't treat you like a pal,
You tell 'em, Al; you tell 'em, Al.

The Iron Game

PROFESSIONAL baseball has its Landis and now professional golf has its Gates. But professional boxing, which needs a stronger national control than any of the others, still has no directing central head.

Only an iron game could have stood the beating that boxing has taken and still stagger along. It has left the racketeers and the connivers edge in and it has become all cluttered up with fouling and stalling and inside and outside politics, but in some miraculous way it has kept breathing.

But the game can't go on indefinitely across the country as it has been run the last few years. It still has a chance to live if any one could ever swing the hostile tribes from State to State under one control. Even then it might take a combination of Mussolini, Landis, Gates, Borah, the Red army and the United States marines to handle the job.

A $5000 Blow

Wild Bill Mehlhorn came to the seventeenth hole at La Gorce a stroke back of Horton Smith with only two holes left, and there was a matter of $5000 dangling over the eighteenth green for the winner. This hole is close to 500 yards in length and what is more the green waits upon an upland, a decided plateau, guarded by a deep cross bunker in front and traps that lurk to left and right.

The hole is a par 5 and Wild Bill had to pick up two strokes in two holes to win. He decided to compromise by picking two strokes on one hole, just as Horton Smith did against Bobby Jones at Savannah when they hit the stretch.

Anyone who can put a brassie shot close to the pin on this hole deserves to head the payoff. And Mehlhorn's brassie came to rest just eight feet from the cup.

But you will also observe that when young Horton Smith doesn't win he isn't far away. He is still the solitary figure in professional ranks they all have to watch and when Smith and Bobby Jones tangle up again at Augusta the first of next week it should be something of a golfing epic.

In fact, Ty Cobb phones that the Empire State of Georgia is already full of high tension over the coming carnival. And Missouri is ready to mobilize at a moment's notice.

Capt. John J. McEwan, who traveled from West Point to Oregon as a football instructor, has crossed the continent again and is now directing the football destinies of Holy Cross, where on a general average there is a lot of good football.

If there are any football systems, Capt. McEwan has missed no one can think of them in a hurry. In his four years at the Army he did extremely well against Yale and got an even break with Notre Dame—two and two. An even break with Notre Dame at the end of four years is something to paste in anyone's record book.

At Oregon he could never quite get enough powerful material to beat Stanford, Southern California or California, but his Oregon teams at least turned on Washington and Washington State. The captain has had to tackle the sytsems put out by Rockne, Warner, Howard Jones, Tad Jones, Nibs Price and others, so he is thoroughly equipped to keep Holy Cross football up to date.

The Tennis Open Championship

The International Tennis Federation has blocked the idea of an open tournament for the present, but it is only a matter of time before the amateurs and pros will be mingling now and then as they do in golf. The open golf championship of the United States is now the big event in that sport. It has been one of the oldest fixtures of the game, and always one of the most exciting.

When it comes to tennis it will work out in the same way. The matter of increased gate receipts is not important. But the matter of increasing general interest in tennis and building up the pros for the purpose of instruction is something to figure on.

The French are none too keen for an open meeting because the French Tennis Association has done well enough, with the amateurs in the way of gate receipts from Paris to the southern front. The tennis pro has had too tough a time for many to follow this trade, but more good ones are needed to teach fundamentals which so many of our young amateurs now lack.

A reader wants to know just exactly what is meant by the "rhythm of a golf swing." Alex Morrison has described the golf swing "as one smooth, flowing motion, uninterrupted on either the mental or the physical side." A "smooth, flowing motion" can hardly start with a sudden jerk. It can hardly continue on to the ball when it is interrupted by a wild desire to hit from the top of the swing.

Stewart Maiden, Bobby Jones's first and only instructor, Ernest Jones and other fine instructors, have shown that rhythm must first start from correct balance. Balance largely means a correct transference of weight, from left foot to right foot and then back to left foot again as the swing starts, continues and finishes up.

In other words, body weight must blend with the action of the hands, arms and clubhead. It can't work against this action and produce any results that are not entirely morbid. Once the swing starts there should be no mental interruption. The mental picture must come in advance. Neither balance nor rhythm can start from tense, tied-up hands, arms and body. No smooth swing can get under way from a mass of knots.

SPORTS SKETCH BY FEG MURRAY

casionally up crops a pitcher—well, not like Babe Ruth—but like Hollis Thurston, who takes a fine cut at the ball. Walter Johnson, Jack Bentley, Dutch Ruether and others are cases in point. So it is that your Uncle Wilbert Robinson plans to employ Thurston quite often this year as a right-hand pinch hitter as well as a right-handed pitcher. "Slappy," as Hollis is called, pitched, played first and also in the outfield for San Francisco when they won the Coast League pennant in 1923. He hit .350 that season and socked twenty-five home runs. He confined his efforts more to mound duties last year so his batting average and number of home runs dropped off a bit, but still remained high for a pitcher.

Hollis was born on a ranch in Winslow, Ariz., and attended Polytechnic High School in Los Angeles.

Some years back, in 1924, to be exact, Thurston was cast off by the St. Louis Browns. That outfit had decided he was only a "bull-pen flinger." Lee Fohl sold Thurston to the Chicago White Cox and the very next year this same pitcher went wike a house afire, winning twenty ball games and taking a special delight in turning back his former team-mates of dear old St. Louis. He became known that year as "Sisler's Nemesis," as Sisler was then managing the Browns.

Well, sir, now it so happens that both Thurston and Sisler are in the National League, and it doesn't take much stretch of the imagination to figure Sisler batting against Thurston's pitching in a Brave-Dodger series during the coming season. Of course, Mr. Sisler might smack one high and handsome, but then just imagine Mr. Thurston patroling some far corner of the outfield snatching Mr. Sislers' hit out of the azure, and proving again "Sisler's Nemesis."

TIGERS AND COMPTON TO CLASH TOMORROW

Coach Bill Anderson has billed a practice game with the Compton Junior College nine for tomorrow afternoon on the Oxy diamond. Nor will the game be of a set-up nature, for the Jaysees have a strong club and defeated the Cal.-Christians by 1-0 last week. White will chuck for Compton while Ernie Johnson is billed to take the mound for the Tigers. Anderson is saving De Hoag his southpaw ace, for the opening conference game with Whittier next Friday.

GREAT PLAYERS

The Reynal brothers, Jose and Juan, have played wonderful polo. As for Capt. Manuel Andrada nothing too good can be said for the part he has taken in the victories of the South Americans on west-coast fields.

The teams will line-up the same for tomorrow's and Sunday's games.

HOUSE APPEARS IN PASADENA GO

On the same Thursday night card at the Pasadena Arena on which Don Kennedy and Hymie Miller, featherweights, will fight a rematch, there will reappear in that ring one of the greatest favorites of its history, Mack House. The California Bear, is a negro kayo artist. His opponent in the other six round main event of the Arena program, will be Dewey Massey, who is expected to give him a real battle. The Kennedy-Miller scrap is their third. Kennedy was the first winner. Miller winning the second. The six-round special will reintroduce Jimmy Spencer, lightweight, who made a hit at the Arena as a substitute a couple of weeks ago. His opponent will be Richie Aguayo. Another six-rounder offers a couple of huge 200-pounders, Chief Whitehorse, a real Indian, and Big Boy Cecil Mayart, negro. The curtain-raiser will be a four-rounder, Joey Rich vs. Mickey Romo, 118 pounds.

LIONS AND PIRATES TO CLASH TOMORROW

With honors even as far as determining the champion of the Southern California Hockey League the Union Oil Pirates and the Gilmore Lions will attempt to forge ahead in the seven-game series tomorrow night at the Winter Garden Ice Palace, when they clash in the fourth battle of the series.

Each squad won one game by the same score of 3-2, which gives local followers of hockey an idea of equal strength of the two teams. But, according to statements made by the two respective managers, tomorrow night, the boys are going to throw caution to the four winds and mix it up.

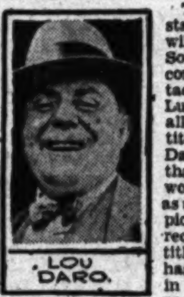
DARO AFTER SONNENBERG

Portly Promoter Seeking Champion's Signature for Title Match Contract

Promoter Lou Daro announced yesterday he would seek Champion Gus Sonnenberg's signature to a contract calling for his appearance here in a title match against the winner of the Nick Lutze-Everette Marshall battle, scheduled for the Olympic, April 2.



LOU DARO.

The promoter stated an offer will be made Sonnenberg to come West to tackle either Lutze or Marshall in a finish title match. Daro also stated that the offer would be as big as any the champion has ever received for any title match he has taken part in during the past year.

Neither Lutze or Marshall have ever met Sonnenberg. Lutze wrestled for a chance to meet the champion on two different occasions here, and lost both times, once to Joe Malcewicz, whom he later defeated, and once to Joe Stecher, former champion.

Marshall is making his first bid for his first title match. During the past year that he has been wrestling as a professional the Glendale mat sensation has not lost a bout and has yet to have his shoulders pinned to the mat. Previously to that he wrestled three years as an amateur without being beaten.

Lutze was beaten by Marshall here several weeks ago after a sensational battle in what was the first meeting between this pair of popular grapplers. Lutze lost any chance he had of coming from behind after losing the first fall when he missed a tackle and landed in the ringside seats. He was badly hurt.

As a result of this accident and the fact that Lutze seemed to have had the better of the argument up to the time he missed his tackle, Daro decided Lutze was entitled to a return bout, and as an added incentive to both grapplers, he expects to bring the champion here to meet the winner.

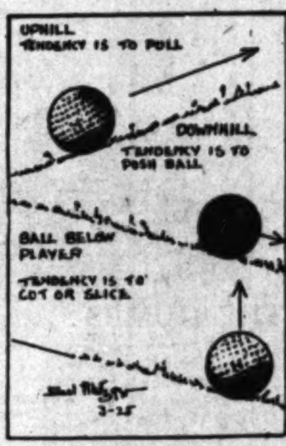
Bad Lies on Course Hard to Control



BY SOL METZGER

Uneven lies! What are they? Let's visualize them in order to see what golf problems they present before dealing with Phil Perkins's methods for negotiating them. The first is the uphill. No hard problem to swing the club's face into the rear of the ball here, you'll admit. But the rub is that we tend to hook or pull such shots.

Then there is the downhill lie. Another problem! Here the hill is somewhat behind the ball. How can one swing a club so it will pick a ball clean from such a lie? You may recall your tendency to push or slice such a shot.

Also that most upsetting of lies, the one where the ball is on a plane below your feet. Recall how you tend to fall into it or to either top or slice? Well, the shot can be made without doing that.

A new free illustrated leaflet on "The Art of Putting" has been prepared by Sol Metzger. Write for it. Address Sol Metzger, in care of The Times, and inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Two Mercury Champs Due Here Today

Today will be homecoming day for two Los Angeles Athletic Club athletes who, last week, won national championships in title meets. Herman Brix, who set a new world indoor shotput mark of 51ft. 2½in. at New York, arrives home at 5 o'clock on the Sunset Limited with Georgia Coleman, who retained her national indoor ten-foot board-diving title at Miami, Fla. Mrs. Leslie A. Henry, who chaperoned Miss Coleman, Josephine McKim and Helene Madison to Miami, will also arrive today. Brix met Mrs. Henry and Miss Coleman at New Orleans.

Josephine McKim who, with Miss Coleman, won third place in the women's swimming meet, is now in Panama, having gone there after the Miami meet. Helene Madison, the sensational Seattle schoolgirl swimmer, who set some ten world records in meets at Florida, has been visiting in Los Angeles for the past several days and will leave this evening for Seattle.

Tomorrow evening "Dutch" Smith, Johnny Riley and "Buster" Crabbe leave for Chicago to enter the men's indoor national championships. Smith and Riley will represent the L.A.A.C. in the two diving events, while Crabbe will swim unattached in the 300-yard medley, 220-yard and 500-yard free-style events.

Coach Fred Cady and Mickey Riley, diving champion, will meet the above trio at Chicago. Cady and Riley are already in the East for two diving exhibitions by the latter.

SMALLEST JEW FISH CAUGHT OFF HERMOSA

HERMOSA BEACH, March 10.—To Jack Lamar, ring star twenty years ago, goes the honor of catching the smallest jew fish or black seabass pulled in from the big Olympic fishing barge this season. Lamar hooked an 85-pound "baby" yesterday and took about twenty minutes to bring it to gaff.

Lamar, one of the best lightweights to show in a local ring, quit the fight game nineteen years ago, and is a Los Angeles plastering contractor at the present time.

Capt. J. M. Andersen reports record catches of sandabs, perch and mackerel being brought ashore daily.

OLIVER EBEL TO LEAD CAGE SQUAD

REDLANDS, March 24.—Oliver Ebel, stellar guard on the championship University of Redlands basketball squad, was this morning elected captain of the Bulldogs for the 1930-31 season. Ebel is a product of Redlands High School, where he played for two years, followed by work on the university frosh, and two years with the varsity. The team Ebel will lead next year will be practically the same as the undefeated outfit of the past season. Bell and Keele at forwards, with Beiden at the other guard, all return. The loss of Capt. Rod Lee at center will be the only hole Coach Ashel Cunningham will be called upon to fill.

HARVARD NINE WINS

Slipping over two runs in the final inning, the Harvard Military Academy nine defeated the Occidental College freshmen, 2 to 1, on the Harvard field yesterday afternoon.

RACE INQUIRY STARTED HERE

Cause of Accident at Auto Track Investigated

George Stephenson, head of the technical committee of the American Automobile Association in the Southwest, is scheduled to hold an investigation today into the cause of the accident that resulted in the death of Kenny Stoddard, local speed king, last Sunday afternoon at the American Legion Speedway.

Officials of the A.A.A. say they are convinved that something broke in the steering apparatus of the car before it crashed into the fence on the south curve, but they will have to conduct a study of the American special today to determine what went wrong mechanically. The front end of the mount, which overturned and threw Stoddard out upon the ground, is completely demolished.

"Pop" Evans, caretaker of the speedway, will begin repair work today. Several patches of fence must be rebuilt before the next 100-lap race a week from Sunday. One of the cars that was completely wrecked when it splintered the fence was none other than the Evans special, owned by "Pop" Evans himself and driven by Carl Ryder.

Ryder was unhurt when the mishap occurred early in Sunday's feature race. Walt May, who drove the Deulin special which collided with Dyder's chariot, also escaped injury.

No more need your first ten miles be the hardest! For a new idea bounds to the fore . . . the Stetson Pre-Walked Shoe. Pre-Walked at the Stetson factory by a scientific process that walks stiffness out and comfort in . . . that puts the ease of a moccasin in your first smart Stetson step. That, sir, is a master pace forward!

Yet this hurdling of the "breaking-in" period is but an introduction to a foot life of incomparable ease. The softer, finer leathers . . . the numerous niceties in design that befriend the pavement-pounding foot . . . the artistic glovelike fit . . . the resilient character of the insole . . . the consummate support from the Healdarch. A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

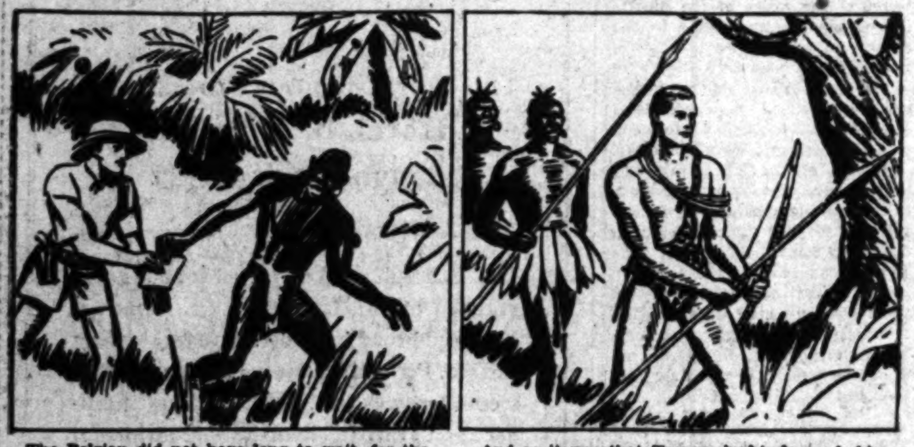
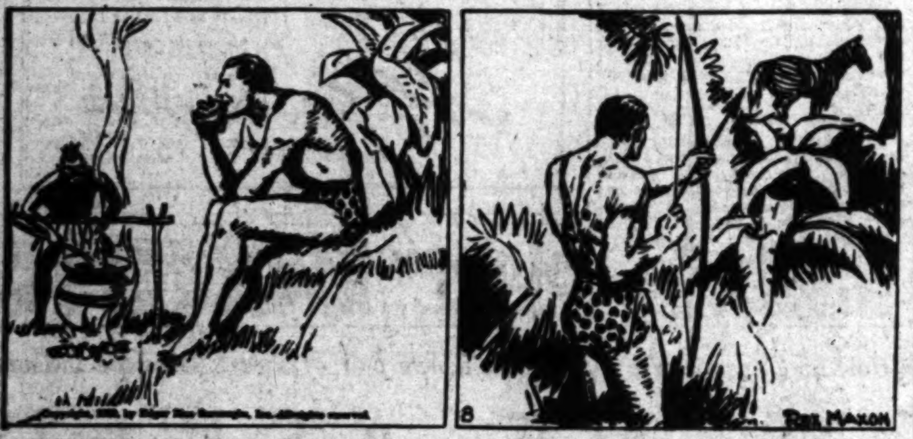
TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



The Belgian did not have long to wait, for the following day his emissary returned with word that Tarzan and a party of fifty Waziri warriors had set out toward the southwest early in the morning. Werper immediately dispatched a runner to Achmet Zek with a letter telling of his plans and then with six picked porters, set out after Tarzan to discover where his gold was hidden.

And so it was that Tarzan, in his leopard-skin clothes and armed after the primitive fashion he best loved, led his Waziri toward the dead city of Opar. Werper, the renegade, haunted his trail through the long, hot days, and camped close behind him at night. And as they marched, Achmet Zek rode with his following toward the Greystoke farm.



To Tarzan of the Apes his expedition was in the nature of a holiday outing. His civilization was at best but an outward veneer which he gladly peeled off with his uncomfortable European clothing whenever any reasonable pretext presented itself. Only a woman's love kept Tarzan even to the semblance of civilization. He came back to Nature in the spirit of a lover released from prison walls.

Many days the stalwart ape-man marched at the head of his Waziri warriors pursuing the quest. Each day found him more and more rejoicing in this freedom. He shot down game with arrow and spear when he would far rather have leaped from ambush, and, unarmed, pitted his muscles against the savage jungle. Within him surged the call of the milk of his savage foster-mother

STAFFORD GETS TIME FOR PLEA

Both Sides to Submit Briefs in Attack Case

El Monte Merchant Fighting Prison Sentence

Prosecutor's Trial Conduct Causes Argument

Fifteen days additional time for completing their briefs was granted opposing counsel by justices of Division One of the District Court of Appeal yesterday following oral arguments in the appeal of C. C. Stafford, wealthy El Monte feed merchant, under sentence of one to fifty years in prison for attacking his stenographer, Rae Schade, 21 years of age.

Stafford's counsel, W. Joseph Ford, argued that the story told by Miss Schade at the attack trial was "inherently improbable," that the court erred in permitting certain questioned testimony from medical witnesses, and that Stafford was prevented from getting a fair trial by asserted misconduct of the District Attorney in asking questions implying that certain defense witnesses were not testifying truthfully.

Asst. Atty.-Gen. Howie and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Becker appeared for the State, arguing that the trial was fair in all respects and the verdict in accord with the evidence.

The court ordered submitted without oral argument the appeal of John W. Hamilton, real estate promoter, who was convicted of defrauding three women of approximately $25,000 i na lond deal. Complaining witnesses were Mrs. A. W. Mills and Mrs. May M. Allen, both of Los Angeles, and Mrs. H. L. Hamilton of Glendale.

The court also took under submission without argument the appeal of Fred J. Becker, 55, a teacher in the Pasadena city schools for twenty-five years, from a conviction of improper conduct toward an 11-year-old boy.

Actress Takes Stand Today in Divorce Action

Helen Twelvetrees, motion-picture actress, is expected to go before Superior Judge Bowron at 9:45 a.m. today to testify in her action for a divorce brought against Clark Twelvetrees on the grounds of cruelty and nonsupport. She will be represented by Attorney Roger Marchetti.

According to the complaint, the husband was addicted to drinking intoxicants and when under their influence struck her. She also complained that Twelvetrees held "wild parties" in their home with "rowdy and dissolute companions." They were married in New York on February 27, 1927.

The hearing was called a week ago, but the actress was on location, so it was continued until today.
